

Paris Talks: Suspicion Deep and Bitter

PARIS (UPI) —North Vietnam said today at the opening of the preliminary talks on Vietnam that the United States had been "defeated" in the war. It said Washington must end all bombing and other attacks on the North before there can be peace talks.

Tough Statement

In a tough statement at the three-hour opening session, Hanoi's chief delegate, Xuan Thuy, charged Washington with being guilty of "monstrous crimes against human rights."

Parts of Thuy's speech were made public afterwards by Nguyen Thanh Le, chief spokesman for the Hanoi delegation.

Eleven Americans led by Ambassador-at-Large W. Averell Harriman confronted 11 North Vietnamese led by Thuy, a former foreign minister who was called out of retirement to handle the preliminary talks. He is known as a tough negotiator.

The talks began shortly after 10:30 a.m. (5:30 a.m. EDT) as both sides were claiming victories in the war in Vietnam and ended at 1:45 p.m. (8:45 a.m. EDT).

First Comment

Harriman's first comment was only that the talks proceeded in a "very correct" atmosphere and that they would meet again at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday after each side has studied the other's opening statement.

Thuy's opening statement lasted two full hours, including translation.

Le said Thuy clearly outlined the aims of the preliminary talks—to determine with the United States side an end of U.S. bombing and all other acts of war against North Vietnam and then to "discuss other points of interest."

Both sides had gone into the meeting in an atmosphere of mutual suspicion—deep and bitter. Thuy's statement followed a long series of previous similar statements by Hanoi and was expected.

"In this destructive war the United States has been defeated," he said. "It has been condemned by both U.S. and world public opinion."

Hanoi had timed a major offensive in South Vietnam to coincide with opening of the Paris talks. The drive against Saigon was turned back with the loss of 5,000 killed or captured, but there were some successes further north.

Harriman was the first to leave today's meeting. The North Vietnamese followed a minute or so later and were cheered by a crowd of about 150 waiting in front of the building. Le later made public Thuy's statement.

They met across a large hollow square table covered with green cloth at the French foreign ministry's International Conference Center, near the Arch of Triumph.

Their prospects for success were shrouded. Mutual suspicion lay deep and it was bitter.

But the fact the two nations managed to reach the negotiation table spurred hope among diplomats that the resulting talks would lead to some sort of armistice.

Vietnamese Arrive First

The Vietnamese arrived first, in two shiny black Citroen sedans lent by the French government and flying the blue, red and yellow flag of North Vietnam. They wore a gray suit and stood smiling with aides for photographers.

Harriman and the U.S. delegation drove up a minute later. They marched straight into the building. Their Cadillac almost dwarfed Thuy's French car.

About 150 French bystanders offered Thuy a mild cheer from behind police barriers and from office windows. Harriman, with a tight smile and no posing for photographers, was greeted in silence.

Earlier, leaving his hotel in the Place de la Concorde, Harriman had been asked his feeling about the talks. "I wouldn't like to say," he said. Then he smiled, looked up at the blue sky and warm Spring sun. "It's certainly a beautiful morning."

At the conference center, formerly the Majestic Hotel which served as a World War II Gestapo headquarters in Paris, Harriman strode up to Thuy. They knew each other from the 1962 Geneva conference on Laos.

The two shook hands.

Exchange Greetings

"How do you do? Good morning," said Harriman. Then he turned and introduced his 10 aides. Thuy introduced only his chief deputy, Col. Ha Van Lau. The Americans sat on the west side of the room, their backs to the windows overlooking the broad Avenue Kleber. The Vietnamese faced the windows.

Anticipate Attack

Harriman was braced for a strong dose of North Vietnamese propaganda, his aides said. They anticipated Thuy's opening declaration would consist primarily of a restatement of the Communist regime's condemnation of U.S. "aggression" and a demand for total and permanent cessation of American bombing of the north as the price for any real peace negotiations.

The American view was that this was the obvious way for the Communist side to open. They said only subsequent discussions would disclose whether there was any "give" in their position.

The United States was expected to follow much of the same course, confining its opening remarks to a restatement of President Johnson's offer to end all bombing of the north only if he gets some reassurance—or at least has reason to "assume"—that Hanoi will not take advantage of the termination of aerial attacks.

No Public Text

Harriman was said to be willing to let Thuy speak first, if the Hanoi representative wished to make public the text of the 76-year-old envoy's remarks unless the North Vietnamese released Thuy's.

The locale for the long-awaited confrontation was the ornate grand salon of Paris' International Conference Center. Actually it is the ballroom of the former Majestic Hotel, World War II headquarters of the German Gestapo.

Paris was darkened by a general strike and seething with the tension of weeklong student riots.

DeGaulle's Big Day Marred by Strikes

By ALLAN A. PRIAULX

PARIS (UPI)—Millions of workers staged a 24-hour national strike today to support a student power movement and rob President Charles de Gaulle of a day of glory.

Factories, Schools Closed

The general strike cut deeply into plane, train, gas, water, electric and postal services. Factories and schools were shut. Government offices were all but vacant. Airport customs men walked out, leaving smugglers to walk in.

France's four major labor union federations, Roman Catholic and Communist, joined for the first time in more than a decade and mixed with students in well-planned marches through Paris streets.

De Gaulle's aides labored to ensure nothing would disrupt the American-North Vietnamese peace talks set to enter the bargaining stage today. Emergency power generators were set up for the talks, whose opening had been a proud diplomatic feather in de Gaulle's cap.

10th Anniversary

This also was the 10th anniversary of de Gaulle's return to power. Ten years ago, with France facing civil war over insurrection in Algeria, de Gaulle returned from self-imposed political exile to begin a decade of personal rule. That rule was under fire today.

The labor federations, a united front of students and the opposition political parties merged into a chorus demanding and end to his "regime of personal power."

The trouble stemmed from the universities. Last week thousands of students battled brigades of police in Latin Quarter streets ablaze with overturned vehicles and rumpled with piles of cobblestones.

Vows Study of Reforms

Premier Georges Pompidou had hurried home from Iran over the weekend and tried to head it all off. He ordered police from the Sorbonne, the university where students as in the rest of France were demanding an end to centuries-old dictatorship by professors and more classroom space.

Pompidou freed on bail youths awaiting riot trials. He vowed government educational reforms would be studied urgently.

Fine and good but not enough, said student leaders. And today they had union backing.

Roadblocks were set up at the Mid-Hudson Bridge by city and state police from Highland. Authorities throughout the county of Dutchess toured the main highways seeking some trace of the escapee, whose description was widely broadcast.

Off-duty sheriffs were ordered back to work as the search for the accused slayer widened. Places that Sickle had frequented prior to his arrest in November were under surveillance. The home of the fugitive was guarded in the event he might try to go there to change clothes.

The search continued until about 5 p.m. when two deputy sheriffs spotted the much-sought man walking aimlessly along the unpopulated section of Van Wagner road in the Town of Poughkeepsie. Sickle was immediately captured and placed under guard until he was returned to jail.

An investigation directed by Quinlan disclosed that Sickle had discovered a steel plate in the ceiling of his cell could be moved. Jail authorities were unaware of the situation but after Sickle was accounted for yesterday morning, he evidently returned to the cell block, moved the steel plate and made his way through the opening to the roof.

Used Bed Sheets

Bed sheets were used by the prisoner, who slid to the ground and temporary freedom down the improvised rope. According to Quinlan the steel plate had not been soldered by workmen when the new section of the jail was built some years ago.

Gunman Gets $200 At Gov. Clinton Hotel

By Walter S. Clark Jr.

Search was pressed today by area authorities for a young man wanted for questioning in connection with a daring armed robbery at the Governor Clinton Hotel which netted the thief about $200 in cash, according to the Kingston detective division which conducted the investigation.

Meanwhile, detectives continued investigation of two house burglaries that were reported on Saturday.

According to police, Joseph Bundy, night clerk, who resides in West Hurley, was on duty at the uptown hotel after 3 a.m. today when a man described as about 25 years of age and wearing gray work clothes, entered the hotel. Police said the stranger conversed with Bundy about a room, and suddenly brandished a revolver which appeared to be a .45 caliber gun.

Bundy, detectives said, was forced to lie on the floor. The armed man escaped in a few minutes with about $200 which was reportedly taken from the cash drawer. The robber was further described as being white, heavy build, blonde hair. Authorities said Bundy said he neither saw nor heard any car immediately after the gunman fled.

Alarms were flashed over the police teletype and State Police and city patrolmen set up roadblocks at the Rondout Bridge and other locations in the immediate area.

Detectives said the home of Kenneth Hardee at 26 Abel Street, was entered sometime early Saturday. Entry was gained through a window and missing from the residence were several household articles. The entry was reported at 7:58 a.m. on May 11.

Kingston plainclothesmen also investigated a burglary reported at the home of James Bolde at 112 Spring Street, where some boxes of cookies were reported taken, police said. Entry to the house was made through a rear window leading to a basement apartment.

Detectives are continuing investigation of the armed robbery and the two house burglaries.

U.S. Claims Saigon Victory

By JACK WALSH

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. forces declared victory today in the nine-day battle of Saigon. American generals said allied troops killed more than 5,000 Communists, captured hundreds more and were mopping up guerrillas trying to flee.

"It's all over with in Saigon now," said Maj. Julian Ewell.

GIs produced a captured Communist document saying the Viet Cong struck the capital in hopes of bolstering the North Vietnam bargaining position in peace talks that opened with the United States in Paris today.

Lt. Gen. Fred C. Weyant, commander of Saigon area forces, said the Communist thrust "has been crushed."

"Although isolated small attacks, terrorism and harassment by fire including rockets are still possible, large numbers of enemy have been attempting to withdraw from the battlefield for the past 48 hours," Weyant said.

Lt. Gen. Bruce Palmer, deputy commanding U.S. Army general in Vietnam, said the Saigon area is secure—"We have the situation well in hand."

U.S. spokesmen said about 12,000 Communists drove against Saigon May 5. They said 80 to 90 per cent were North Vietnamese.

The 4 Communist battalions were met at the gates by 4 U.S., South Vietnamese and South Korean battalions backed by heavy air and artillery power. Col. M.D. "Red" Fuller of Sioux Falls, S.D., U.S. operations officer in the Saigon area, said all the captured Communists had been ordered to get into Saigon. They ran into heavy allied patrols.

Almost 3,000 of the Communists killed fell in battles in and just outside the city limits. Allied spokesmen said 17 Communists were killed for every allied soldier killed in the fighting.

The capital was secure but badly damaged. The fighting added 104,000 refugees to the 100,000 left over from the Communists' vain February attempt to invade Saigon. This city of 2 million residents suffered 10,700 houses destroyed. Hospitals said 114 civilians died in their wards and 2,702 were treated for wounds. No full allied troop casualty toll was available. But as of Saturday, military spokesmen said 210 allied soldiers, including 67 Americans, had been killed. They said 979, including 333 Americans, suffered wounds.

As the Communist threat to Saigon faded, it grew elsewhere. U.S. spokesmen today said a U.S. Army Special Forces camp at Kham Duc, 300 miles north of Saigon and in the troubled northern sector of South Vietnam, was evacuated by the Green Berets and their 400 Vietnamese troops.

The Communists shot down a U.S. Air Force C130 transport taking off from the base airstrip. U.S. spokesmen said six crewmen and an "Unknown troops."

Freeman Lists Safety Contest For Students

A safety essay contest—offering $2,000 in U. S. Savings Bonds as prizes—will begin tomorrow, the Kingston Daily Freeman announced today.

The contest is part of a year-long safety education program designed to combat an increase of deaths and accidents in county homes, streets and high ways.

The essay contest is the highlight of the safety campaign, which is centered on the theme "Safety Mindfulness Is Civic Mindfulness."

All Ulster County public and parochial school students in the 9th through 12th grades are eligible to enter the contest.

All essays must be written on the subject: "What Safety Means to Me," and no essay may exceed 500 words in length.

The qualified student writing the winning essay will be awarded a $1,000 U. S. Savings Bond as the grand prize.

The runner-up will receive a $500 Savings Bond. Third prize will be $250 in bonds, and fourth prize will be $100 in bonds. There also will be three consolation prizes of $50 each in bonds.

The contest opens officially May 20th and closes on June 1. Winners will be announced in the Daily Freeman on June 11.

All essays must be accompanied by an official entry blank, and each entry must be signed by an adult who can attest to the grade status of the competing student.

Entry blanks may be obtained from the Tuesday, May 14 issue of The Freeman.

A full-page advertisement in tomorrow's Daily Freeman lists the numerous participating firms and includes an entry blank.

Entries must be in the offices of the Daily Freeman no later than Monday June 1, to be eligible for the prizes. The decision of the judges will be final.

Rain Welcome Tonic

Rain may have dampened weekend activities but was a welcome tonic to greening foliage in the Mid-Hudson Valley.

According to the city engineer's office, .48 of an inch of rainfall was recorded Saturday with an additional .87 on Sunday making a total accumulation for the two days of 1.35 inches. At Cooper Lake Reservoir 1.41 inches were registered over the weekend making a cumulative total for the month of 1.74 at the city water supply.

Heart for Priest

PARIS (UPI)—A 14th person, believed to be a 45-year-old Roman Catholic priest, Sunday joined the growing list of heart transplant patients. He was reported in satisfactory condition today.

Three transplant patients in Houston and London were also doing well.

Sunday's heart transplant was performed in Paris' Broussais Hospital. The names of the donor and recipient were not released by the hospital.

The Paris morning newspaper L'Aurore said the recipient was a 45-year-old Dominican priest. The newspaper said chief surgeon Charles Dubost was assisted by several other top French physicians in the six-hour operation.

Survivors Seek Others

HOMINY FALLS, W. Va. (UPI)—Survivors who escaped death in a flooded coal mine helped other rescuers pumping and blasting today in an effort to find 10 other miners missing and presumed dead.

"We have to help," said Edward Rudd, one of the 15 who crawled to safety on a conveyor belt Saturday, five days after water pent up in a nearby abandoned mine broke through into the tunnel of the Gauley Coal & Coke Co.'s No. 8 mine.

Inmate Back In Dutchess

A 26-year-old paroled rapist awaiting trial in Poughkeepsie for the first degree murder of a 20-year-old Wappingers Falls blonde woman, was back in custody in the Dutchess County jail today facing additional charges as the result of his escape from the jail on Sunday.

Gary Sickler, of Balding Avenue, Poughkeepsie, a painter, was indicted last November by a grand jury for the gruesome slaying of Miss Kathleen M. Taylor last Nov. 5.

Sheriff Lawrence M. Quinlan said yesterday's escape from jail will be turned over to the office of District Attorney John Heilman Jr., for investigation by the grand jury.

According to Quinlan, Sickler had been accounted for by guards who directed the 6:30 a. m. head count of prisoners when they were led from the cell tiers for breakfast and their morning chores in the jail. At the 3:30 p. m. head count guards discovered the prisoner, Sickler, missing from the jail and alarms were immediately broadcast.

toll was available. But as of Saturday, military spokesmen said 210 allied soldiers, including 67 Americans, had been killed. They said 979, including 333 Americans, suffered wounds.

In the Saigon area, American and allied troops reported little action today but told of the discovery of hundreds of Communist bodies around the capital.

In smashing the Communist thrust, American officials paid tribute to tiny radar pellets and to civilians.

The pellets, dropped by planes, signalled the presence of Communist troops when touched. The civilians—in a switch from their almost bystander action in the Communist invasion of Saigon in taking off from the base February 1—were now pointing out guerrilla nests for allied troops.

Freeman Lists Safety Contest For Students

A safety essay contest — offering $2,000 in U. S. Savings Bonds as prizes — will begin tomorrow, the Kingston Daily Freeman announced today.

The contest is part of a year-long safety - education program designed to combat an increase of deaths and accidents in county homes, streets and high ways.

The essay contest is the highlight of the safety campaign, which is centered on the theme "Safety Mindfulness Is Civic Mindedness."

All Ulster County public and parochial school students in the 9th through 12th grades are eligible to enter the contest.

All essays must be written on the subject: "What Safety Means to Me," and no essay may exceed 500 words in length.

The qualified student writing the winning essay will be awarded a $1,000 U. S. Savings Bond as the grand prize.

The runnerup will receive a $500 Savings Bond. Third prize will be $250 in bonds, and fourth prize will be $100 in bonds. There also will be three consolation prizes of $50 each in bonds.

The contest opens officially May 20th and closes on June 1. Winners will be announced in the Daily Freeman on June 11.

All essays must be accompanied by an official entry blank, and each entry must be signed by an adult who can attest to the grade status of the competing student.

Entry blanks may be obtained from the Tuesday, May 14 issue of The Freeman.

A full-page advertisement in tomorrow's Daily Freeman lists the numerous participating firms and includes an entry blank.

Entries must be in the offices of the Daily Freeman no later than midnight June 1, to be eligible for the prizes. The decision of the judges will be final.

Rain Welcome Tonic

Rain may have dampened weekend activities but was a welcome tonic to greening foliage in the Mid-Hudson Valley.

According to the city engineer's office, .48 of an inch of rainfall was recorded Saturday with an additional .87 on Sunday making a total accumulation for the two days of 1.35 inches. At Cooper Lake Reservoir 1.41 inches were registered over the weekend making a cumulative total for the month of 1.74 at the city water supply.

Heart for Priest

PARIS (UPI)—A 14th person, believed to be a 45-year-old Roman Catholic priest, Sunday joined the growing list of heart transplant patients. He was reported in satisfactory condition today.

Three transplant patients in Houston and London were also doing well.

Sunday's heart transplant was performed in Paris' Broussais Hospital. The names of the donor and recipient were not released by the hospital.

The Paris morning newspaper L'Aurore said the recipient was a 45-year-old Dominican priest. The newspaper said chief surgeon Charles Dubost was assisted by several other top French physicians in the six-hour operation.

Survivors Seek Others

HOMINY FALLS, W. Va. (UPI)—Survivors who escaped death in a flooded coal mine helped other rescuers pumping and blasting today in an effort to find 10 other miners missing and presumed dead.

"We have to help," said Edward Rudd, one of the 15 who crawled to safety on a conveyor belt Saturday, five days after water pent up in a nearby abandoned mine broke through into the tunnel of the Gauley Coal & Coke Co.'s No. 8 mine.

The Nebraska Primary: Final Hunt for Votes

BY WALTER R. MEARS
OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, an election favorite who won't admit it, and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy stage their final hunt for votes today in Nebraska's Democratic presidential primary—which could hold a political bonus for Hubert H. Humphrey.

Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann, a Republican, said the vice president could poll a substantial write-in vote in Tuesday's Democratic showdown. Cross-over voting is not permitted.

Expects 70 Per Cent

And the governor said he expects to see Richard M. Nixon capture 70 per cent of the vote in a Republican race which holds little suspense.

New York's Kennedy and Minnesota's McCarthy planned a series of campaign sessions between Lincoln and Omaha to wind up their second primary election clash in the race for the Democratic presidential nomination. Kennedy won the initial test, in Indiana last Tuesday.

Their names are on the Nebraska election ballot along with that of President Johnson, who spurned another race for the White House too late to have it removed.

Kennedy has pulled the larger crowds, and is rated a likely Nebraska winner by most Democratic politicians and surveys. But the senator is trying to dampen such talk.

He scoffs at surveys indicating he will take over half the Democratic vote. "How can I get 50 per cent with four of us in the race?" He asked Sunday as his campaign plane flew over western Nebraska.

In Indiana, Kennedy won with 42 per cent of the vote, McCarthy polled 27 per cent. The rest went to Gov. Roger D. Branigin, a favorite son.

McCarthy all but conceded the election in advance. He has forecast a Kennedy showing of something over 40 per cent, with about 30 per cent of the vote in his own column. He chose to castro's popularity increases in Cuba

BY JOHN CLARK
CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — As far as the masses are concerned, Fidel Castro's popularity "has been sustained by his opposition to our policy in Vietnam," Cyrus S. Eaton, 84-year-old Cleveland financier, said after a visit with the Cuban premier last week.

Vietnam and the abortive Bay of Pigs invasion have been used in Castro's propaganda to solidify his support with the Cuban masses, Eaton told the Plain Dealer in an interview at his Acadia Farms in nearby Northfield.

Eaton said Castro "points to Vietnam as an example of what to expect from America towards a small nation that goes Communist."

In five "very crowded days" in Cuba, Eaton said, he saw children rush to shake Castro's hand and volunteer coffee tree planters applauding from trucks and buses when they sighted the bearded leader in a jeep with his Cleveland guest. Eaton spent part of two days with Castro.

Castro, Eaton claimed, "is the complete boss of Cuba. He is a bold and clever man and he has had some phenomenal breaks, such as the Bay of Pigs and Vietnam. He is also, in my opinion, the most energetic and strenuous statesman in the world."

Eaton's dedication to coexistence between communism and capitalism has made him welcome behind the Iron Curtain and earned the apparent confidence of Soviet leaders.

His trip last week to Cuba was his first there since 1958, two

New Voters Can Hold Balance In Close Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — Census Bureau figures indicate about 11.4 million Americans will be old enough to vote for president for the first time in this year's election—enough to hold the balance of power in a close race.

The newest potential voters comprise nearly 10 per cent of the total civilian population of 118.5 million the Census Bureau says will be of voting age this coming November.

Of these, however, about 8.5 million will be ineligible to cast ballots because they are aliens, are in mental or correctional institutions or fail to meet state residency requirements.

The bureau didn't attempt to spell out how many persons of voting age actually will be eligible to vote in November.

But it said 63 per cent of the total civilian resident population of voting age cast ballots in the last presidential election.

The number of persons of voting age anticipated in November would be about 6 million more than November 1964 when President Johnson defeated then-Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., by landslide proportions.

The 1960 presidential election between the late President John F. Kennedy and then-Vice President Richard M. Nixon was decided by a margin of about 168,000 votes out of more than 68 million cast.

Eligible voters 24 years old or younger had the lowest voting percentage—31 per cent—of any age in the 1964 presidential election.

The bureau didn't extract the number of collegians among this year's crop of those old enough to cast presidential ballots for the first time.

Generally, a person must be 21 to vote in any election but the minimum age is 19 in Alaska, 18 in Georgia and Kentucky and 20 in Hawaii.

Demonstration Leader Had Previous Plan

BY RAY KOHN
NEW YORK (AP) — Mark Rudd, who has led demonstrations at Columbia University, says he drafted a plan last October calling for student action last month but "it was never adopted."

Rudd, who became president of Columbia's unit of the radical Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) shortly before the demonstrations started in April, said Sunday the SDS had decided "to let whatever tactics we needed flow out of the work we were doing and not be planned ahead of time."

It's a total coincidence that the sit-ins and the strike came at the end of April as the plan called for, said Rudd, who was a leader of the SDS at Columbia before being elected president.

The Associated Press reported Saturday night that the final words in Rudd's plan were: "Phase V: Mass action, April. A sit-in at Low Library which, after one day, turns into a general student strike. University capitulates."

This document quoted by the AP, Rudd said, was one of 100 mimeographed copies distributed last fall to members of the SDS at a general meeting.

Relates Plan

Rudd, in an interview, said his plan called for the SDS to concentrate all its activities on one issue—"the university's complicity in the Vietnam war."

This was a specific reference to Columbia's participation in the Institute for Defense Analyses (IDA) sponsored by the U.S. Department of Defense.

Instead of accepting his plan, said the 20-year-old Rudd, the SDS chapter decided to "talk not only about IDA and other research, but on-campus military and Dow-Chemical Co.—recruiting, university expansion in general and especially the draft."

One of the Dow Chemical Co.'s products is napalm, jelled gasoline used by U.S. troops in the Vietnam war.

The demonstrations beginning April 23, Rudd said, grew out of a protest against punishment of six SDS leaders for taking part in an anti-IDA demonstration in Low Memorial Library.

Five buildings were taken over by dissident students during the height of the demonstrations—including the offices of Columbia President Grayson Kirk.

Rudd, a history major from Maplewood, N.J., says he hopes to continue at Columbia and attend graduate school there.

One of the reasons for taking over campus buildings, Rudd said, was to protest the university's rule against indoor demonstrations.

What touched off the general disorders was a student protest against the building of a gymnasium in Morningside Park. Construction of the gym has been halted.

On April 30, city police moved onto the campus at Kirk's request.

About 1,000 police cleared the five buildings held by the rebel students in a melee in which about 150 persons, including 15 policemen, were injured.

A report issued last week by the IVY League school's officials showed that 707 persons had been arrested — 524 registered Columbia students, 181 nonstudents and two faculty members. Columbia puts the enrollment in all its undergraduate and graduate schools at about 25,000.

The university re-opened May 6, and school officials report a steady rise in class attendance. The student strike committee contends that about 10,000 students were staying away from classes.

Rudd has requested that the Strike Co-ordinating Committee meet directly with the university's board of trustees to discuss the issues involved.

Health Clinic Set for Friday

A clinic for immunization against polio, whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus and smallpox will be conducted by the Ulster County Health Department.

It will take place Friday, May 17, from 10:30 to 11:15 a.m. at the Tumor Clinic Building, 400 Broadway.

Immunizations for whooping cough, diphtheria, and tetanus should be started at three months of age; smallpox vaccination should be given sometime during the first year of life; and polio immunizations should be started from three to six months of age.

The clinics serve those who are referred by their physician or those who are otherwise unable to secure these immunizations.

McCarthy all but conceded the election in advance. He has forecast a Kennedy showing of something over 40 per cent, with about 30 per cent of the vote in his own column. He chose to campaign in Oregon and California in the waning days of the Nebraska race, calling them key tests in the primary races for the nomination.

He picked up his Nebraska campaign Sunday and said in McCook that a victory here would help him in those later primaries.

Nixon's opposition in the Republican race consists of California Gov. Ronald Reagan, who is on the ballot but says he isn't running for the presidency, and a miniature write-in movement for New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, a candidate not on the ballot. Perennial candidate Harold Stassen and a Nebraska cowboy named Americus Liberator also are on the GOP ballot.

Sympathetic Votes
Tiemann said that with Johnson's name on the ballot, votes for the President could logically be assumed to be votes sympathetic to Humphrey.

Humphrey held a session with about 40 candidates for seats at the Democratic National Convention Saturday.

The preferential primary is not binding on the delegates who will be elected Tuesday to cast 28 Nebraska votes at the convention.

Republicans will choose delegates to cast 16 nominating votes.

Eaton's dedication to coexistence between communism and capitalism has made him welcome behind the Iron Curtain and earned the apparent confidence of Soviet leaders.

His trip last week to Cuba was his first there since 1958, two years before the Castro-led revolution. He flew in a Cuban airliner from Mexico on the outward trip and returned via Nassau on Cuban and British airlines.

Long a breeder of ribbon-winning beef cattle at his Northfield farms, Eaton wanted to assess agricultural progress in Cuba. His visit was primarily for this purpose.

He reported Cuba is conducting massive artificial insemination of cattle, using a prize Canadian bull valued at $100,000. Other breeding experiments include attempts to produce sheep providing more mutton.

Cuba is getting more and more material help from U.S. allies, Eaton said. During his visit he had conversations with the ambassadors of Canada, Great Britain, France and Switzerland.

"These countries have sent some of their finest diplomatic personnel to Cuba and although I cannot reveal what they said, I know they are impressed with Cuba's progress," Eaton continued.

Bell Forces Desperate Is Mayone's Answer

"It can only be apparent to even the casual observers of the Kingston political scene that the forces of H. Clark Bell must indeed be desperate for campaign material."

This was Republican City chairman John Ray Mayone's answer this morning to last Friday's charges that he politically blacklisted supporters of H. Clark Bell who seeks the Assembly nomination along with Mayone's candidate, Peter J. Savago.

Mayone stated that it is evident that the Bell forces are unable to arrive at any genuine issues against Savago and consequently must engage in attacks against me which are now approaching hysteria. "I very much doubt they are fooling anyone with this sham and subterfuge, and I sincerely believe the Kingston Republican voters will resent this insult to their intelligence."

Obvious Pattern
Mayone said the pattern has been shamefully obvious since the county convention on March 25.

"The Bell camp has been falling all over itself, in continual attempts to draw me into this primary campaign," he said. "I would suggest that they could put their time and am- teurish efforts to better use."

"As has been stated repeatedly, I am not a candidate for assemblyman; Savago is. Let it be noted that Peter Savago can well take care of himself, as Bell will sadly learn come Primary Day.

Mayone said, "The latest smear came from William B. Merrill, who is tabbed as city coordinator for Bell. He becomes yet another parrot with the old familiar line that John Ray Mayone is a 'big boss' and is 'cracking the whip' against Savago supporters. I would suggest to this political newcomer that he at least have the Bell ghost writers supply him with some fresh material instead of the tired old accusations against me. It would appear that he is the coordinator against the city chairman instead of the Republican candidate for Assembly."

"I have stated repeatedly that I do not intend to publicly air the internal problems of the Republican City Committee. Nor will I stoop to engaging in character assassination against Robert Schantz, Louis Smith, or any others, no matter how much they allow themselves to be used as tools of the Bell camp."

Takes Issue
"I readily accept the fact that there can be sharp disagreement with my adjustments and replacement of committeemen under reappointment. However, I take issue with those who so freely attempt to distort my motivation with their slanderous accusations. I have repeatedly stated that I will gladly match my personal and political morals against those of H. Clark Bell."

"If the attacks upon me by Bell these past weeks are indicative of the manner in which he hopes to impress the voters with his qualifications for the high office he seeks, I can only feel that his entire candidacy is a mistake. I have every faith in the good, sound reasoning of the Republican voter to not be taken in by this glib, reckless type of misleading propaganda, and to reflect their displeasure with his gutter politics on Primary Day."

Silversmith At Rhinebeck Humanities Class

"A silversmith is in touch with the vital moments of life." With this comment, Kurt Matzdorf, associate professor of gold and silversmithing at SUNY College, New Paltz, struck the keynote of his presentation at a session of the humanities class at Rhinecliff's Cardinal Farley Military Academy yesterday.

Professor Matzdorf set up a workbench with the highly specialized tools of his craft, and after describing the basic techniques of silversmithing, demonstrated the step-by-step formation of a bowl. A variety of slides were shown of his work. Examples ranged from jewelry set with precious stones to liturgical works of religious symbolism, in which his greatest interest lies. Examples of the latter may be viewed at St. Gregory's Episcopal Church in Woodstock, Temple Emanuel in Kingston, and the church of Christ the King in Stone Ridge.

The strong human need for precious metals at important family occasions was noted. The speaker showed baptismal, confirmation, marriage, anniversary, and memorial gifts that had been commissioned by families. Happily surprising to the students was Matzdorf's fresh approach to "the award," the trophy or other memento often presented to athletes and civic leaders. Many of his jewelry pieces and household objects have won awards of their own; a group of these, including candle sticks, pitchers and tea services made for George Jensen and America House in New York were shown.

Rondout District Votes Wednesday

Rondout Valley School Dis- trict voters will go to the polls Wednesday, from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m., to vote on a $3.8 million budget and elect three out of six school board candidates on the ballot.

School superintendent Ted T. Grenda anticipates an eight to 10 per cent decrease in taxes in spite of the fact that the budget is up $246,003 over last year.

The voting will take place in the Rondout Valley High School gymnasium.

Seeking election to the school board are: Richard Shell, president, who is running to succeed himself and is being opposed by Morris H. Felson, strong critic of the school board and administration.

Two men are seeking the seat being vacated by Herbert Seimer, a member of the board for 10 years. They are Julian (Joe) Bartle and William S. Suefle.

Edward Hill's seat is also being vacated and is sought by Albert Sperath and Burton Shoemaker.

Of the budget, Dr. Grenda says that with a state aid formula of $760 per student now seen probable, taxes in the Rondout Valley District are expected to go down due to the increased state aid.

The Rondout Budget increase is an extremely moderate one, the board feels, in view of the fact that increments have been granted to personnel in order to keep Rondout Valley competitive with surrounding districts, and that a new building, the Middle School, will be in operation in 1968-69 with its added personnel and maintenance costs.

Engineers Are To Meet 15th

The next meeting of the Ulster Chapter of the New York State Society of Professional Engineers will be held at the Hotel Kirkland May 15 at 6:30 p.m.

Joseph Ohniskian, president of the Ulster chapter, made the announcement recently.

Speaker will be C. Dav Loeks, president and chief executive officer of the Mid-Hudson Patterns for Progress, will discuss the planned growth of the Mid-Hudson Valley.

All interested engineers are welcome to participate, it was announced.

In addition to the voting on the budget and school board candidates, Rondout District voters will be asked to consider the purchase of four buses.

Such Pile Relief She Can't Describe Says Mrs. H. Williams

Treatment Shrinks Piles, Relieves Pain In Most Cases
Louisville, Ky. Mrs. Hugh Williams of Louisville writes: "A good person recommended Preparation H to me and such help I can't describe. I don't know what in the world I'd do without it!"

(Note: Doctors have proved in most cases—Preparation H® actually shrinks inflamed hemorrhoids. In case after case, the sufferer first notices prompt relief from pain, burning and itching. Then swelling is gently reduced. There's no other formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids like doctor-tested Preparation H. It also lubricates to make bowel movements more comfortable, soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.)

Richter to Moderate Tonight's Debate

City Judge Hubert Richter will moderate the "Big Debate" in Kingston tonight between Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick, Nassau County Executive Eugene H. Nickerson and Paul O'Dwyer.

The three Democratic candidates for the U.S. Senatorial nomination in New York State will appear at the Kingston High School auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

The public is invited to the event which is being sponsored by the Young Democrats of Ulster County.

A panel of four representatives of newspaper and radio will question the debaters, following introductory statements and debate between the three senatorial aspirants. They are: Len Cain, WBZ; Jim Thompson, WGHQ; Jack Marquardt, WKNY and Lynn Mulvaney, Kingston Daily Freeman.

Bell Forces Desperate Is Mayone's Answer

"It can only be apparent to even the casual observers of the Kingston political scene that the forces of H. Clark Bell must indeed be desperate for campaign material."

This was Republican City chairman John Ray Mayone's answer this morning to last Friday's charges that he politically blacklisted supporters of H. Clark Bell who seeks the Assembly nomination along with Mayone's candidate, Peter J. Savago.

Mayone stated that it is evident that the Bell forces are unable to arrive at any genuine issues against Savago and consequently must engage in attacks against me which are now approaching hysteria. "I very much doubt they are fooling anyone with this sham and subterfuge, and I sincerely believe the Kingston Republican voters will resent this insult to their intelligence."

Obvious Pattern
Mayone said the pattern has been shamefully obvious since the county convention on March 25.

"The Bell camp has been falling all over itself, in continual attempts to draw me into this primary campaign," he said. "I would suggest that they could put their time and amateurish efforts to better use."

"As has been stated repeatedly, I am not a candidate for assemblyman; Savago is. Let it be noted that Peter Savago can well take care of himself, as Bell will sadly learn come Primary Day.

Mayone said, "The latest smear came from William B. Merrill, who is tabbed as city coordinator for Bell. He becomes yet another parrot with the old familiar line that John Ray Mayone is a 'big boss' and is 'cracking the whip' against Savago supporters. I would suggest to this political newcomer that he at least have the Bell ghost writers supply him with some fresh material instead of the tired old accusations against me. It would appear that he is the coordinator against the city chairman instead of the Republican candidate for Assembly."

"I have stated repeatedly that I do not intend to publicly air the internal problems of the Republican City Committee. Nor will I stoop to engaging in character assassination against Robert Schantz, Louis Smith, or any others, no matter how much they allow themselves to be used as tools of the Bell camp."

Takes Issue
"I readily accept the fact that there can be sharp disagreement with my adjustments and replacement of committeemen under reapportionment. However, I take issue with those who so freely attempt to distort my motivation with their slanderous accusations. I have repeatedly stated that I will gladly match my personal and political morals against those of H. Clark Bell."

Youth Corps and Jobs

The county-wide neighborhood youth corps program, which fundamentally is an attack on the school dropout problem, has been assured for the second summer in Ulster County. The United States Department of Labor will provide a grant to the Kingston YMCA, which sponsors the program in cooperation with the Ulster County Community Action Committee.

The program is intended to help keep enrollees, who are in danger of dropping out, in school until graduation and then to enable them to be more employable for having this summer work-training experience. Among job classifications to be considered are teacher aide, clerical aide, cafeteria aide, recreation aide, library aide, laboratory aide and many others.

Under the program, an employing agency must be either a federal, state or local public agency or a private nonprofit agency. Those interested in providing job stations should contact the YMCA.

Along with the on-the-job training program, it is essential that these students also receive proper guidance in the pursuit of knowledge. This schedule of school subjects is of great importance.

There are many reasons for unemployment in the country today. But the most prevalent is a lack of skills for the needed jobs. Among these are construction jobs, textile and garment industries and the more complicated skills of computerized office work.

"There don't have to be any jobs," employment agents across the country say, if they can match those out of work to the jobs they have available.

The hitch is the fact that available jobs and available workers do not fit each other.

Experts in manpower procurement add that the bare fact of creating more jobs will not necessarily absorb the unemployed. The job may demand more skill, or a different skill, or it may be unattractive regardless of skill.

The unemployed lack work largely because they can't do the available work. Training is the key to employment.

Remember the Pueblo?

Almost forgotten in the rapid swirl of world events is the fact that North Korea is still holding 82 crewmen of the USS Pueblo, the intelligence ship that was seized by four patrol boats in the Sea of Japan. That incident took place three and a half months ago. A few hours later President Johnson went on television to demand its return; and in the same talk he called up nearly 15,000 Air Force and Navy Reservists and ordered the carrier Enterprise into the Sea of Japan. A tense, war-like atmosphere developed. Now the Pueblo headlines are infrequent.

It is one of the sorriest chapters in U.S. naval history. Initial protestations of innocence were followed by admission that just maybe the ship did stray into forbidden areas, and Dean Rusk and Robert McNamara conceded some time later we couldn't be positive that the ship hadn't entered North Korean waters.

Since the seizure, U.S. and North Korean officials have met 15 times in Panmunjom. There has been no progress. Washington is guessing that the men will be allowed to come home—and the body of the fatally injured 83rd man released—when the North Koreans decide no more propaganda benefits can be wrung from the situation. If the Oriental mind works in a predictable pattern in similar situations, Panmunjom may be offering a preview of things to come in the preliminary peace talks in Paris. Our commitment in Southeast Asia has raised wide objections, and the Hanoi delegation will have opportunities galore to run the talks into a propaganda exercise. Just as the Pueblo case has dragged on and on without results, so may the Paris consultations. Patience is the best watchword for Americans at the moment. If things seem to drag on endlessly in Paris, there may be consolation in the fact that, to the Oriental, time is in abundant supply and they'll use plenty of it before coming to grips with the substantive issues.

Nicholas Johnson, a Federal Communications Commissioner, points out that the television industry earns $3 billion a year from air rights granted them by the government, for which they pay $4 million in fees. He suggests the licenses should be increased at least to cover FCC expenses of $21 million. That would make television self-sustaining.

It will mean a tenfold increase, but the Defense Department aims to increase Negroes in the National Guard and Ready Reserve from the present two per cent to 12 per cent, in line with the percentage of Negroes of military age in the population at large. The mixed Guard should do a more effective job quieting rioters in cities than if they are all white.

"The Response to Your Candidacy, Mr. Governor!"

David Lawrence Says Soviet Continues Its Imperialistic Force

WASHINGTON — Maybe those members of Congress who recently were so quick to express themselves in favor of the selection of Warsaw as a site for the Vietnam peace negotiations will have second thoughts now that a crisis has arisen in the Polish capital itself. For western diplomats and all foreign residents have just been barred from traveling to or from Warsaw.

While no reasons were given, the assumption is that the Soviet government, which controls the countries of East Europe, is moving troops toward Czechoslovakia, whose leaders lately have had the temerity to differ ideologically with the Moscow concept of communism. The right of dissent is punishable by military force in Communist bloc countries, and the Soviet Union hasn't hesitated to make a show of force as a signal that further deviation from Communist concepts of the past will not be tolerated. A "summit" conference of all the Communist countries of East Europe except Czechoslovakia and Rumania has just been convened in Moscow, and the leaders pledged themselves to "all-around co-operation" with Moscow in the controversy with Czechoslovakia.

The American government has known for some time about the rising tension between Poland and Czechoslovakia. This is one of the reasons why Warsaw wasn't regarded here as a good place in which to hold peace conferences with North Vietnam. The reform movement in Czechoslovakia has been welcomed in Western Europe and inside the United States as a sign that at last democracy was making a little headway in the eastern bloc and that Czechoslovakia was showing a trend toward self-determination.

The Soviet government has a large number of troops not only in East Germany but in Poland, and these have presumably been alerted. Inside Poland there is a bitter propaganda war being waged by the controlled press against Czechoslovakia.

For the last two weeks hopes have risen here that a substantial change in Czechoslovakia would bring about better relations between the United States and all the countries in the communist bloc of eastern Europe. Recently members of the administration have been urging an improvement of relations between the United States and the communist bloc countries, particularly through trade arrangements. It has been contended that cutting off trade with the communist bloc nations would leave them at the mercy of the Soviet Union, and that the best way to encourage them eventually to secede from the Communist system would be to bring them closer to the United States. The use of Soviet military power, however, either to threaten or coerce Czechoslovakian leaders will naturally be regarded in Washington as changing the situation and making necessary a re-examination of all the factors involved.

Soviet policy lately has become more imperialistic than ever before. The Moscow regime is reaching out to extend its power in the Middle East. The Russian fleet in the Mediterranean has been substantially increased, and the Soviets are spending billions of dollars in economic and military aid to small countries which they hope to bring within their own orbit. Soviet infiltration of Asian countries is a growing cause of concern not only in India but in Japan and the Philippines.

It is significant, too, that the North Vietnamese delegates to the peace talks stopped off in Moscow on their way to the conference in Paris, and conferred with the leaders in the Kremlin.

In recent weeks Russian ships have been increasing their distribution of war supplies through the Port of Haiphong, and are doing so at a faster rate than ever before. Thus, the North Vietnamese have been gaining an advantage while a site for the peace talks was being discussed, and America restrained its bombing. Pravda, the official newspaper of the Soviet government, is boasting that Russian ships now can unload at Haiphong 12 ships at a time, compared to only six before the United States started air raids.

The Soviet government has by no means halted its imperialistic operations, either in eastern Europe or in Asia.

Golf makes tigers of the most placid of men. More and more characters are on the fairways, hacking, scuffing, sweating and cursing. A father who wouldn't drive to a corner butcher shop to get two bits worth of bologna for his starving kids will wait an hour and a half for starting time, and then tip the starter.

The game is Social Security's answer to pro football. It's the aging husband's response to the wife's taunt: "If you want to carry a bag on your shoulder, carry me." It is male bingo; Mao think; death in the afternoon; hostility in a cart; Frank Merriwell's Revenge; the beach boy in arch supporters; the ultimate frustration.

There never was a happy golfer. Golfers are happy before they get on the first tee. Their innocence is touching. They sincerely believe that this is going to be the day. It never is, of course. Never. Even if a golfer shoots par, he will cry about two or three putts that should have dropped in the cup.

The serious studiously avoids happiness in all its forms. He cultivates misery. From the opening shot, a nice clean duck hook into the rough, he will gnash his teeth, shout the same four-letter word every time he sees his ball in flight, pound the club into the turf, seethe through his nostrils, and allow his fellow sufferers only ten seconds of tears after which he murmurs: "I know,

I know," and misses his next shot.

Any man who enjoys golf doesn't understand the game. Primarily it is a target device. A four-and-a-quarter-inch cup is placed at varying distances from an elevated tee, and the trick is to see how few strokes it will require for Dummy to tap it in. Between the player and the hole, there is a long bowling alley of grass, flanked on either side by trees, tall range grass, basins of sand, running brooks and lakes.

A man who couldn't hit the sod if he fell out of a cart will blow a couple of hundred beans for clubs, bag, spiked shoes, shirts, slacks and those elusive white pills. If he is a normal golfer, he will take several practice swings, each one a marvel of fluid grace. Then he will put a ball down, take a round-house swipe, come up off both feet, and hammer the ball into the ground.

He is fascinated with the long ball. On the rare occasion when one flies out straight and long, he says modestly: "It'll play." He thinks the short approaches to the green, the shots out of the trap, and the putting are not worth study. All he cares about is being a killer on the tee.

Well, man and boy, I've been hacking for 27 years and none of it has been fun. Yesterday, I went out on the Diplomat course with Mr. Bernard Castro, who makes convertible couches—I wish he could make a convertible golfer; Mr. Gene Kroll, a Ford dealer; and Mr. Rocky Marciano, who used to punch the hell out of people for money.

Of the four, Castro plays the steady game. He's a bogey man. Kroll is golf scientist. When he misses—which isn't often—he enjoys a post mortem. Gene shoots an easy 83. Rocky beams like a child and hauls off and belts the ball out of sight. This is something to watch when he is 20 feet from the pin.

Me, I average 94. Somewhere among the 18 holes, there are three catastrophes waiting for me. Sometimes they arrive early; sometimes late, but they are always waiting. When I feel low, I work up a game with Irving Tillis, who is vice president like Hubert Humphrey. Mr. Tillis is generous. He will let you win. Even when he tries his hardest, you win.

Sometimes I watch professionals like Nick Borsani and Ruffi Gonzalez giving lessons to duffers, and I learn nothing. The reason I learn nothing is because I am inherently stupid. It isn't humanly possible to learn a game, the first premise of which is that you cannot lift your head to see what you're doing.

All over the United States, from Missoula, Montana, to San Antonio, Texas, millions of men are out cutting up sod. There are women too, but I prefer not discuss women golfers. I can understand the athletic masochism of the male, but I will never comprehend why an otherwise lovely female desires to stand with a shaft of wood in her hands, knees flexed, head down, feet apart, eyelashes on lips, paralyzed.

The only true friend I have on the golf course is some ghost named Mulligan . . .

Drew Pearson Says Congressmen Oblige Lobbyists By Gutting Safety Pipeline Bill

WASHINGTON — The families who had their homes blown up in the latest gas pipeline explosion in San Jose, Calif., will be interested in the closed-door debate in which certain Congressmen gutted the pipeline safety bill.

So will the citizens of Queens, N. Y., who lost twelve blocks of homes, and the citizens of Natchitoches, La., where seventeen people were killed by another pipeline explosion, and all the others who lost loved ones and property in pipeline explosions in the last couple of years.

They and the rest of the public will not be able to read the debate which affects their own safety, because it was held behind the closed doors of the House Commerce Committee. However, we can report that at least five Congressmen were so angry at the way their colleagues buckled under to the lobbyists that they announced they would make a fight on the House floor to restore the stronger provisions of a Senate bill which guarantees tough federal inspection of 800,000 miles of underground pipeline.

The five protestors who voted against the weak House bill were: Reps. John Moss, D-Calif., John Dingell, D-Mich., Daniel Rosten, D-Ill., Brock Adams, D-Wash., and Richard Ottinger, D-N.Y.

Rep. Torbert Macdonald, D-Mass., also said he would support amendments on the floor.

"I must say I am disenchanted with the bill as approved by this committee," he declared. "Most of all, I do not like the provision which enables states to exempt themselves from federal regulation by simply certifying that they are satisfying federal standards in pipeline safety."

"This bill guts the Senate bill by exempting pipes already in the ground from meeting construction standards for new pipelines; that is, unless the Secretary of Transportation disagrees," protested Moss of California.

He said that the Secretary would have to make separate finding of hazards "in each section" of a pipeline in order to compel replacements.

"This is ridiculous," complained Moss. "There might be 100 sections of an old pipeline that are hazardous. The Secretary would have to make 100 findings to put it in shape to meet safety standards. It is a weak, badly drawn piece of legislation all around."

Lobbyist Ghost Writers

One reason it's a bad bill is that it was written largely by lobbyists," declared Adams of Washington. "In at least five of six cases that I know about, the committee has adopted the precise language the lobbyists wanted in the bill."

The Congressmen who have yielded to the lobbyists behind closed doors were: Horace Kornegay, N.C. Democrat; plus Republicans James Brody, N.C.; James Harvey, Mich.; Donald Brozman, Colo.; and Clarence Brown, Ohio.

They weakened the bill so drastically that civil penalties were reduced from the Senate figure of $400,000 to $100,000 for total damages to any person injured by a gas explosion. A maximum liability of $100,000 is peanuts compared with the several million dollars of damages in the Queens fire.

Two of the lobbyists who fought hardest to weaken the pipeline inspection bill were Hal Connor and John A. Vance of Pacific Gas and Electric, the very same company whose pipeline exploded in San Jose last week. They wanted state instead of federal inspection. Connor and Vance called on Rep. Moss and Billett, four times in one day, trying to weaken the pipeline bill. They called on Rep. Van Deelen eight times. Both Congressmen stood firm.

The Senate leaders for a tough pipeline bill were Warren Magnuson, D-Wash., chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, and Vance Hartke, Chairman of the subcommittee. They were successful until their efforts were undermined by lobbyists in the House.

Note: Pacific Gas and Electric has been much more community-minded of late. When P G & E undertook to build a nuclear reactor, it consulted the Sierra Club in advance to get its approval of the best place to locate the reactor. However, P G & E lobbyists did their best to persuade the House Commerce Committee to adopt an amendment to transfer pipeline inspection from the federal government to the states where utility commissions are notoriously weak.

Poor People's March

It was behind closed doors, but Rep. William Cramer, R-Fla., was almost frantic in demanding that the House Public Works Committee approve a bill forbidding the Poor People's March from camping on federal property. "Let's get to vote on this," he yelled at Chairman George Fallon, D-Md. "These marchers will begin arriving here in a few days. We've got to get a bill through Congress to prevent misuse of federal property."

When Fallon finally quieted him down and called for a voice vote on the bill, only two members voted no. Reps. Richard McCarthy, D-N.Y., and Jerome Waldie, D-Calif., "I'm not in favor of a campout on the Mall, either," said McCarthy. "Administration officials are now endeavoring to get an agreement on an adequate campsite for all those moving in here. This bill isn't necessary. It will make the marchers feel that they have to negotiate under the gun for a suitable place."

"Legislation like this will be like a red flag, a slap in the face of the marchers before they have even arrived here," agreed Waldie. "Why jeopardize matters before the Administration has had time to settle the problem?"

Cramer, however, didn't want any discussion. He kept insisting on a quick vote by the committee and got it.

RFK Indiana Win Was Big; He Cracked a Tough State

NEA Washington Correspondent

INDIANAPOLIS (NEA) — There are strong echoes of 1960 in the quick effort by some political figures to minimize Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's substantial victory in the Indiana primary.

In the 1960 Wisconsin primary, John F. Kennedy beat Hubert Humphrey by 110,000 votes, won two-thirds of the state's convention delegates and six of the 10 congressional districts.

Some politicians and observers immediately labeled it a defeat for Kennedy and a moral victory for Humphrey, mostly because there had been one or two predictions that Kennedy would sweep all. But this reporter's survey of 35 states at that time found most party professionals hailing Kennedy's Wisconsin win as impressive.

Today's professionals, especially in the big-city states, are judging Bob Kennedy's Indiana triumph in much the same way.

They know he was applying plenty of money, manpower and veteran political skills in his whirlwind campaign from Lake Michigan south to the Ohio River. But they also know Indiana was basically a very tough state from which to launch a driving effort for the presidency.

that his campaign people at the outset had a list of roughly 100 persons who had helped John Kennedy take Indiana in 1960. Only one agreed to work this time. Most of the others were warped into Gov. Roger Branigan's state, organization or into regular county organizations which refused to help.

There were no voter lists to work from. Party regulars at all levels gave the Kennedy camp the freeze.

Before Kennedy entered Indiana, a top Democrat here told him not to do it, that that Branigan as a favorite son would demolish him. Much was said, and not in correctly, about the basic conservatism of the state.

The much-talked-of "poor-mouthing" by Kennedy forces after the senator's entry was only partly that. Real concern was felt.

Kennedy plunged into Indiana despite negative advice because he felt his last step on the 1968 trail compelled maximum action. He believed, too, that he could not win huge blocks of big state delegates unless he could persuade such leaders as Chicago's Mayor Richard Daley by testing himself in hard places as well as easy.

What Kennedy did accomplish was hardly minor. He beat Branigan by 86,000 votes and third-place Sen. Eugene

McCarthy by 11,000. It would have been sweeter to have run-up the 50 to 60 per cent vote that looked likely for awhile, but 42 per cent for Kennedy in a three-man race was solid. The McCarthy people thought that percentage was excellent when they achieved it in New Hampshire.

McCarthy's 27 per cent was a shade better than the 25 per cent which most polls indicated as his likely maximum, but it was hardly cause for fresh claims of moral victory. If his backers seriously believe it is, then self-delusion is setting in.

What may be most notable for Daley and others watching the parade of primaries is the fact, foreseen early in this column, that Kennedy cracked both the Negro voters and the blue-collar workers most susceptible to backlash sentiments. He took Indianapolis, Gary, Fort Wayne and Terre Haute to prove his double thrust.

Though his hold on the populous suburbs seems weak, his study appeal to disparate elements in the troubled city cores may—if demonstrated further—persuade big city leaders that he is at once the likeliest winner in November and the man most able to effect a racial reconciliation in an era of great internal strife.

Gun Seize Has Reduced Crime

By EDWIN A. LAHEY

Chicago Daily News Service

MIAMI, May 9—The tough policies of Police Chief Walter E. Headley of Miami have produced a cash crop of confiscated hand guns.

Headley's men collect about 125 guns a week in their "stop and frisk" patrols of areas known to be infested with candidates for criminal records.

The chief, who has made headlines for his criticisms of the growing practice of playing patty cake with rioters, recently sold one-third of the police inventory of confiscated guns.

There were 1,315 in this lot. The purchaser was the International Armaments Corp. of Alexandria, Va. The Alexandria company, well known in this strange industry, is required under the purchase contracts to dispose of the guns outside the United States.

The $12,075 from the sale of the guns goes into the general fund of the City of Miami. But the money is earmarked for the purchase of police equipment, Headley says.

The Miami chief takes a dim view of the "compassionate" theory of police work, especially if "restraint" means that police give up control of the streets, as they did in Washington during recent riots, in which uniformed officers watched looters select their merchandise.

Headley's name became synonymous with police toughness last Christmas weekend.

"We had 58 robberies and 3 murders on that weekend," Headley said.

"I came in on Dec. 26 fit to be tied. I felt that I wasn't doing my job. I called in all commanding officers. I never even mentioned race. But I told them our job was to protect life and property and to enforce the law."

It was at this time that patrols in the Miami Negro areas were strengthened. The "stop and frisk" rule was adopted. Dogs walked dangerous beats with policemen. Headley's now famous words went the rounds: "When the looting starts the shooting starts."

Headley has absolutely no apologies for his beliefs and expression.

"I don't plan to back away," he said. "I would rather retire."

The chief finds justification

for his tough policy in crime statistics. In the high crime areas, there has been a 62 per cent reduction of serious crime, he says. Headley is unimpressed by complaints against the use of dogs.

"The K-9 Crops has been going for seven years, and they haven't yet made a wrong bite."

And in reviewing his program of strict law enforcement, Headley observes: "And there hasn't been a shot fired yet."

Youth Corps and Jobs

The county-wide neighborhood youth corps program, which fundamentally is an attack on the school dropout problem, has been assured for the second summer in Ulster County. The United States Department of Labor will provide a grant to the Kingston YMCA, which sponsors the program in co-operation with the Ulster County Community Action Committee.

The program is intended to help keep enrollees, who are in danger of dropping out, in school until graduation and then to enable them to be more employable for having this summer work-training experience. Among job classifications to be considered are teacher aide, clerical aide, cafeteria aide, recreation aide, library aide, laboratory aide and many others.

Under the program, an employing agency must be either a federal, state or local public agency or a private nonprofit agency. Those interested in providing job stations should contact the YMCA.

Along with the on-the-job training program, it is essential that these students also receive proper guidance in the pursuit of knowledge. This schedule of school subjects is of great importance.

There are many reasons for unemployment in the country today. But the most prevalent is a lack of skills for the needed jobs. Among these are construction jobs, textile and garment industries and the more complicated skills of computerized office work.

"There don't have to be any jobless," employment agents across the country say, if they can match those out of work to the jobs they have available.

The hitch is the fact that available jobs and available workers do not fit each other.

Experts in manpower procurement add that the bare fact of creating more jobs will not necessarily absorb the unemployed. The job may demand more skill, or a different skill, or it may be unattractive regardless of skill.

Remember the Pueblo?

Almost forgotten in the rapid swirl of world events is the fact that North Korea is still holding 82 crewmen of the USS Pueblo, the intelligence ship that was seized by four patrol boats in the Sea of Japan. That incident took place three and a half months ago. A few hours later President Johnson went on television to demand its return; and in the same talk he called up nearly 15,000 Air Force and Navy Reserves and ordered the carrier Enterprise into the Sea of Japan. A tense, war-like atmosphere developed. Now the Pueblo headlines are infrequent.

It is one of the sorriest chapters in U.S. naval history. Initial protestations of innocence were followed by admission that just maybe the ship did stray into forbidden areas, and Dean Rusk and Robert McNamara conceded some time later we couldn't be positive that the ship hadn't entered North Korean waters.

Since the seizure, U.S. and North Korean officials have met 15 times in Panmunjom. There has been no progress. Washington is guessing that the men will be allowed to come home—and the body of the fatally injured 83rd man released—when the North Koreans decide no more propaganda benefits can be wrung from the situation. If the Oriental mind works in a predictable pattern in similar situations, Panmunjom may be offering a preview of things to come in the preliminary peace talks in Paris. Our commitment in Southeast Asia has raised wide objections, and the Hanoi delegation will have opportunities galore to run the talks into a propaganda exercise. Just as the Pueblo case has dragged on and on without results, so may the Paris consultations. Patience is the best watchword for Americans at the moment. If things seem to drag on endlessly in Paris, there may be consolation in the fact that, to the Oriental, time is in abundant supply and they'll use plenty of it before coming to grips with the substantive issues.

Nicholas Johnson, a Federal Communications Commissioner, points out that the television industry earns $3 billion a year from air rights granted them by the government, for which they pay $4 million in fees. He suggests the licenses should be increased at least to cover FCC expenses of $21 million. That would make television self-sustaining.

It will mean a tenfold increase, but the Defense Department aims to increase Negroes in the National Guard and Ready Reserve from the present two per cent to 12 per cent, in line with the percentage of Negroes of military age in the population at large. The mixed Guard should do a more effective job quieting rioters in cities than if they are all white.

Soviet Continues Its Imperialistic Force

WASHINGTON — Maybe those members of Congress who recently were so quick to express themselves in favor of the selection of Warsaw as a site for the Vietnam peace negotiations will have second thoughts now that a crisis has arisen in the Polish capital itself. For western diplomats and all foreign residents have just been barred from traveling to or from Warsaw.

While no reasons were given, the assumption is that the Soviet government, which controls the countries of East Europe, is moving troops toward Czechoslovakia, whose leaders lately have had the temerity to differ ideologically with the Moscow concepts of communism. The right of dissent is punishable by military force in Communist bloc countries, and the Soviet Union hasn't hesitated to make a show of force as a signal that further deviation from Communist concepts of the past will not be tolerated. A "summit" conference of all the Communist countries of East Europe except Czechoslovakia and Rumania has just been convened in Moscow, and the leaders pledged themselves to "all-around co-operation" with Moscow in the controversy with Czechoslovakia.

The American government has known for some time about the rising tension between Poland and Czechoslovakia. This is one of the reasons why Warsaw wasn't regarded here as a good place in which to hold peace conferences with North Vietnam. The reform movement in Czechoslovakia has been welcomed in Western Europe and inside the United States as a sign that at last democracy was making a little headway in the eastern bloc and that Czechoslovakia was showing a trend toward self-determination.

The Soviet government has a large number of troops not only in East Germany but in Poland, and these have presumably been alerted. Inside Poland there is a bitter propaganda war being waged by the controlled press against Czechoslovakia.

For the last two weeks hopes have risen here that a substantial change in Czechoslovakia would bring about better relations between the United States and all the countries in the communist bloc of eastern Europe. Recently members of the administration have been urging an improvement of relations between the United States and the communist bloc countries, particularly through trade arrangements. It has been contended that cutting off trade with the communist bloc nations would leave them at the mercy of the Soviet Union, and that the best way to encourage them eventually to secede from the Communist system would be to bring them closer to the United States. The use of Soviet military power, however, either to threaten or coerce Czechoslovakian leaders will naturally be regarded in Washington as changing the situation and making necessary a re-examination of all the factors involved.

Soviet policy lately has become more imperialistic than ever before. The Moscow regime is reaching out to extend its power in the Middle East. The Russian fleet in the Mediterranean has been substantially increased, and the Soviets are spending billions of dollars in economic and military aid to small countries which they hope to bring within their own orbit. It was behind closed doors, but Rep. William Cramer, R-Fla., was almost frantic in demanding that the House Public Works Committee approve a bill forbidding the Poor People's March from camping on federal property. "Let's get to vote on this," he yelled at Chairman George Fallon, D-Md. "These marchers will begin arriving here in a few days. We've got to get a bill through Congress to prevent misuse of federal property."

When Fallon finally quieted him down and called for a voice vote on the bill, only two members voted no. Reps. Richard McCarthy, D-N.Y., and Jerome Waldie, D-Calif.

"I'm not in favor of a campout on the Mall, either," said McCarthy. "Administration officials are now endeavoring to get an agreement on an adequate campsite for all those moving in here. This bill isn't necessary. It will make the marchers feel that they have to negotiate under the gun for a suitable place."

"Legislation like this will be like a red flag, a slap in the face of the marchers before they have even arrived here," agreed Waldie. "Why jeopardize matters before the Administration has had time to settle the problem?"

Cramer, however, didn't want any discussion. He kept insisting on a quick vote by the committee and got it.

RFK Indiana Win Was Big: He Cracked a Tough State

NEA Washington Correspondent
INDIANAPOLIS (NEA) — There are strong echoes of 1960 in the quick effort by some political figures to minimize Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's substantial victory in the Indiana primary.

In the 1960 Wisconsin primary, John F. Kennedy beat Hubert Humphrey by 110,000 votes, won two-thirds of the state's convention delegates and six of the 10 congressional districts.

Some politicians and observers immediately labeled it a defeat for Kennedy and a moral victory for Humphrey, mostly because there had been one or two predictions that Kennedy would sweep all. But this reporter's survey of 35 states at that time found most party professionals hailing Kennedy's Wisconsin win as impressive.

Today's professionals, especially in the big-city states, are judging Bob Kennedy's Indiana triumph in much the same way.

They know he was applying plenty of money, manpower and veteran political skills in his whirlwind campaign from Lake Michigan south to the Ohio River. But they also know Indiana was basically a very tough state from which to launch a driving effort for the presidency.

that his campaign people at the outset had a list of roughly 100 persons who had helped John Kennedy take Indiana in 1960. Only one agreed to work this time. Most of the others were warped into Gov. Roger Branigan's state, organization or into regular county organizations which refused to help.

There were no voter lists to work from. Party regulars at all levels gave the Kennedy camp the freeze.

Before Kennedy entered Indiana, a top Democrat here told him not to do it, that that Branigan as a favorite son would demolish him.

Much was said, and not incorrectly, about the basic conservatism of the state.

The much-talked-of "poor-mouthing" by Kennedy forces after the senator's entry was only partly that. Real concern was felt.

Kennedy plunged into Indiana despite negative advice because he felt his late start on the 1968 trail compelled maximum action. He believed, too, that he could not win huge blocks of big state delegates unless he could persuade such leaders as Chicago's Mayor Richard Daley by testing himself in hard places as well as easy.

What Kennedy did accomplish was hardly minor. He beat Branigan by 86,000 votes and third-place Sen. Eugene

McCarthy by 11,000. It would have been sweeter to have run up the 50 to 60 per cent vote that looked likely for awhile, but 42 per cent for Kennedy in a three-man race was solid. The McCarthy people thought that percentage was excellent when they achieved it in New Hampshire.

McCarthy's 27 per cent was a shade better than the 25 per cent which most polls indicated as his likely maximum, but it was hardly cause for fresh claims of moral victory. If his backers seriously believe it is, then self-delusion is setting in.

What may be most notable for Daley and others watching the parade of primaries is the fact, foreseen early in this column, that Kennedy cracked both the Negro voters and the blue-collar workers most susceptible to backlash sentiments. He took Indianapolis, Gary, Fort Wayne and Terre Haute to prove his double thrust.

Though his hold on the populous suburbs seems weak, his study appeal to disparate elements in the troubled city cores may—if demonstrated further—persuade big city leaders that he is at once the likeliest winner in November and the man most able to effect a racial reconciliation in an era of great internal strife.

Gun Seize Has Reduced Crime

By EDWIN A. LAHEY

Chicago Daily News Service
MIAMI, May 9—The tough policies of Police Chief Walter E. Headley of Miami have produced a cash crop of confiscated hand guns.

Headley's men collect about 125 guns a week in their "stop and frisk" patrols of areas known to be infested with candidates for criminal records.

The chief, who has made headlines for his criticisms of the growing practice of playing patty cake with rioters, recently sold one-third of the police inventory of confiscated guns.

There were 1,315 in this lot. The purchaser was the International Armaments Corp. of Alexandria, Va. The Alexandria company, well known in this strange industry, is required under the purchase contracts to dispose of the guns outside the United States.

The $12,075 from the sale of the guns goes into the general fund of the City of Miami. But the money is earmarked for the purchase of police equipment, Headley says.

The Miami chief takes a dim view of the "compassionate" theory of police work, especially if "restraint" means that police give up control of the streets, as they did in Washington during recent riots, in which uniformed officers watched looters select their merchandise.

Headley's name became synonymous with police toughness last Christmas weekend.

"We had 58 robberies and 3 murders on that weekend," Headley said. "I came in on Dec. 26 fit to be tied. I felt that I wasn't doing my job. I called in all commanding officers. I never even mentioned race. But I told them our job was to protect life and property and to enforce the law."

It was at this time that patrols in the Miami Negro areas were strengthened. The "stop and frisk" rule was adopted. Dogs walked dangerous beats with policemen. Headley's now famous words went the rounds: "When the looting starts the shooting starts."

Headley has absolutely no apologies for his beliefs and expression.

for his tough policy in crime statistics. In the high crime areas, there has been a 62 per cent reduction of serious crime, he says. Headley is unimpressed by complaints against the use of dogs.

"The K-9 Cops have been going for seven years, and they haven't yet made a wrong bite."

And in reviewing his program of strict law enforcement, Headley observes: "And there hasn't been a shot fired yet."

Frank Jablonski made the best of a bad situation and insured his political future by getting out of the Eighth Ward race and backing John Naccarato.

Taking on Naccarato would have been political suicide for the young alderman and chances are he would have been dead for a long time. Frank made the best move, under the circumstances. He's a committeeman now, probably one of the youngest in the city, and as such will be almost as influential in the ward as an alderman. And if in the future he decides to run for the Council again his stature as an ex-alderman and the fact that he stepped aside to avoid party strife should stand him in good stead.

While things appear to be going smoothly for the Republicans in the Eighth Ward such is not the case in the Fifth and Sixth Wards. Two prominent Republicans, Bob Schantz and Louis Smith were denied the nominations in the Sixth and Fifth respectively.

Smith's case is a classic example of the old chestnut that politics makes for strange bed fellows. Lou's running mate in last year's mayoral election, C. John Bechtold, voted against him.

Interparty strife which had raged in the background is now out in the open and primaries are on tap for both wards. Schantz will go against Brandon Alexander, Smith against Burton Davis.

Schantz changed his mind about a primary for a number of reasons, mainly because he figures the winner of the Republican primary should get elected. Things have changed in that ward in the past week. Tom Hines, the Democratic nominee has pulled out of the race, reportedly because he plans to move out of the ward in the immediate future. The Dems are now casting about for a candidate but time is running out. Nominating petitions have to be filed by the 14th. The same thing happened over in the Fifth Ward when Joe Saccoman bailed out. Fortunately (for the Democrats) Jack Finch came forward and from everything we hear, he's considered a fine candidate and is given a good chance of winning especially with a Republican primary going full blast in the ward.

Getting into another political arena, it looks like Ham's the man in the 28th District this year. Fish has it made and everyone knows it but even if he had a real candidate against him he'd be tough. Witness the sticker on Ham's campaign car which declares he likes milk. A pretty safe position. We don't doubt that Ham also likes kids, apple pie and Mom and is kind to animals.

Tuesday's Council meeting was one of the shortest we've attended mainly because most of the aldermen wanted to get home to watch the Archbishop Cooke documentary on television. John Machione managed to stretch the meeting another 15 minutes with a question and answer session with Bob Gallo concerning the city's dispute with the firemen over salaries. At times John can be confusing but he was at his bewildering best Tuesday. He even had Gallo confused and that's the first time we've seen that. The conversation went something like this: Machione: Mr. President (Gallo), the Common Council should investigate this whole thing. Gallo: Are you making a motion that the Council be appointed as a committee to investigate this issue? Machione: No. But it should be investigated by the Council.

Finally, Ray Garraghan is a much happier fellow around city hall since his son, Abel, returned from the hospital after surgery on his back. According to Ray, Abel was struck by a car as a youth and at the time it was thought he had suffered only minor bruises. The accident evidently resulted in back injuries and Abel had a disc removed last week in Albany.

Editor, The Freeman:

Tuesday, May 7th, the people of the Rondout Valley School District decided to prove that the many should rule the few and not the few the many. We saw it happen. The high school gymnasium was packed, the cafeteria was packed and the hallways were filled. The police and fire departments were there, and the press and the radio. The old American spirit was riding high and the people won their right to vote.

We can learn much from this expression of determination by the people. Instead of saying "What can we do?" or "What good will it do?", we can get out and vote and insure majority rule.

On May 7th the people used the most powerful weapon in these United States—their vote. # Nixon, Rockefeller Lead 3 Democratic Candidates in Latest 'Test Election'

PRINCETON, N. J., May 11 — Both Richard Nixon and Gov. Nelson Rockefeller lead the top three Democratic Presidential candidates—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, Sen. Robert Kennedy and Sen. Eugene McCarthy—in the latest nationwide test elections.

These findings are based on a national survey of registered voters completed just prior to last Tuesday's Indiana primary and following Rockefeller's entry into the race.

Of the two rival Republicans tested, Governor Rockefeller makes the better showing.

On the Democratic side, McCarthy and Humphrey show about equal strength against their GOP rivals and make a better run than Senator Kennedy. It should be borne in mind, however, that interviewing was completed before Kennedy's victory in Indiana.

Today's findings are based on a survey conducted between May 4 and 8 in which 1139 registered voters were interviewed in person in over 300 localities across the nation. The question asked for the 6 "test elections."

Suppose the Presidential election were being held today. If (Richard Nixon/Nelson Rockefeller) were the Republican candidate and Hubert Humphrey/Robert Kennedy/Eugene McCarthy) were the Democratic candidate and George Wallace of Alabama were the candidate of a third party, which one would you like to see win?

Wallace Vote Is Growing
Wallace's support in the 6 trial heats ranges from 14 per cent to 18 per cent and averages 16 per cent. This represents a definite gain for Wallace since the previous survey in April.

Wallace wins a greater share of the vote in trial heats against Gov. Rockefeller than against Richard Nixon. As a matter of fact, the 18 per cent who chose Wallace in preference to Rockefeller or Senator Kennedy is the highest vote obtained by Wallace in any trial heat to date.

Humphrey Has Gained on Nixon
Vice President Humphrey has gained on Nixon since the early April survey—conducted before Humphrey's entry into the race—and now trails by only 3 percentage points.

Governor Rockefeller, on the other hand, currently enjoys a 7-point lead over Humphrey in the first test of the relative strength of the two men since Rockefeller entered the race.

What makes a Pontiac a Pontiac?

(And what makes ordinary cars ordinary?)

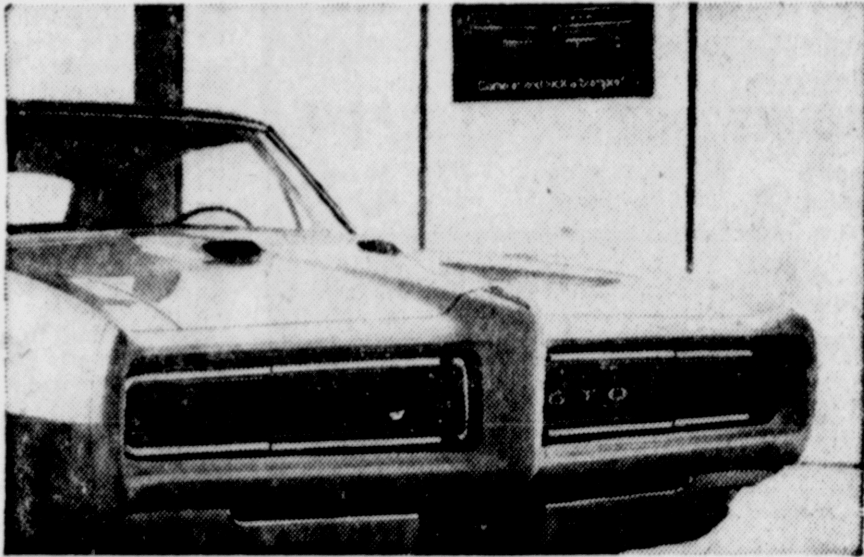

Only Pontiacs have Wide-Track. Drive a Pontiac and you'll wonder who took all the bumps and curves out of the road.

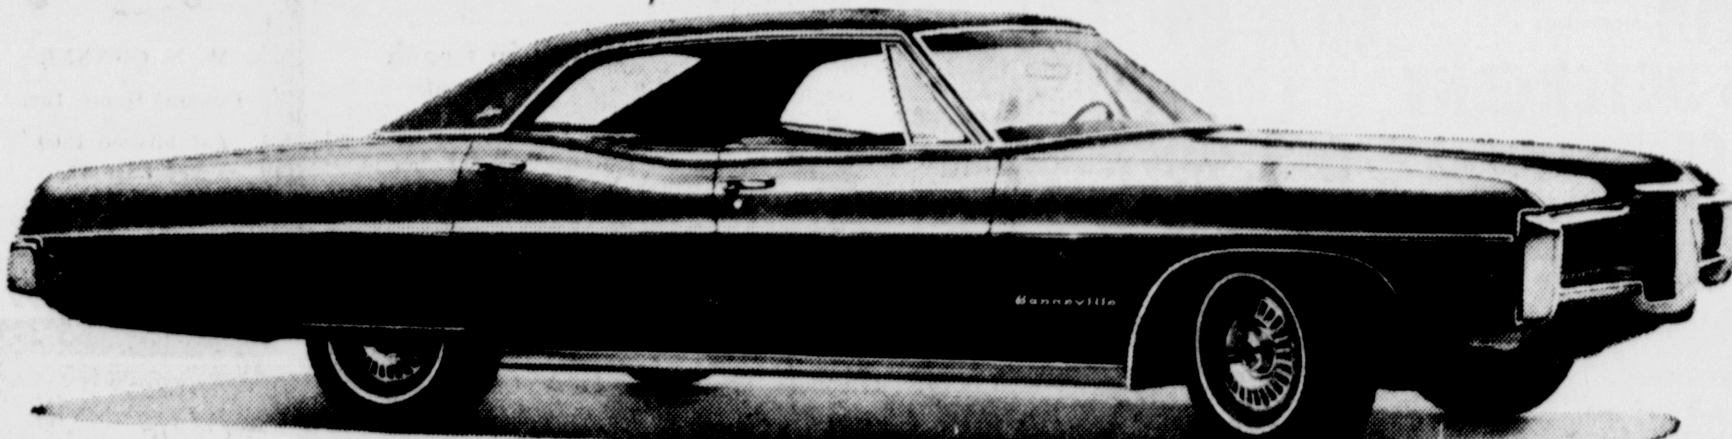

Even our lowest priced Pontiac has a unique 175-hp Overhead Cam Six. Unless you count cylinders, you'll swear it's a V-8.

Pontiac interiors make you glad you left home—soft Morrokide and simulated wood trim so real only a termite can tell it isn't.

Steel Consumers Anticipate Strike

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Consumers, anticipating a strike by the estimated 1968 total domestic steel mills, are building up "tremendous" stocks of steel, Steel Magazine reported today.

Steel estimated as much as 36 million tons of steel could be in inventories by the end of July if an early labor contract is not reached.

Such an inventory would represent a record consumer stock pile of 30 million tons, a gain of about seven million tons during the year.

The push for mill deliveries against orders on books is now on, the metalworking weekly added. It predicted tonnage movement will peak in July as consumers build inventories against a possible strike.

Some mills were reported to be shipping at capacity, contributing to a transportation squeeze. The magazine predicted the transportation shortage would become more intense as shipments increase.

Steelmaking operations were continuing at a near-record pace as steel estimated output for the week ended May 11 at 2.9 million tons, unchanged from the preceding week. Cold-rolled sheets, galvanized sheets, electrical sheets, wide plates, carbon and alloy and bars and tin plate were in strongest demand.

Prices on steelmaking scrap continued downward. Steel's composite on No. 1 heavy melting grade of scrap fell 34 cents to $25.33 a gross ton last week.

Funeral will be held from the Frank H. Simpson Funeral Home, 411 Albany Avenue Tuesday at 9:30 a. m. thence to St. Peter's Church where at 10 a. m. a high Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home today from 7-9 p. m.

Rocky Asks Workmen's Pay Hike to $70

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller asked the legislature today to raise the maximum weekly benefits under Workmen's Compensation from $60 to $70.

Following through on a pledge he made in January, the governor called for the increase and said:

"The protection afforded by Workmen's Compensation benefits has not kept pace with the increase in wages and cost of living since the present maximum established in 1965."

In a flurry of late-session activity, the governor also sent the lawmakers proposals to improve the plight of the unemployed and better the economic condition of migrant workers.

Most of the subjects covered by the sheaf of bills sent up by the governor today were matters upon which he promised action in his annual state of the state message.

It would raise h aYANUNUNUN etaoineootatoin TAOIN TAO NN of insuranc to employers by and estimated $17.8 million—about 5.9 per cent over the total cost of $300 million in 1967, the governor said in a memorandum.

Besides raising the general ceiling on benefits to $70, the bill would boost the maximum weekly benefit for those suffering temporary total disability to $85. It would also raise the minimum weekly benefit from $20 to $30.

Youth Diabetes Speaker's Topic

"Problems of the Juvenile Diabetic" was the topic of the guest speaker, Dr. Abraham H. Kantrow, when the second annual dinner meeting of Ulster Chapter, New York Diabetes Association was held on Wednesday evening at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Other guests representing NYDA were Dr. Paul S. Entmacher, chairman of chapter coordinating committees and Alfred C. Nichols, executive director.

Dr. Entmacher has appeared before the local chapter previously as guest speaker, his topic was "Insurance for Diabetics." Concerning NYDA's functions Dr. Entmacher stated three main areas: contact with practitioners, providing clinical society physicians for chapter meetings and getting to know the diabetics and their families and the communities in general.

Nichols commented upon the chapter's progress through the year, and considered the most outstanding to be the memorial scholarship fund for Camp NYDA and the participation of the chapter in the various diabetes detection drives.

Ulster Chapter Physician-Advisor, Dr. Norman N. Burg commented on the more accurate Ampette method of blood testing accomplished by Ulster Chapter during the detection drives and the splendid response received by the general public.

The guest speaker, Dr. Kantrow, was introduced by Robert Begley, past and newly elected chairman. Dr. Kantrow is a past president of NYDA, past chairman of NYDA Clinical Society, Assistant Attending Pediatrician for Metabolism, Flushing Hospital; staff pediatrician, Long Island Jewish Hospital; assistant attending Pediatrician, North Shore Hospital, Long Island. Dr. Kantrow spoke of medical problems, adjustment problems and social problems.

Mrs. Anita Ostrander, chapter chairman and as Chairman of the Nominating Committee presented the slate of officers for 1968-69. Elected to serve: chairman, Robert Begley; vice-chairman, Titus B. Simms; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Mary Paige; recording secretary, Mrs. Dorothea Blume; treasurer, Mrs. Hilda Davis. Additional members of the executive board and serving as committee chairmen are: detection, Mrs. Hilda Brett; hospitality, Mrs. Ruth Kuhns; newsletter, Mrs. Kay Begley publicity, Mrs. Evelyn Burger; telephone, Mrs. Jerry Marchetti.

King's Estate Less Than 5Gs

CHICAGO (UPI) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. left an estate of less than $5,000 in cash, according to his lawyer.

Chauncey Eskridge, a Chicago attorney who handled legal affairs for King and the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, said Sunday he will open two estates for probate this week to protect royalties from King's works.

"He (King) had two accounts with less than $5,000 in both," Eskridge said. "I'm going to open his estate in Georgia this week. I'm also opening an ancillary estate in New York with both estates for book royalties."

King gave the $50,000 Nobel Prize money to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the Student non-violent Coordinating Committee and the SCLC, Eskridge said. Book royalties were also donated to poverty work.

King accepted expenses but no salary from the SCLC and the family home in Atlanta, Ga., was almost paid for.

"Mrs. King and the family will be taken care of by the SCLC and the Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Foundation," Eskridge said. "She has also been voted a salary of $12,000 by the SCLC board, but I don't know if she has accepted it or not."

Many Tourists Participate

Junkets Make Gambling Major Enterprise

BY EUGENE J. BROWN

DANBURY, Conn. (AP) — Gambling is an evil, thousands of North American tourists are willing to jet several thousand miles across the water to meet that evil head on among the Caribbean islands.

The gambling fraternity does have the choice of flying to Las Vegas, Nev., where you don't need an up-to-date smallpox vaccination but where you do meet the ever present Internal Revenue Service agents who may sidle up to you in the midst of a winning streak and whisper in your ear: "Don't forget to declare your winnings on your Form 1040."

And if you lose, what glamour is there losing in just another of the 50 states when you could say: "They took me in Curacao; they busted me in Antigua; look at my tropical tan."

But without junkets gambling would be a minor enterprise. Briefly the junket is a chartered plane or a group of tourists who pay $500 and get everything else free including the free chips.

Successful System

A junket requires a junketeer or an agent, or a tourguide as he may be called. Its job is to develop tours from his particular city for a particular Las Vegas casino. So successful is this system that the plane traffic at Las Vegas looks like Kennedy Airport.

The small islands of the Caribbean, short of income to meet the needs of their poverty-stricken population, have not been blind to the "Vegas junket syndrome."

With their tropical beaches, low-salaried help and cooperative governments, the gambling syndicates have set up shop on the islands by simply taking over the junket format.

In a manner these gambling junkets have an "almost-free" hooker attached. For instance, if a person wanted to go to Antigua or practically any other island in the Caribbean for the purpose of trying his luck against the casino odds, his fare plus four or five days at a luxurious hotel including most of the extras would be $500. He could make his wife along too (and

And in addition he would receive $500 free in nonnegotiable gambling chips. The term "nonnegotiable" designates the chips that are to be used for gambling only and can't be cashed immediately upon arrival at your destination. These special chips are

"seed" to start your streak of luck. It would be indeed a rare bird who failed to succumb to the gaming tables when he or she is sure that he can win on his free chips. So sure is the house that you will gamble and lose, that if you show a sincere desire to play the games, they will even give you the cash for your free chips. All you've got to do is play a little and pray a lot. Like Eating Peanuts Gambling with free "junket" chips is much the same as eating peanuts. Whoever stopped at one peanut? There is obviously something wrong with the logic of those who go on a gambling junket. For the casino to give you $500 of free chips which reimburses you for the $500 junket expenses, they must expect you to lose. To break even the house must figure on your losing your

Contributions Coming Strong For Dr. King

BY KATHRYN JOHNSON

ATLANTA (AP) — Since the death of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., contributions have poured into Atlanta for the erection of a suitable memorial to the civil rights leader. But his widow suggests that perhaps the best memorial would not be of brick and stone and mortar.

"He'd rather have slums cleared in his memory," Mrs. King says.

"We are still considering what should be done," said Mrs. King. "Nothing has been decided yet."

The money for a memorial to King has come in many different ways.

Foundations have pledged large amounts. Churches have sent their Sunday collections. Pledges have come from individuals as well as businesses.

One woman wearing a scarf against the rain walked into the Southern Christian Leadership Conference offices recently. She carried a small envelope. Printed on it was: Lizzie Chapel Baptist church. And written in script, "$21.60, Martin Luther King Jr. Memorial."

A secretary gave her a receipt.

Small Amounts

About $10,000 in small amounts has come in the thousands of letters delivered to the King home since his assassination in Memphis, Tenn., April 4.

"There's no way to figure all the amounts pledged for memorials thus far," an SCLC official said. "All the memorial funds we get, or Mrs. King receives, are being deposited in a separate account." He declined comment on the total amount received to date.

The Rev. Andrew Young, executive vice president of SCLC and a close family friend of the Kings, said he has been thinking about some type of center for studies—rather like a center for continuing education, dealing with the issues of peace, race and poverty.

"The science of racial integration has to emerge," he said in an interview with The Associated Press. "Everything has been pretty much hit or miss, scattergun tactics, as opposed to studied, rational scientific methods of accomplishing objectives."

"We haven't really begun to get into race as a scientific study. I think I can see a whole area for people being trained. Every city is looking for somebody trained in race relations. They usually end up getting somebody because he's a Negro. The truth is that most of them become damned ineffective, an establishment mascot."

Young spoke of religion being at the heart of King's philosophy. "I would like to see a chapel in the center of a 'world action center,' where we can deal with a revolution in values, non-violent.

Morehouse College in Atlanta, King's alma mater, plans a $2-million Martin Luther King Jr. Memorial Chapel. It will serve as a religious center for students as well as a memorial.

Dr. Hugh M. Gloster, Morehouse president, said a special memorial scholarship fund has been set up to provide financial assistance for talented students handicapped by poverty.

In addition, he said grants of $100,000 from the Field Foundation and $50,000 from philanthropist Charles Merrill have been received for antipoverty programs to be conducted by Morehouse teachers and students.

Mrs. King enthusiastically approved a fellowship fund for returning Negro veterans given by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation.

Foundation Grant

The Rockefeller Foundation has granted $200,000 to the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation as seed money to finance fellowships for Negro veterans of outstanding promise to enter graduate or professional schools.

Peter Fuller, a Boston businessman and sportsman, flew to Atlanta in April to turn over $62,000 won by his horse, Dancer's Image, in the Bowie Governor's Gold Cup Race in Baltimore. The horse later won the Kentucky Derby but was disqualified when a pain-killing drug was detected in his system.

The $62,000 was turned over to the American Foundation on Nonviolence, organized in New York largely to aid nonviolence, Young said.

In New York State, 50 Negro churches pledged $500 each and Central Presbyterian, in Rochester, which is predominantly white, contributed its Easter offering of more than $1,000.

In Rochester, too, Eastman Kodak Co. pledged $150,000 to the Community Chest's Martin Luther King Jr. Memorial Fund to build innercity housing, raising the total pledge to $315,825.

At Colgate Rochester Divinity School, 14 Negro students began a campaign to raise $800,000 to establish a Martin Luther King Chair for Negro Church Studies.

Sparkle Plenty

NEW YORK (AP) — American women apparently are far more concerned with the luster and sparkle of their home appliances and furniture than with the glitter of their diamonds and gold jewelry.

A nationwide survey by Bulova Watch researchers disclosed that less than 2 per cent of them regularly clean their own jewelry at home. By comparison, nearly 80 per cent of all homemakers are said to use household cleaners and polishes on a frequent, regular schedule.

To remedy the situation, the watch firm has introduced a non-toxic, non-flammable home jewelry cleaner that easily removes the microscopic film of oil that discolors frequently worn jewelry and dulls the brilliance of fine gems. A dip in the liquid, a rinse under tap water and a quick rub with a clean cloth restores luster that can't be attained by cleaning with soap and water or ammonia, company chemists say.

Many Tourists Participate

Junkets Make Gambling Major Enterprise

BY EUGENE J. BROWN

DANBURY, Conn. (AP) — Gambling is an evil, thousands of North American tourists are willing to jet several thousand miles across the water to meet that evil head on among the Caribbean islands.

The gambling fraternity does have the choice of flying to Las Vegas, Nev., where you don't need an up-to-date smallpox vaccination but where you do meet the ever present Internal Revenue Service agents who may sidle up to you in the midst of a winning streak and whisper in your ear: "Don't forget to declare your winnings on your Form 1040."

And if you lose, what glamor is there losing in just another of the 50 states when you could say: "They took me in Curacao; they busted me in Antigua; look at my tropical tan."

But without junkets gambling would be a minor enterprise. Briefly the junket is a chartered plane or a group of tourists who pay $300 and get everything else free including the free chips.

Successful System

A junket requires a junketeer or an agent, or a tour guide as he may be called. Its job is to develop tours from his particular city for a particular Las Vegas casino. So successful is this system that the plane traffic at Las Vegas looks like Kennedy Airport.

The small islands of the Caribbean, short of income to meet the needs of their poverty-stricken population, have not been blind to the "Vegas junket syndrome."

With their tropical beaches, low-salaried help and cooperative governments, the gambling syndicates have set up shop on the islands by simply taking over the junket format.

igua or practically any other is- And in addition he would receive $500 free in nonnegotiable chips for trying his luck against the casino odds, his fare plus four or five days at a luxurious hotel including most of the extras would be $500. He could take his wife along too (and many do) for only $25 extra.

These special chips are "seed" to start your streak of luck. It would be indeed a rare bird who failed to succumb to the gaming tables when he or she is sure that he can win on his free chips. So sure is the house that you will gamble and lose, that if you show a sincere desire to play the games, they will even give you the cash for something wrong with the logic of those who go on a gambling junket. For the casino to give you $500 of free chips which reimburse you for the $500 junket expenses, they must expect you to lose. To break even the house must figure on your losing your

Like Eating Peanuts
Gambling with free "junket" chips is much the same as eating peanuts. Whoever stopped at one peanut? There is obviously $500 free chip money plus an average of $500 in hard cash. Thus the average player is out his $500 tour expense plus $500 in cash.

The favorite casino gambling games seem to be of the standard American variety: blackjack or 21, roulette and dice.

Contributions Coming Strong For Dr. King

BY KATHRYN JOHNSON

ATLANTA (AP) — Since the death of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., contributions have poured into Atlanta for the erection of a suitable memorial to the civil rights leader. But his widow suggests that perhaps the best memorial would not be of brick and stone and mortar.

"He'd rather have slums cleared in his memory," Mrs. King says.

"We are still considering what should be done," said Mrs. King. "Nothing has been decided yet."

The money for a memorial to King has come in many different ways.

One woman wearing a scarf against the rain walked into the Southern Christian Leadership Conference offices recently. She carried a small envelope. Printed on it was: Lizzie Chapel Baptist church. And written in script, "$21.60, Martin Luther King Jr. Memorial."

A secretary gave her a receipt.

Small Amounts

About $10,000 in small amounts has come in the thousands of letters delivered to the King home since his assassination in Memphis, Tenn., April 4.

"There's no way to figure all the amounts pledged for memorials thus far," an SCLC official said. "All the memorial funds we get, or Mrs. King receives, are being deposited in a separate account." He declined comment on the total amount received to date.

The Rev. Andrew Young, executive vice president of SCLC and a close family friend of the Kings, said he has been thinking about some type of center for studies—rather like a center for continuing education, dealing with the issues of peace, race and poverty.

"The science of racial integration has to emerge," he said in an interview with The Associated Press. "Everything has been pretty much hit or miss, scattergun tactics, as opposed to studied, rational scientific methods of accomplishing objectives."

"We haven't really begun to get into race as a scientific study. I think I can see a whole area for people being trained. Every city is looking for somebody trained in race relations. They usually end up getting somebody because he's a Negro. The truth is that most of them become damned ineffective, an establishment mascot."

Young spoke of religion being at the heart of King's philosophy. "I would like to see a chapel in the center of a 'world action center,' where we can deal with a revolution in values, non-violent.

Morehouse College in Atlanta, King's alma mater, plans a $2-million Martin Luther King Jr. Memorial Chapel. It will serve as a religious center for students as well as a memorial.

Dr. Hugh M. Gloster, Morehouse president, said a special memorial scholarship fund has been set up to provide financial assistance for talented students handicapped by poverty.

In addition, he said grants of $100,000 from the Field Foundation and $50,000 from philanthropist Charles Merrill have been received for antipoverty programs to be conducted by Morehouse teachers and students.

Mrs. King enthusiastically approved a fellowship fund for returning Negro veterans given by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation.

Foundation Grant

The Rockefeller Foundation has granted $200,000 to the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation as seed money to finance fellowships for Negro veterans of outstanding promise to enter graduate or professional schools.

Peter Fuller, a Boston businessman and sportsman, flew to Atlanta in April to turn over $62,000 won by his horse, Dancer's Image, in the Bowie Governor's Gold Cup Race in Baltimore. The horse later won the Kentucky Derby but was disqualified when a pain-killing drug was detected in his system.

The $62,000 was turned over to the American Foundation on Nonviolence, organized in New York largely to aid nonviolence, Young said.

In New York State, 50 Negro churches pledged $500 each and Central Presbyterian, in Rochester, which is predominantly white, contributed its Easter offering of more than $1,000.

In Rochester, too, Eastman Kodak Co. pledged $150,000 to the Community Chest's Martin Luther King Jr. Memorial Fund to build inner-city housing, raising the total pledge to $315,825.

At Colgate Rochester Divinity School, 14 Negro students began a campaign to raise $800,000 to establish a Martin Luther King Chair for Negro Church Studies.

Sparkle Plenty

NEW YORK (AP) — American women apparently are far more concerned with the luster and sparkle of their home appliances and furniture than with the glitter of their diamonds and gold jewelry.

A nationwide survey by Bulova Watch researchers disclosed that less than 2 per cent of them regularly clean their own jewelry at home. By comparison, nearly 80 per cent of all homemakers are said to use household cleaners and polishes on a frequent, regular schedule.

To remedy the situation, the watch firm has introduced a non-toxic, non-flammable home jewelry cleaner that easily removes the microscopic film of oil that discolors frequently worn jewelry and dulls the brilliance of fine gems. A dip in the liquid, a rinse under tap water and a quick rub with a clean cloth restores luster that can't be attained by cleaning with soap and water or ammonia, company chemists say.

SUNY Representative Due at UCCC

Dr. Kenneth T. Doran, Associate University Dean for Two-Year Colleges in the State University, will represent the University's Central Administration Saturday, May 18, at the Inauguration of Dr. George B. Erbstein as President of Ulster County Community College. The Inauguration will be held outdoors at 3 p.m. on the plaza in front of the Macdonald De Witt Library at the College's Stone Ridge campus. The public is invited.

Dr. Doran will be a member of the platform party at the Inauguration and will bring greetings from the State University's Central Administration in Albany.

Dr. Doran joined the State University as Associate Executive Dean for Two-Year Colleges in September, 1961, after eight years as Associate in Higher Education with the New York State Education Department. He was named Associate University Dean for Two-Year Colleges in October, 1966.

His experience includes three years as a high school business teacher in Roscoe, New York, and a year as research Associate and curriculum specialist at the Institute Curriculum Research staff of the New York State Education Department.

He also was an instructor in the Retail Business Management Division of Mohawk Valley Community College for six years, and spent three years as a visiting lecturer in education at the School of Graduate Studies, State University at Albany.

Dr. Doran received a BS degree from the State University of New York at Albany, and MS and EdD degrees from Syracuse University.

His doctoral dissertation was entitled: New York New Yorkers, and the Two-Year College Movement: A History of Debate Over Structure in Higher Education.

He is the author and co-author of a number of journal articles on the two-year college, and currently is president of the State University at Albany Alumni Association.

Teens Assist As Hospital Candy Strippers

Miss Emilie Schultz, director of the Candy Strippers at Northern Dutchess Hospital, has announced plans for starting a new class for the teenage volunteers this month.

"Any girl who will be 15 by Jan. 1, 1969 is eligible," Miss Schultz said. "We will have our first meeting 10 a. m., Saturday, May 18 in the board room of the hospital."

Miss Schultz said that any interested girl should contact her at her home in Rhinecliff, and she will send the interested party an application form.

"As far as we know now Charles Decker, director of nursing, will conduct the classes this year," she said.

Classes are tentatively scheduled to start the first week following the close of school for summer vacation.

Volkswagen's automatic stick shift.
It's easier to use than it is to say.

It's quite a mouthful, isn't it?
But once you get by the name, the rest is easy.
There isn't a clutch pedal to contend with.
And for all practical purposes, you can drive everywhere without shifting.
On the highway, you shift once. (This is like an overdrive: you go faster, your engine goes slower, and your automatic bug won't turn into an automatic hog.)

And when the going gets rough (like up a ridiculously steep hill), you can shift into low.
What could be simpler?
One thing: the automatic stick shift is an option. So you'll have to pay a little more.
But compared to other automatics, it's a bargain. Because with every automatic stick shift, we include a remarkable money-saving device:
A Volkswagen.

SUNY Representative Due at UCCC

Dr. Kenneth T. Doran, Associate University Dean for Two-Year Colleges in the State University, will represent the University's Central Administration Saturday, May 18, at the Inauguration of Dr. George B. Erbstein as President of Ulster County Community College. The Inauguration will be held outdoors at 3 p.m. on the plaza in front of the Macdonald DeWitt Library at the College's Stone Ridge campus. The public is invited.

Dr. Doran will be a member of the platform party at the Inauguration and will bring greetings from the State University's Central Administration in Albany.

Dr. Doran joined the State University as Associate Executive Dean for Two-Year Colleges in September, 1961, after eight years as Associate in Higher Education with the New York State Education Department. He was named Associate University Dean for Two-Year Colleges in October, 1966.

His experience includes three years as a high school business teacher in Roscoe, New York, and a year as research Associate and curriculum specialist at the Institute Curriculum Research staff of the New York State Education Department.

He also was an instructor in the Retail Business Management Division of Mohawk Valley Community College for six years, and spent three years as a visiting lecturer in education at the School of Graduate Studies, State University at Albany.

Dr. Doran received a BS degree from the State University of New York at Albany, and MS and EdD degrees from Syracuse University.

His doctoral dissertation was entitled: New York, New Yorkers, and the Two-Year College Movement: A History of Debate Over Structure in Higher Education.

He is the author and co-author of a number of journal articles on the two-year college, and currently is president of the State University at Albany Alumni Association.

Teens Assist As Hospital Candy Stripers

Miss Emilie Schultz, director of the Candy Stripers at Northern Dutchess Hospital, has announced plans for starting a new class for the teenage volunteers this month.

"Any girl who will be 15 by Jan. 1, 1969 is eligible," Miss Schultz said. "We will have our first meeting 10 a. m., Saturday, May 18 in the board room of the hospital."

Miss Schultz said that any interested girl should contact her at her home in Rhinecliff, and she will send the interested party an application form.

"As far as we know now Charles Decker, director of nursing, will conduct the classes this year," she said.

Vote-Casting

Arnulfo Arias Madrid, 67, presidential candidate of the opposition Union National Coalition, casts his vote in the Panamanian presidential elections in Panama City Sunday as enthusiastic citizens look on. An estimated 300,000 Panamanians went to the polls under the supervision of national guardsmen who were on hand to prevent outbreaks of the violence that has marked the campaign. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Commission to Meet Today, To Discuss Proposed Tourway

Discussions will be held here today between staff members of the Hudson River Valley Commission and county and local officials of Ulster County on the commission's proposed, 1,000-mile Hudson River Tourway.

Similar meetings are being held with officials in the 15 counties bordering the Hudson concerning their part in the network of existing roads that will connect significant cultural, historical, scenic and recreational resources of the valley.

Alexander Aldrich, executive director of the commission, said the series of meetings would be completed by the end of the month. Today's Ulster meeting is being held at the county office building in Kingston and begins at 4 p. m. It is the seventh in the series.

"All the preliminary work by the commission's staff has been completed," said Aldrich, "including compilation of the resources lists and proposed designations of the existing federal and state highway network that make up the main part of the tourway. A few county roads also are included in the proposed network."

Construction of no new roads is involved in the tourway program Aldrich emphasized.

The focus of the tourway will be on the River itself. It will start from the Tappan Zee Bridge and move north along both Hudson banks and in a series of loops, each averaging 50 miles in length and extending inland by as much as 20 miles to bring in scenic areas such as the Catskills.

Each tourway loop from the river itself would be a one-day trip of about four hours driving time. The entire 1,000-mile tourway network would be covered in one week, again allowing four hours of driving time per day.

About 250 cultural, historic and recreational attractions are along the proposed routes, of which 150 already are major tourist attractions, Aldrich said. "There also are 18 state parks along the routes. The purposes of the Tourway are tied in closely with these attractions."

"First, to encourage tourism still further in areas already developed and to give unity to the valley's many attractions.

Second, to help develop tourism, in the right way, in communities where it could be economically beneficial.

"Third, to develop local programs of preserving and enhancing the environmental quality of the Hudson Valley for visitors and residents alike."

Tourway routes that are being proposed were selected, Aldrich said, for existing scenic qualities or potential for development into truly scenic routes. "The meetings with local governments are designed to describe the tourway program, enlist the advice and support of these localities on the routes and resources designated as part of the tourway, and acquaint them with the responsibilities involved in participating in this regional program."

Commission to Meet Today, To Discuss Proposed Tourway

Discussions will be held here today between staff members of the Hudson River Valley Commission and county and local officials of Ulster County on the commission's proposed, 1,000-mile Hudson River Tourway.

Similar meetings are being held with officials in the 15 counties bordering the Hudson concerning their part in the network of existing roads that will connect significant cultural, historical, scenic and recreational resources of the valley.

Alexander Aldrich, executive director of the commission, said the series of meetings would be completed by the end of the month. Today's Ulster meeting is being held at the county office building in Kingston and begins at 4 p. m. It is the seventh in the series.

High Mortgage Rates Are Causing Trouble

BY JOHN CUNIFF
NEW YORK (AP) — Rising mortgage rates not only are bringing fundamental changes in the present housing market but are bound to cause repercussions in family finances for 10, 20 or 30 years into the future.

Evidence of trouble in the mortgage markets is provided by the government's decision to raise the permissible interest rate to 6½ per cent on mortgages it backs, and in attempts by states to change usury laws so as to permit even higher rates.

So, unprecedented, and to some extent unforeseen, are today's rates that the standard books of tables for estimating mortgage payments literally must be rewritten, for most of them have no listings above 7 per cent.

Observable Difference
True, for some families a fraction of a per cent may not make an observable difference in their budgets, for example, the ¼ of a per cent rise in the ceiling on government-backed mortgages could result in these higher costs for a new, 20-year, $20,000 loan.

Monthly charge for interest and principal $152.08, compared with $143.29 under the previous ceiling; yearly charge $1,824.06, compared with $1,719.48; and 20 years, $36,499.0 against $34,389.60.

Those differences are small enough to predict that few families who could afford a mortgage at 6 per cent will be terribly burdened by paying another ¼ of one per cent.

But, the real danger is not in a single ¼ of one per cent rise so much as in the trend. If rates reach 8 per cent—and legislative changes in ceilings may permit this rate in some states—or 10 per cent, as foreseen by President Johnson without a tax increase, then the higher charges will be painful.

A homeowner who purchased his home less than three years ago might have acquired a government-backed mortgage of 5 per cent. Compare his charges with those for the person obtaining a government-backed mortgage now.

Monthly charges on the old mortgage will be $17.31 less. For a year the charges will be $1,617.24 or $207.72 less. And at the end of 20 years, the holder of the older mortgage will have paid $32,344.80, or $4,154.40 less than his 6½ per cent neighbor.

Not only are home purchasers now compelled to pay these high rates, but often they are locked into them for many years, even though mortgage costs could conceivably drop sometime in the future.

When a mortgage is booked, bankers explain, it is anticipated that it will remain at the same rate until satisfied.

In theory, mortgage lending institutions must do this in order to protect their investments, in order to have some assurance that the contract on which they spend money today can be depended upon to exist tomorrow.

Severe Burden
But, with today's extremely high rates, and the possibility that they may rise or fall sharply, a severe burden can be placed on both mortgage holders and mortgage lenders.

Because of this, some experimentation with variable rates is beginning to show up in mortgage markets.

One Eastern bank, for example, now grants mortgages stating that the interest rate shall not drop below 5 per cent nor rise more than one per cent above the prime interest rate, which is now 6.5 per cent.

Although variable rates have not gained much popularity in most of the nation, some bankers feel that they may be the answer to potentially volatile swings in lending costs.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (UPD) — Prices today opened slightly higher in active trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

Shortly after the opening bell, the United Press International stock market indicator had picked up 0.29 per cent with 468 issues crossing the tape. There were 20 advances and 130 declines.

Steels tended slightly higher. U. S. Steel opened ¼ at 39½. American Motors added ¼ to 12½. Coca Cola, which showed a good gain in the previous week on higher earnings, gained another point to 156½. Minnesota Mining also rose a point to 49½.

Pennzoil jumped to 149 in the oil. Du Pont gained ¼ to 158 in the chemicals. Fairchild Camera added ½ to 75½ in the electronics. Ling-Temco, which plans to buy Jones & Laughlin, gained 1½ to 19.

Three Hurt In Area Mishaps

Three persons were injured in traffic accidents that were investigated over the weekend by Kingston State Police.

Frank Lynch, 36, of Highland, was injured at 1:15 a. m. today when he swerved a tractor trailer he was driving on Route 32 near Saxton to avoid a deer that leaped in the path of the vehicle. Lynch told Troopers Thomas Crowley and Thomas Searles he was driving north about 3/10's of a mile north of Route 32A when the truck veered off the east shoulder and stopped in a ditch.

Lynch was taken to Kingston Hospital by Saugerties Ambulance and treated for back injuries, troopers said.

At 2 p. m. Sunday 18-year-old Joan Gilmore, of 14 Bennett Avenue, Saugerties, was injured when her car traveling south on Route 32 north of the Kingston Rhinecliff Bridge left the right shoulder of the highway and hit a tree head-on. She was taken to Kingston Hospital by Doctor's Ambulance and treated for lacerations of the arms and legs and other injuries.

Trooper R. O. Rieseberg investigated.

Three persons were injured Saturday night in a traffic accident which occurred on Route 9W at Ulster Park. They were taken to Kingston Hospital by Doctor's Ambulance. The injured were identified as Mrs. Audrey Harris, 32, and Karen Harris, 7, of Poughkeepsie, and Mrs. Francis Lees, 25, of Ulster Park. They sustained leg, head and other injuries. No details of the mishap were available today.

Q—I am 50 with a good income and could retire now on a comfortable pension. However, I do not contemplate this move for several years. We own free and clear our home, have $13,000 in the bank and $24,000 in savings bonds. It seems to me that I have not put my savings to the best use over the years. I would appreciate your advice. —J.C.

A—you have achieved at 50 a financial position that is the goal of most average Americans, yet you feel uneasy and there is good reason for concern.

You have one asset that is likely to rise in value to keep pace with the economy—your home. Other major assets, a bank account and bonds, are excellent but your capital and the income therefrom remain fixed. Each year you can buy less with each dollar you have put away. In order to protect yourself against dollar erosion, you would be wise to embark on an investment program.

Growth stocks whose price is determined by supply and demand, when held over a period of years, usually increase in value substantially. As a start I suggest that you buy equal amounts of three or four strong growth stocks using $10,000 of your savings. You might consider Gillette benefiting from consumer demand; Consolidated Foods expanding through acquisitions, or Eastman Kodak, just recently split.

Q—Can you tell me what the term "book value" means? How

Most of U.S. Gets Showers

By United Press International
Thundershowers which have triggered floods in Texas pounded much of the nation today. Snow fell in the southern Rockies.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said only the Northern Plains and portions of the Midwest escaped the widespread rains, which fell in 39 of the 48 contiguous states on Mother's day.

In early morning showers today, Fort Smith, Ark., reported nearly an inch of rain, and Meridian, Miss., reported .86 inches.

Drizzle and fog covered much of western and northern Texas, where tornadoes touched down early Sunday and streets were closed because of flood. At least 2 inches of snow covered Flagstaff, Ariz., Bryce Canyon, Utah, and Grand Canyon, Ariz., measured an inch of snow.

Predawn temperatures ranged from 32 at Sexton Summit, Ore., to 79 at McAllen and Brownsville, Tex.

At 3 a.m. EDT, it was 50 and cloudy at Boston; 65 and clear at Washington, D.C.; 70 and raining at Dallas; and 62 and clear at Phoenix, Ariz.

Sunday morning twisters struck southeast Texas, but did little damage.

Arrest Trio After Protest At Potsdam

POTSDAM, N.Y. (AP) — A three-hour-long protest by an estimated 500 persons — mostly college students — capped the arrests of three young men by police in this Northern New York village.

The arrests were made around midnight Saturday when, police said, an automobile with three occupants went down the main street the wrong way. The three were not students.

Spectators gathered as the trio was taken into custody. Most were from the Clark University branch here or Clarkson College of Technology, a private institution.

Don King, village police chief, told a reporter later a chemical spray was used "to keep the crowd away." King identified the product as "del - Defend" and said it is similar to Chemical Mace, although less potent.

Some students claimed, however, that Mace was sprayed at them, newsmen at the scene said.

The crowd then virtually tied up traffic on Market Street near the police station. Bottles were smashed on the street and some damage was reported to parking meters and traffic markers.

Administrators and student leaders at the two schools joined in urging demonstrators to disperse. The protest was ended at about 3:30 Sunday morning.

No other arrests were made and no one was reported injured.

BY JOHN CUNIFF
NEW YORK (AP) — Rising mortgage rates not only are bringing fundamental changes in the present housing market but are bound to cause repercussions in family finances for 10, 20 or 30 years into the future. Evidence of trouble in the mortgage markets is provided by the government's decision to raise the permissible interest rate to 6 1/2 per cent on mortgages it backs, and in attempts by states to change usury laws so as to permit even higher rates.

So, unprecedented, and to some extent unforeseen, are today's rates that the standard books of tables for estimating mortgage payments literally must be rewritten, for most of them have no listings above 7 per cent.

Observable Difference
True, for some families a fraction of a per cent may not make an observable difference in their budgets, for example, the 1/2 of a per cent rise in the ceiling on government-backed mortgages could result in these higher costs for a new, 20-year, $20,000 loan:

Monthly charge for interest and principal $152.08, compared with $143.29 under the previous ceiling; yearly charge $1,824.96, compared with $1,719.48; and 20 years, $36,499.0 against $34,389.60.

Those differences are small enough to predict that few families who could afford a mortgage at 6 per cent will be terribly burdened by paying another 1/2 of one per cent.

But, the real danger is not in a single 1/2 of one per cent rise so much as in the trend. If rates reach 8 per cent—and legislative changes in ceilings may permit this rate in some states—or 10 per cent, as foreseen by President Johnson without a tax increase, then the higher charges will be painful.

Rap Brown Faces New Orleans Trial

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Black power advocate H. Rap Brown goes on trial today on a charge that he carried a rifle across state lines while under indictment for arson in Maryland—a violation of the National Firearms Act.

Before the proceedings begin, U.S. District Judge Lansing Mitchell will hear pretrial motions from Brown's defense attorney and the Department of Justice.

The department has asked Judge Mitchell to read a transcript of secretly recorded conversations by Brown, rule the material irrelevant to the case

Most of U.S. Gets Showers

By United Press International
Thunderstorms which have triggered floods in Texas pounded much of the nation today. Snow fell in the southern Rockies.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said only the Northern Plains and portions of the Midwest escaped the widespread rains, which fell in 39 of the 48 contiguous states on Mother's day.

In early morning showers today, Fort Smith, Ark., reported nearly an inch of rain, and Meridian, Miss., reported .86 inches.

Drizzle and fog covered much of western and northern Texas, where tornadoes touched down early Sunday and streets were closed because of flood. At least 2 inches of snow covered Flagstaff, Ariz. Bryce Canyon, Utah, and Grand Canyon, Ariz., measured an inch of snow.

Predawn temperatures ranged from 32 at Sexton Summit, Ore., to 79 at McAllen and Brownsville, Tex.

At 3 a.m. EDT, it was 50 and cloudy at Boston; 65 and clear at Washington, D.C.; 70 and raining at Dallas; and 62 and clear at Phoenix, Ariz.

Sunday morning twisters struck southeast Texas, but did little damage.

A homeowner who purchased his home less than three years ago might have acquired a government-backed mortgage of 5 per cent. Compare his charges with those for the person obtaining a government-backed mortgage now.

Monthly charges on the old mortgage will be $17.31 less. For a year the charges will be $1,617.24 or $207.72 less. And at the end of 20 years, the holder of the older mortgage will have paid $32,344.60, or $4,154.40 less than his 6 1/2 per cent neighbor.

Not only are home purchasers now compelled to pay these high rates, but often they are locked into them for many years, even though mortgage costs could conceivably drop sometime in the future.

When a mortgage is booked, bankers explain, it is anticipated that it will remain at the same rate until satisfied.

In theory, mortgage lending institutions must do this in order to protect their investments, in order to have some assurance that the contract on which they spend money today can be depended upon to exist tomorrow.

Severe Burden
But, with today's extremely high rates, and the possibility that they may rise or fall sharply, a severe burden can be placed on both mortgage holders and mortgage lenders.

Because of this, some experimentation with variable rates is beginning to show up in mortgage markets.

One Eastern bank, for example, now grants mortgages stating that the interest rate shall not drop below 5 per cent nor rise more than one per cent above the prime interest rate, which is now 6.5 per cent.

Although variable rates have not gained much popularity in most of the nation, some bankers feel that they may be the answer to potentially volatile swings in lending costs.

and order it revealed. The move is intended to eliminate the possible taint of illegal wiretapping.

Defense Attorney William Kunstler requested in a counter-motion that the judge order the transcript open for inspection, dismiss the case, or postpone the trial until Brown's defense can plan further action.

However, the department said that no information gathered from the electronic eavesdropping pertains to its case against the Negro militant. They added that though the transcript was from FBI files, the surveillance was not done by the government.

Brown, 24, was jailed in New Orleans in March after FBI agents testified in Federal Court that he had violated travel restrictions of the firearms charge. He was recently released on bond.

Arrest Trio After Protest At Potsdam

POTSDAM, N.Y. (AP) — A three-hour-long protest by an estimated 500 persons — mostly college students — capped the arrests of three young men by police in this Northern New York village.

The arrests were made around midnight Saturday when, police said, an automobile with three occupants went down the main street the wrong way. The three were not students.

Spectators gathered as the trio was taken into custody. Most were from the State University branch here or Clarkson College of Technology, a private institution.

Don King, village police chief, told a reporter later a chemical spray was used "to keep the crowd away." King identified the product as "del - Defend" and said it is similar to Chemical Mace, although less potent.

Some students claimed, however, that Mace was sprayed at them, newsmen at the scene said.

The crowd then virtually tied up traffic on Market Street near the police station. Bottles were smashed on the street and some damage was reported to parking meters and traffic markers.

Administrators and student leaders at the two schools joined in urging demonstrators to disperse. The protest was ended at about 3:30 Sunday morning.

No other arrests were made and no one was reported injured.

Faces Charge

Charged with leaving the scene of an accident after a two-car collision at 8:30 p. m., Sunday, on Broadway near Foxhall Avenue, Dorothy A. Culum, of 54 Brewster Street, is scheduled to appear Tuesday before City Judge Hubert A. Richter.

The woman was booked by city police after the car she was driving was reportedly in collision with a vehicle operated by John A. Reynolds, 43, of 171 Horton Lane, Port Ewen, authorities said. No injuries were reported in the mishap.

BOSTON FIRE — Firefighter is threatened by flames as he descends ladder during blaze in Boston's Back Bay section early Sunday. One man is known dead in the wake of the fire which gutted a four-story apartment building. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Life, Death Matter

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Four doctors sharing joint consultation rooms lodged a complaint with the city council. They opposed an application by a funeral insurance firm in the same building to move from the second to the ground floor and erect an illuminated advertising sign.

"It is well known that patients, particularly in the lower income groups such as we are dealing with, are afraid of medical treatment. The effect of alter suburb of Clarkson funeral sign over doctors' consulting rooms can only have a further detrimental influence on them," said the doctors.

The council offered the funeral insurers alternative premises.

Fire Victim

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UPI) — Mrs. Francis Lees, 25, of Ulster County farm worker, died early Sunday when fire destroyed his house trailer in the Rochester suburb of Clarkson.

Three Hurt In Area Mishaps

Three persons were injured in traffic accidents that were investigated over the weekend by Kingston State Police.

Frank Lynch, 36, of Highland, was injured at 1:15 a. m. today when he swerved a tractor trailer he was driving on Route 32 near Saxton to avoid a deer that leaped in the path of the vehicle. Lynch told Troopers Thomas Crowley and Thomas Searles he was driving north about 3/10's of a mile north of Route 32A when the truck veered off the east shoulder and stopped in a ditch.

Lynch was taken to Kingston Hospital by Saugerties Ambulance and treated for back injuries, troopers said.

At 2 p. m., Sunday 18-year-old Joan Gilmore, of 14 Bennett Avenue, Saugerties, was injured when her car traveling south on Route 32 north of the Kingston Rhinecliff Bridge left the right shoulder of the highway and hit a tree head-on. She was taken to Benedictine Hospital by Doctor's Ambulance and treated for lacerations of the arms and legs and other injuries.

Trooper R. O. Rieseberg investigated.

Three persons were injured Saturday night in a traffic accident which occurred on Route 9W at Uister Park. They were taken to Kingston Hospital by Doctor's Ambulance. The injured were identified as Mrs. Audrey Harris, 32, and Karen Harris, 7, of Poughkeepsie, and Mrs. Francis Lees, 25, of Ulster County farm worker, died early Sunday when fire destroyed his house trailer in the Rochester suburb of Clarkson.

A—Book value — or net assets divided by the number of shares outstanding—has very little meaning for the average investor. More meaningful is the value placed on the stock by the market. For instance, Sharon Steel with a book value of about $60 trades in the mid-30s whereas Avon Products with a book value of $5.50 had traded all this year above 110. Factors such as earnings and future prospects are much more significant for a potential investor.

You have one asset that is likely to rise in value to keep pace with the economy—your home. Other major assets, a bank account and bonds, are excellent but your capital and the income therefrom remain fixed. Each year you can buy less with each dollar you have put away. In order to protect yourself against dollar erosion, you would be wise to embark on an investment program.

Growth stocks whose price is determined by supply and demand, when held over a period of years, usually increase in value substantially. As a start I suggest that you buy equal amounts of three or four strong growth stocks using $10,000 of your savings. You might consider Gillette benefiting from consumer demand; Consolidated Foods expanding through acquisitions, or Eastman Kodak, just recently sold.

Two Teenagers Nabbed After High-Speed Chase

By CHARLES BERMPOHL

A high speed stolen car chase starting in Saugerties and ending on the Rip Van Winkle Bridge almost an hour later, involved six law enforcement agencies and sent two area teenagers to the Ulster County jail on numerous charges including two counts of grand larceny in the third degree.

Arrested was James E. Armstrong, 17, of Rock Street, Kingston, and Steven A. Vaughn, 16, of Saugerties.

The chase involved the Ulster County Sheriff's Department, Kingston and Leeds State Police, and the Saugerties, Woodstock, and Catskill Village Police.

The fleeing pair were eventually caught by Ulster County Sheriff's deputies John Pavlak and Charles Daley, and Leeds State Troopers G.E. Davis and E.E. Laplante.

According to deputy Pavlak, both he and deputy Daley were on their regular weekend patrol in the Saugerties area when they received a stolen car alert at 2:20 a. m. Sunday.

A 1959 Chrysler convertible belonging to Charles Grosso of the Cloverleaf Motel was reported missing.

Shortly after the sheriff's men got the report they spotted the stolen car traveling south on the Mt. Marion Road.

The stolen car was pursued to Glasco Turnpike where it made a north turn down Ricks Road to Route 212.

By this time, Woodstock Village Police had been alerted via two-way radio communications, and a roadblock was set up in front of the Woodstock Garden Center on 212.

The fleeing convertible, traveling west on 212, made a turn on Blue Mt. Road and headed north.

With the sheriff's deputies not far behind the big Chrysler convertible roared off Blue Mt.

Road and north to Route 32.

Hitting speeds of over 80 miles an hour, with deputy Pavlak at the wheel and Daley on the radio, the Sheriff's Plymouth pursued the convertible over the Ulster County line to the Greene County Town of Cairo where the stolen car turned onto the Cairo By-Pass east on new Route 23.

The new highway is currently under construction, and the two automobiles roared between wooden barriers, state highway department trucks, cement mixers, and tractors, and piles of sand.

On the west side of the Village of Catskill, near Route 3W, the sheriff's men picked up a Leeds State Police car forming a partial roadblock at the end of the construction.

The stolen car swerved past the Leeds troopers and the state policemen took up the chase behind the sheriff's car.

The alleged car thieves faced a three way choice at this time. A left turn would have put them on the way towards Albany and a right meant Saugerties again.

The State Police had a block up outside of Catskill in the Albany direction, and another Ulster County Sheriff's car formed a roadblock at the Cementon underpass.

The pair decided to drive straight ahead towards the Rip Van Winkle Bridge.

Women Volunteers Aid Precinct Stations in City

By MALCOLM STEPHENSON

The men in blue seem to like having the women around. Said Sgt. Stanley Brodowicz of the 23rd Precinct:

"Most of them are bilingual. Many of our customers speak only Spanish and the women can translate for us. Besides, they know the community inside and out."

Will Be Paid

Under a $167,800 Ford Foundation grant to the Police Department, announced Sunday, the volunteers in the 23rd Precinct will become paid workers at $2 an hour, and the program will be extended to two nearby precincts.

The program will be expanded to seven days a week, and the women receptionists will be assisted by three professional social workers. Other counselors will be on call 24 hours a day. The programs in a Bronx precinct and one in Queens will continue on a voluntary basis.

Patrolman James Curran of the department's Bureau of Community Relations said: "The program is in line with Police Commissioner Howard Leary's idea that the precinct station houses should be multiservice stations."

An incident at the 23rd Precinct station house at 6 p.m. on a weekend is an example of what the program is doing: A woman, with tears streaming down her cheeks and with two children in tow, came in and spoke to Sgt. Brodowicz, and he pointed to a small desk in the corner.

There sat Irma Medina, mother of six, president of the Parent-Teacher Association at a junior high school and a lifelong resident of the precinct.

The weeping woman had to report to a hospital at 10 a.m. the next day for emergency treatment and she had no place to leave her children, one of whom is mentally retarded.

Welfare offices were closed for the weekend and the women didn't know what to do.

"Sit down," said Mrs. Medina with a smile. She thumbed through a book of emergency phone numbers. After four phone calls, arrangements had been made for the children to stay at a city shelter, under supervision, until their mother was released from the hospital.

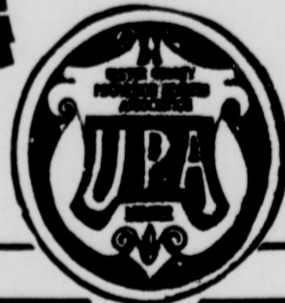

Josephine Garcia, arriving to relieve Mrs. Medina after her three-hour truck, told a newsman: "Seeing so much of everybody else's troubles makes mine seem very small."

A 1959 Chrysler convertible belonging to Charles Grosso of the Cloverleaf Motel was reported missing.
Shortly after the sheriff's men got the report they spotted the stolen car traveling south on the Mt. Marion Road.
The stolen car was pursued to Glasco Turnpike where it made a north turn down Ricks Road to Route 212.
By this time, Woodstock Village Police had been alerted via two-way radio communications, and a roadblock was set up in front of the Woodstock Garden Center on 212.
The fleeing convertible, traveling west on 212, made a turn on Blue Mt. Road and headed north.
With the sheriff's deputies not far behind the big Chrysler convertible roared off Blue Mt.

Road and north to Route 32. Hitting speeds of over 80 miles an hour, with deputy Pavlak at the wheel and Daley on the radio, the Sheriff's Plymouth pursued the convertible over the Ulster County line to the Greene County Town of Cairo where the stolen car turned onto the Cairo By-Pass east on new Route 23.
The new highway is currently under construction, and the two automobiles roared between wooden barriers, state highway department trucks, cement mixers, and tractors, and piles of sand.
On the west side of the Village of Catskill, near Route 3W, the sheriff's men picked up a Leeds State Police car forming a partial roadblock at the end of the construction.
The stolen car swerved past the Leeds troopers and the state policemen took up the chase behind the sheriff's car.
The alleged car thieves faced a three way choice at this time. A left turn would have put them on the way towards Albany and a right meant Saugerties again. The State Police had a block up outside of Catskill in the Albany direction, and another Ulster County Sheriff's car formed a roadblock at the Cementon underpass.
The pair decided to drive straight ahead towards the Rip Van Winkle Bridge.

The three cars whipped through the bridge toll booths and on the Hudson River span. The stolen car was weaving back and forth in an evasive tactic aimed at preventing the sheriff's men from getting in front of it.
Deputy Pavlak turned to the left then quickly to the right with the Chrysler's driver also turning to the right.
This action allowed the State Police car room to roar out into the left lane and passed the deputies and the convertible.
Boxed in by the two law enforcement vehicles, the stolen Chrysler was forced to come to a halt and the chase was over.
The time was 3:05 a. m.
The pair was brought before Town of Kingston Justice Robert Ferrigan at 5 a. m. and a request was made for a preliminary hearing.
Justice Ferrigan remanded the two to the Ulster County Jail in lieu of $500 bail apiece with the hearing set for Wednesday at 8 p. m.
The pair was charged with stealing another car, a 1964 Chevrolet reported stolen in front of Milady's Tavern early Sunday morning.
Other charges are, reckless driving, speeding, passing stop signs, failure to comply to a police order, and driving while license was revoked.

Fire Auxiliary Plans Food, Rummage Sale

Further plans for the annual rummage and food sale scheduled for July 6 at the firehouse in Lake Hill, were discussed at the monthly meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of Woodstock Fire Company 3.

A new feature of the sale this year will be the addition of a table containing hand-made articles, with Mrs. Howard Humphries in charge. It will be in addition to the usual selection of rummage and a home-baked food table.

Mrs. Henry P. Eighthme is general chairman and proceeds are designated for the support of Woodstock Fire Company 3, serving the areas of Willow, Lake Hill, and Shady.

Post cards soliciting membership renewals in the Ladies Auxiliary will shortly be mailed to women in the community, and active memberships are open to those who desire to affiliate with the organization dedicated to the advancement of fire protection in the communities.

Mrs. Eugene Howland and Mrs. Bruce Taylor were the refreshment committee.

Woodstock League of Women Voters at a dinner meeting at Deanie's Restaurant this week.

Head of the college's political science department, Lippman has long been interested in local government and is a recognized authority on charters and county government. He was chairman of the Dutchess County Charter Commission.

Dr. Lippman spoke very convincingly of the need for reorganizing county governments to meet the needs of our ever-growing population. Dr. Lippman pointed out that as it stands now, our county government is inefficient. It does not provide clear lines of responsibility for the 33 members of the county commission and no system of checks and balances for proper and just administration, he said. Therefore it needs a charter and an executive to oversee everything.

Dr. Lippman maintains that with a charter, the county government gets the ability to assume powers, and the responsibility and privilege of "home rule" and then does not need to relinquish the right of "home rule" to state and federal controls.

Mrs. R. C. Earnest was program chairman and Mrs. Sylvia Horsey presented the LWV 1968-69 budget.

Certificates Given Firemen

Preliminary plans for the fund drive, monthly drills, daily station check, and the awarding of certificates for fire training were on the agenda of the meeting of Woodstock Fire Company 3 of Lake Hill.

The annual fund drive is held each year during July and August when firemen contact residents of the areas of Willow, Lake Hill, and Shady for financial support for the fire company. Leaflets explaining the services offered by the fire company, and data concerning the reporting of a fire are given to the residents, along with a survey of water conditions in the area.

Monthly drills for May are scheduled for Sunday, May 19, at 2 p.m. at the firehouse, and Wednesday, May 29, at 7 p.m. Fire Chief Duncan Wilson presented State of New York fire training certificates and radio procedure certificates to firemen Howard Humphries, Henry P. Eighthme, Fred Bollenbach, and Captain H. Phillips Eighthme.

The company voted to participate in the cleanup campaign scheduled for the Village of Woodstock on May 26.

Public Lectures Planned by Robert Russell

Robert Russell, director of the Sullar Institute, Woodstock, will hold a series of lectures for the general public at his studio starting this month. The series will deal with our national political and social problems and will explore their roots in national habits of physical, emotional, and spiritual fitness.

Russell, who is a trained anthropologist, has long been interested in the problems of cultural development. He plans to discuss patterns of physical and emotional conditioning that lead to disunity, economic problems, and riots that are now so much a part of the American scene.

This year's political campaigns make it imperative that we have a clear understanding of the issues he says. The lectures will attempt to clarify for the layman the factors behind the issues.

The lectures will be held on Tuesday nights at 8 p.m. from May 14 through June 18. The series will be repeated June 25 through July 30. Russell's studio is in the pink house behind Deanie's Restaurant on Deming Street.

Plant Tree At School I

Arbor Day was observed at the West Hurley Elementary School recently.

A crab apple tree, donated to the school by the Brownie and Junior Girl Scout Troops, was planted in front of School I.

Participating girl scouts including Cynthia Radel who opened the ceremonies were: color guards, Vida Berry, Alison Seymour, Roseanne Castaldo and Kathy Kriessman.

Mrs. Leroy Stoothoff spoke briefly about the importance of conserving our natural resources and of showing patriotism by keeping our country beautiful. She pointed out that Arbor Day actually began on April 10, 1872 when more than a million trees were planted in Nebraska.

The poem, "Trees," was recited by Wendy Zoehfeld, Renee Durand, Cathy Schafer, and Maryjude Darrow. Directed by Mrs. Gunther Zoehfeld, all joined in singing "America the Beautiful."

Permit for Station

WASHINGTON (AP) — Auburn Publishing Co. of Auburn, N.Y., has filed an application with the Federal Communications Commission for a permit to operate an FM radio station at Rochester, N.Y. The station would be on 103.9 megacycles, the FCC said Tuesday.

David Abeel, Former Resident In New Post

David E. Abeel, formerly of Saugerties, has resigned as public relations director at the University of South Carolina to become assistant director of public information in the South Carolina State Department of Education.

A member of the Public Relations Society of America and of Sigma Delta Chi professional journalism society, Abeel has nearly 20 years' experience in public relations and is a former reporter and copy editor of The Columbia (S. C.) Record where he was a prize-winning writer.

A native of Saugerties where he attended the public schools, Abeel lived for several years in Kingston where he was a professional musician and attended the Moran School of Business.

He served in World War II and the Korean War in ranks from private to captain, and holds the Bronze Star medal with one oak leaf cluster, the commendation medal, the combat infantryman badge and four battle stars.

During his career in educational public relations, Abeel has held the highest office of the southeastern district of the American College Public Relations Association and the presidency of the Administrative Employees Club of the University of South Carolina.

He has been listed in Who's Who in Public Relations and Who's Who in Education.

SENIOR CITIZENS WEEK—Mayor Neil Cox, left and Supervisor Michael Schovel, have proclaimed the week of May 12-18 as Senior Citizens Week for Saugerties. The Senior Citizens Club will hold open house Thursday, May 16 from 1:30 to 4 p. m. at the Dutch Arms Chapel in celebration of the event.

Noted Author Banquet Speaker

Thyra Ferre' Bjorn, noted author and lecturer will be guest speaker at the first mother-daughter banquet to be held at the Saugerties United Methodist Church on May 17 at 6 p. m.

Mrs. Bjorn will speak on her book, "Mama's Daughter." Among her other books are "Papa's Wife," which was written in 1955 and immediately became a best seller and "Mama's Way" and "Once Upon a Christmas Time."

Lecturing tours have covered most of the United States and the author has traveled to England, Holland, Denmark, Norway and Sweden. All these countries and Germany have published her books.

Co-chairmen of the dinner are Mrs. Milton Armstrong and Mrs. John Thompson. Mrs. Bjorn will be the house guest of Mrs. John Whitenor. Members of the men's club will serve the dinner.

Fire Auxiliary Elects Officers

Washington Hook and Ladder Company Auxiliary, Saugerties, elected a new slate of officers at a recent meeting.

President is Barbara Dargan first vice president, Joan Arnold; second vice president, Carole Amend; treasurer, Sharon Anderson; secretary, Margaret Wade; sergeant-at-arms, Clara Dewson and trustee, Helen Hornbeck.

Installation of officers will take place at the annual banquet with Gladys Amend the installing officer.

The event will be held Thursday, June 6, at 7:30 p. m. at Anton's Restaurant, Barclay Heights. Reservations may be made with Margaret Wade or Gladys Amend. Those in need of transportation should be at the firehouse at 7 p. m.

Your new car may be the most important family decision you'll make this year.

To be sure you make the right choice, talk to your Cadillac dealer before you decide.

As a specialist in luxury motoring, your Cadillac dealer has some interesting things to say about quality and value in a new car.

The brilliant 1968 Cadillac gives him plenty to talk about. Quality abounds in the spacious, lavishly appointed interiors, in the smooth, quiet ride and in the solidity of Cadillac construction.

These Cadillac qualities are universally recognized. Year after year, Cadillac returns a greater portion of its original cost at resale than any other car built in the land. Major advancements this year, such as a totally new 472 V-8 engine (largest V-8 ever to power a production passenger car), further assure a high resale value.

There's no better time than now to talk quality and value with your Cadillac dealer. His selection of models may never be better, and your present car may never be worth more. See him before you decide.

Defend Fruit Growers In Pollution Hassle

Sub-freezing temperatures in late April and, again, the morning of May 7 and 8, have been cited as being indirectly responsible for an increased number of air pollution complaints from area residents.

In a report given to the Ulster County Board of Health, William Palmer, of the Ulster County Agriculture Extension Service, claimed that measures to combat frost conditions and generally unusual weather factors "caused abnormal amounts of smoke to float in the fruit-growing communities."

Behind the conditions are oil pots, forced to be ignited to protect the orchards from the freeze, and air inversion, wherein instead of a normal pattern of smoke rising and dispersing into the atmosphere, "it was held at a low ceiling level for several hours."

Palmer declared that the county's $7.5 million fruit crop was seriously threatened by the amounts of smoke to float in the fruit-growing communities when oil pots were ignited. Eventually, it entered homes and grounds of nearby properties.

Palmer went on to analyze the 1968 season claiming that 1968 "is the earliest bloom date on record, excepting 1945, when the entire New York State apple crop was lost to spring freeze temperatures."

He declared that even if growers have saved crops during frost temperatures, "it is not necessary to heat orchards every year. It may average once or twice every other year."

"Not all orchards need to use heating devices, perhaps less than 20 per cent in Ulster County."

"Fruit buds will usually survive low temperatures of 27 to 28 degrees, depending on stage of bloom, vigor of tree, duration of freeze and variety."

"The total 1968 crop loss will not be known for two weeks

yet. It is known that some acreage has been frozen out where no frost control practices were followed.

"It is necessary to anticipate low temperatures and start heaters well before the 28 degree level is reached."

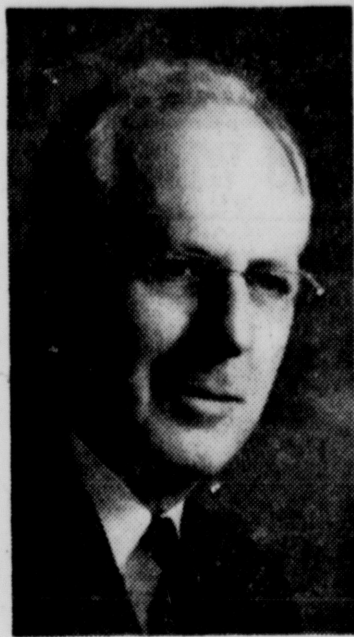

Palmer went on to report that heating orchards "is very costly and growers cannot justify the expense unless it is imperative to save the crop," and he claimed that the fruit industry "recognizes the problem of smoke and its effect on the immediate community. Agricultural research is continuing on alternative clean burning heater units and other methods of frost abatement."

The agricultural expert further stated that, "It is hoped that with cooperation of the Ulster County Health Department, the agricultural department, and the general public, that a satisfactory solution to these problems can be arrived at."

Health Service Speaker at City Laboratory

Dr. Frank M. Woolsey, director of the Heart, Cancer, Stroke regional program of the National Institute of Health, was the guest speaker at the recent meeting of the Health Services Council at the City of Kingston Laboratory.

Dr. Woolsey, a graduate of Duke University School of Medicine, took his graduate training at Washington University School of Medicine, St. Louis, Mo., Yale University School of Medicine, New Haven, Conn., and Western Reserve University School of Medicine, Cleveland, O. Dr. Woolsey was chief of medicine at the Flight Surgeons School, Randolph Field, Tex. during World War II. He was certified by the American Board of Internal Medicine in 1947 and is a Fellow of American College of Physicians. Dr. Woolsey has been associated dean, professor of Post-graduate Medicine and Chairman of the Dept., Albany Medical College since 1954 and program coordinator for the Albany Regional Medical Program since 1966. He is a member of the Medical Communications Committee, Continuation Education Committee of the Association of American Medical Colleges.

Dr. F. M. WOOLSEY

Dr. Woolsey discussed the Regional Program, its objectives and how it can benefit Ulster County and above all, how the Health Services Council can participate and have representation on the Health, Cancer Stroke Advisory Group. The basic concept is to strengthen Community Medicine in efficiency and quality. Literature describing existing pilot projects as well as on-going programs, was distributed and discussed.

Moose Award Dinner Slated Next Saturday

Columbia County Judge William F. Christiana will deliver the main address for the fourth annual Citizen's Award dinner of Moose Lodge, 970.

The dinner, this year in honor of Sheriff William B. Martin, will be held Saturday, May 18, at 7 o'clock at the lodge, 82 Prince Street.

John F. Malone, director in charge of the New York City office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, also is scheduled to speak.

Honor Kuehn Firm

William H. Kuehn of Mutual Insurers Agency, Inc., Kingston, has been recognized as 1968 Select Circle Agency by the Central Mutual Insurance Company of Van Wert, Ohio. The recognition for outstanding performance and service was announced at a recent dinner meeting in New York City.

Attending the event were honored agents serviced by Central Mutual's New York branch office, which serves the states of New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland.

This marks the third year the local agency has been so honored by Central Mutual.

COUNTY DELEGATES. Returning recently from a five-day League of Women Voters national convention in Chicago were three of Ulster County's delegates, including (L) Mrs. John Johnson of Kingston, Mrs. Paul Parker of New Paltz, and Mrs. John Sharp of the Woodstock League. Nearly 2,000 delegates from all over the U.S. took part in the conclave held in Chicago's Conrad Hilton Hotel.

Video-Tape Used For Rome Pupils

BY JOAN K. KAHLER
ROME, N.Y. (AP)—Pupils at two schools here are finding it especially difficult to argue with their newest teacher—video tape.

A group of junior and senior pupils at Rome Free Academy and Staley Junior High School are using the video tape recorder as an alternative to educational television.

They can record their own debates on issues such as the Vietnam war. They can tape television programs for use in history classes and the like.

Whatever they record, they can play back to see and hear themselves as others see them or to use as documentaries.

Mrs. Curtis Bates, speech teacher at the Free Academy, told a reporter she considers the video tape as "the greatest teaching aid we have." A speech pupil may argue with his teacher, but "you can't argue with video tape—your mistakes are right there before you," she added.

Won Top Prizes

Al Belmont, who teaches English at the Staley school, coached three eighth-graders who won top prizes in a local oratorical contest.

The video-tape project is relatively cheap and its effectiveness is rated as very high by officials of the two schools. The system includes a TV camera, a microphone, a tape recording deck, a TV monitor and reels of tapes. The schools paid $40 for each 40-minute tape, which may be re-used after erasure of recordings.

Bernard Buchweitz, who heads Free Academy's videotape project, says teachers "can benefit from the single demonstration" of an event or a discussion by showing the pictures.

Opened New Fields

He added that the project had opened new fields for many pupils, including those who previously had shown little interest in more formal areas of learning.

Donald Behr, who has a similar project at the Staley school, tried to prepare his pupils for various careers by showing them taped interviews with persons in different professions.

Both Behr and Buchweitz say they want to produce orientation films for new pupils and to broaden the use of the video tape in as many areas of instruction as possible.

Back to Genesee

Gary Barteau, 22, of New Paltz was picked up this morning at the county jail by two Genesee County deputy sheriffs for return to that county where he faces burglary, third degree charges in connection with the alleged break-in at a gas station.

The deputies are Merton Johns and Richard Mowers.

Barteau was picked up on a fugitive of justice warrant yesterday by Sheriff William B. Martin, Deputy Raymond Davis and County Investigator Harold T. Bowers. The fugitive was arraigned before New Paltz Town Justice Rexford Snyder and committed to county jail in lieu of $25 bail pending return to Genesee.

Tuesday Is Deadline For Filing Petitions

The deadline for filing party designating petitions is Tuesday at 5 p. m., at Ulster County Board of Elections in the county office building. If the petitions are mailed, they must be postmarked no later than May 14 to be acceptable.

Voting machines will be used in the primary elections for the first time this year. Instructions will be given to any interested individuals who are not familiar with voting machines at the Board of Elections office Monday through Friday during regular office hours.

To be eligible to vote at a primary a citizen must be an enrolled member of a political party which is having a contest. A person must have enrolled at the time they registered last year. Certain citizens may enroll under a special arrangement before May 18 if they failed to enroll last year, however they must meet the following requirements:

1. Became 21 after Nov. 7, 1967 and before June 18, this year.

2. Was naturalized subsequent to 90 days prior to the preceding general election.
3. Members of the Armed Forces or the spouse, parent or child of a member of the Armed Forces who has been absent from the county.
4. Those who were in a Veterans Administration Hospital outside the state.
5. Those incapacitated by illness during previous enrollment period.

Also, those residents who have moved since last year should transfer their enrollment information to the town office of the community in which the prospective voter resides.

Those wishing to enroll under the special arrangements or wishing to have enrollment transferred must appear personally at the Board of Elections office before Saturday.

Central registration is in progress at the Board of Elections office. Any qualified individual may register now for the Nov. 5 election. This will continue until June 7 and will resume again June 24 and continue until the 31st day prior to local registration.

Local registration dates have not been officially set by the State Legislature. However it is known there will be three registration days in October at each of the polling places in the county.

John Roosevelt to Speak

John A. Roosevelt, a member of the State University's board of trustees, will invest Dr. George B. Erbstein as president of Ulster County Community College in a formal inauguration ceremony this Saturday.

Roosevelt, a son of the late president and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, also will bring greetings at the ceremony from the State University's board of trustees.

The ceremony will start at 3 p. m. and will be preceded by a concert by the Kingston High School Concert Band starting at 2:30 p. m. It will be held outdoors on the plaza in front of the MacDonald DeWitt Library at the College's Stone Ridge campus. The public is invited.

Roosevelt, who resides in Hyde Park, is a vice president and director in the investment and brokerage firm of Bache and Company Inc., New York City. He was appointed to the State University's board of trustees in 1959, and reappointed in 1965 for a term expiring June 30, 1975.

Born March 13, 1916, the youngest son of the late President and Mrs. Roosevelt, he was graduated from Harvard College in 1938, and served in the U. S. Navy during World War II, being discharged with the rank of lieutenant commander.

He served as a member of the President's Committee on Government Contracts through 1961, and is a trustee of the Eisenhower Exchange Fellowship Foundation. He also is a member of the board of directors of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, a trustee of Marist College in Poughkeepsie, and a director of the United Nations Association of the United States of America.

At the Inauguration, he will be introduced by John C. Quimby, chairman of the college's board of trustees.

KHS Concert Band To Provide Music

Kingston High School's 85-piece Concert Band will provide the music at the formal inauguration of Dr. George B. Erbstein as president of Ulster County Community College Saturday, James C. Haviland, the inauguration committee chairman, said today.

Preceding the 3 p. m. inauguration, which is open to the public, a concert will be conducted by the Kingston High School Concert Band beginning at 2:30 p. m. The ceremony will be held outdoors on the plaza in front of the MacDonald DeWitt Library at the College's Stone Ridge campus.

The band is directed by Martin E. Morrette, who also is on the part-time music faculty at the college.

"It is one of the foremost school bands in the Hudson Valley," said Haviland, "and we are most fortunate to have this outstanding group to provide the music at the inauguration."

Plans for the musical program are being made by Morrette and Dr. John F. Park, coordinator of music at the college.

Morrette, who has been associated with Kingston High School since 1948, is a member of Pi Kappa Lambda, a national honor music society. He also is a member of the National Band Masters Association, the Music Educators National Conference, and the New York State School Music Association.

He received a BS degree in music education from Ithaca College, and has an MM degree in music education from the University of Michigan. He also has done additional graduate study at the State University Colleges at New Paltz and Albany and Columbia University.

Morrette has played first trombone in the Hudson Valley Symphony Orchestra and previously played second trombone in the Harrisburg, Pa., Symphony Orchestra and first trombone in the Ithaca Civic Symphony. He also participated in dance bands and theatre and light opera orchestras.

In 1960, he received the Page One Award from the Kingston Newspaper Guild and 1966 was guest conductor at the Ulster County Music Educators Association Festival.

Area Celebrating National Hospital Week

People who contribute to patient care are being spotlighted as the three general hospitals in Ulster County join in observing National Hospital Week, May 12 to 18.

Theme for the week is Your Hospital — People Caring for People. Participating in the observance in Ulster County are the Benedictine and Kingston Hospitals in Kingston, and Ellenville Community Hospital, Ellenville. All are voluntary, non-profit institutions.

Among them, the three hospitals employ approximately 1,050 full-and part-time people, with a combined annual payroll of over $4,100,000.

There are more than 200 job classifications within a hospital's walls, ranging from accountant to x-ray technician. Others include laboratory technician, engineer, laundry worker, housekeeper, maintenance worker, dietitian, cook, kitchen helper, purchasing agent, therapist, pharmacist, personnel officer, clerk, and medical records librarian.

While the personnel filling these job classifications vary in background, education and skills, they have a common goal — better patient care — and a firm belief that a hospital is truly people caring for people.

17,179 Patients

Last year the Benedictine, Ellenville and Kingston Hospitals admitted 17,179 patients, a number equivalent to 12.3 per cent of Ulster County's current total population. In addition, 1,840 babies were born in the three hospitals during the year.

The three emergency rooms handled 24,335 cases, and a total of 42,813 x-ray examinations were made.

A total of 638,414 meals were served in Ulster County's three general hospitals in 1967.

National Hospital Week, sponsored by the American Hospital Association, is celebrated annually to emphasize the vital community role played by the more than 7,000 hospitals throughout the nation. This year, the observance began on the birthday of Florence Nightingale, whose efforts led to the establishment of the first hospital schools of nursing. A breakdown of individual hospital's services and history is as follows.

Benedictine

The Benedictine Hospital was founded in 1901 by the Benedictine Sisters for the purpose of caring for the sick and infirmed of Kingston and surrounding communities. A frame structure was purchased and used for this purpose until 1903, when a new building was constructed. Additions came in 1925 (South Wing), and 1952 (North Wing), and 1958

(School of Nursing). In 1966 dramatic and imaginative plans were formulated and carried through with the dedication of the Benedictine Sisters and the community. The result is the new Cardinal Spellman Pavilion, which will be dedicated June 16, 1968, with an imposing program to be presented before an anticipated large audience of church dignitaries of all faiths, public officials and the general public. Hospital capacity is now 220 beds.

In 1969 the Benedictine School of Nursing, which has been recognized as a nationally accredited training facility, will be phased out. A portion of the present school facilities are to be utilized by the New Ulster Academy, which is scheduled to open this fall with an enrollment of 90 students.

Ellenville

The new Ellenville Community Hospital opened its doors in March, 1966, to serve Ellenville and the surrounding communities. A 64-bed health-care center on a 100-bed core, the new hospital was built at a cost of $2,000,000. According to health authorities, it will serve as a model for hospitals of similar size to be built during the next decade.

Ellenville Community Hospital originated in 1924. Built from a remodeled wooden frame building, the voluntary non-profit institution, then known as the Ellenville Veterans Memorial Hospital, opened with 20 adult beds. In 1950 a brick wing was added, bringing the capacity to 46 beds. By the mid-fifties, the hospital was feeling the strain of an increasing patient load. Its board of directors and various state health agencies determined the need for a completely new building on a new site. This new building was dedicated Aug. 19, 1966, by the President of the United States. A hardcover, 130-page book, "The Day L. B. J. Was Here," was written to commemorate the dedication. The book is presently available from the Women's Auxiliary of the Ellenville Community Hospital.

Kingston

The Kingston Hospital is a 200-bed community general hospital governed by a board of trustees. Organized in 1891, the cornerstone of its original building was laid April 22, 1893. Reconstruction and enlargement in 1928, 1955, 1959 and 1966. In the latter project, the Board of Trustees wisely provided two additional floors for future expansion, and these floors are presently being furnished and equipped to meet the ever-growing demands for hospital services.

A modern, progressive institution, the Kingston Hospital provides the four major services of Medicine, Surgery, Pediatrics and Obstetrics. It has a very active emergency department, Poison Control Center, serving patients in our area and numerous other auxiliary services. A school of nursing phased out by 1970.

Pilot Killed Near West Point

By WALTER S. CLARK Jr.

A 29-year-old pilot killed in the crash of a Navy training plane on a hilltop of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, was among 17 persons who died in New York State accidents during the weekend. Ten persons were killed in traffic accidents, two perished in boating mishaps and five were killed in other types of accidents.

$1,600 Grant For Denning

Governor Rockefeller announced today that $1,600 in state aid has been allocated by the State Division for Youth to the Town of Denning for a community youth recreation project.

"The Town of Denning is to be commended for joining more than 1,300 municipalities who take part in this phase of Division for Youth programs," the Governor said. "This marks the seventh year that the community and the state have joined together in providing wholesome recreation activities for the youth of the community."

Milton Luger, Director of the Division for Youth, noted that last year the State of New York furnished $6.5 million in state aid for the establishment, operation, and maintenance of municipal youth bureaus, recreation projects, and youth service projects.

An application for State aid submitted by Harold Van Aken, supervisor, indicates that the Town of Denning will spend a total of $3,200 during the year to provide organized youth activities.

Among the activities included in this program are swimming, lifesaving, skiing, ice skating, basketball, etc.

The agency responsible for the conduct of this program is Tri-Valley Youth Commission of which Donald Ter Bush is chairman. The Director of Recreation is Louis Carlsen.

Ulster County recorded its 13th traffic fatality after 25-year-old Roger J. Skipp of New Paltz Road, Highland, died at Vassar Hospital at 11:50 p.m. Friday of injuries suffered on Sunday, May 5 when his car went out of control and hit a utility pole and a tree on a curve on Route 44-55 in the Town of Gardiner.

The 13th highway death in the county in 1967 was logged by authorities on May 7 after a 32-year-old Town of Ulster woman was killed in a tractor-car collision on Albany Avenue Extension.

Skipp, who was riding alone at the time of the Town of Gardiner accident, died of injuries of the back and brain, according to Dr. William G. Thompson, assistant Dutchess county medical examiner.

In Good Condition

Navy Lt. James P. Webster, of Pensacola, Fla., was killed Saturday night when the single-engine Navy plane crashed on the edge of the West Point military reservation. Lt. jg Christopher L. Carson, 27, also of Pensacola, was taken to West Point Hospital where he was treated for cuts and bruises. His condition was listed as good, the UPI reported.

The plane was on a routine flight from North Carolina to Westchester County airport when it crashed. It was raining at the time. The Navy issued a statement saying "The accident is under investigation." Both men stayed with the T28 plane and did not parachute.

Other fatalities included Mrs. Ethel Craig, 57, of Newburgh, who was killed in a two-car collision on Route 208 near Maybrook on Sunday. Her husband, Alfred, 61, was in serious condition at Arden Hill Hospital in Goshen. Four persons in the second car were not hurt seriously.

Sullivan Fatal
State Police reported a tractor-trailer skidded out of control on a bridge on Route 17 near Rock Hill in Sullivan County late Saturday and killed two persons. Troopers said the victims were Philip Henderson, 51, of Rosendale, and his daughter, Linda, 20. They were killed when the truck slid into their car on wet pavement.

Also injured was the dead man's wife, Jeannette, who was reported in serious condition in Monticello County Hospital.

Two Saugerties residents were taken to Greene County Memorial Hospital in Catskill Saturday afternoon for examination for possible injuries after their car was in collision with a tank truck operated by Peter J. Callinan of RD, Saugerties, according to Leeds State Police. The Saugerties residents were identified as Michael D. Hinchey and Helen C. Hinchey, of R.D. Saugerties. The Hinchey car was stopped for a red light at the Lehigh Cement Co. plant when it was hit in the rear by the truck which was slowing, authorities said.

Area Celebrating National Hospital Week

People who contribute to patient care are being spotlighted as the three general hospitals in Ulster County join in observing National Hospital Week, May 12 to 18.

Theme for the week is Your Hospital—People Caring for People. Participating in the observance in Ulster County are the Benedictine and Kingston Hospitals in Kingston, and Ellenville Community Hospital, Ellenville. All are voluntary, non-profit institutions.

Among them, the three hospitals employ approximately 1,050 full-and part-time people, with a combined annual payroll of over $4,100,000.

There are more than 200 job classifications within a hospital's walls, ranging from accountant to x-ray technician. Others include laboratory technician, engineer, laundry worker, housekeeper, maintenance worker, dietitian, cook, kitchen helper, purchasing agent, therapist, pharmacist, personnel officer, clerk, and medical records librarian.

While the personnel filling these job classifications vary in background, education and skills, they have a common goal—better patient care—and a firm belief that a hospital is truly people caring for people.

17,179 Patients

Last year the Benedictine, Ellenville and Kingston Hospitals admitted 17,179 patients, a number equivalent to 12.3 per cent of Ulster county's current total population. In addition, 1,840 babies were born in the three hospitals during the year.

The three emergency rooms handled 24,535 cases, and a total of 42,813 x-ray examinations were made.

A total of 638,414 meals were served in Ulster County's three general hospitals in 1967.

National Hospital Week, sponsored by the American Hospital Association, is celebrated annually to emphasize the vital community role played by the more than 7,000 hospitals throughout the nation. This year, the observance began on the birthday of Florence Nightingale, whose efforts led to the establishment of the first hospital schools of nursing. A breakdown of individual hospital's services and history is as follows.

Benedictine

The Benedictine Hospital was founded in 1901 by the Benedictine Sisters for the purpose of caring for the sick and infirm of Kingston and surrounding communities. A frame structure was purchased and used for this purpose until 1903, when a new building was constructed. Additions of similar size to be built during the next decade.

1952 (North Wing), and 1958

(School of Nursing). In 1966 dramatic and imaginative plans with a view to the future were formulated and carried through with the dedication of the Benedictine Sisters and the community. The result is the new Cardinal Spellman Pavilion, which will be dedicated June 16, 1968, with an imposing program to be presented before an anticipated large audience of church dignitaries of all faiths, public officials and the general public. Hospital capacity is now 220 beds.

In 1969 the Benedictine School of Nursing, which has been recognized as a nationally accredited training facility, will be phased out. A portion of the present school facilities are to be utilized by the New Ulster Academy, which is scheduled to open this fall with an enrollment of 90 students.

Ellenville

The new Ellenville Community Hospital opened its doors in March, 1966, to serve Ellenville and the surrounding communities. A 64-bed health-care center on a 100-bed core, the new hospital was built at a cost of $2,000,000. According to health authorities, it will serve as a model for hospitals of similar size to be built during the next decade.

Ellenville Community Hospital originated in 1924. Built from a remodeled wooden frame building, the voluntary non-profit institution, then known as the Ellenville Veterans Memorial Hospital, opened with 20 adult beds. In 1950 a brick wing was added, bringing the capacity to 46 beds. By the mid-fifties, the hospital was feeling the strain of an increasing patient load. Its board of directors and various state health agencies determined the need for a completely new building on a new site. This new building was dedicated Aug. 19, 1966, by the President of the United States, A. J. Foye, Jr. The book, "The Day L. B. J. Was Here," was written to commemorate the dedication. The book is presently available from the Women's Auxiliary of the Ellenville Community Hospital.

Kingston

The Kingston Hospital is a 200-bed community general hospital governed by a board of trustees. Organized in 1891, the cornerstone of its original building was laid April 22, 1893. Reconstruction and enlargement 1928, 1955, 1959 and 1966. In the latter project, the Board of Trustees wisely provided two additional floors for future expansion, and these floors are presently being furnished and equipped to meet the ever-growing demands for hospital services.

A modern, progressive institution, the Kingston Hospital provides the four major services of Medicine, Surgery, Pediatrics and Obstetrics. It has a very active emergency department, Poison Control Center, serving patients in our area and numerous other auxiliary services. A school of nursing is phased out by 1970.

Pilot Killed Near West Point

By WALTER S. CLARK JR.

A 29-year-old pilot killed in the crash of a Navy training plane on a hilltop of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, was among 17 persons who died in New York State accidents during the weekend. Ten persons were killed in traffic accidents, two perished in boating mishaps and five were killed in other types of accidents.

$1,600 Grant For Denning

Governor Rockefeller announced today that $1,600 in state aid has been allocated by the State Division for Youth to the Town of Denning for a community youth recreation project.

"The Town of Denning is to be commended for joining more than 1,300 municipalities who take part in this phase of Division for Youth programs," the Governor said. "This marks the seventh year that the community and the state have joined together in providing wholesome recreation activities for the youth of the community."

Milton Luger, Director of the Division for Youth, noted that last year the State of New York furnished $6.5 million in state aid for the establishment, operation, and maintenance of municipal youth bureaus, recreation projects, and youth service projects.

An application for State aid submitted by Harold Van Aken, supervisor, indicates that the Town of Denning will spend a total of $3,200 during the year to provide organized youth activities.

Among the activities included in this program are swimming, lifesaving, skiing, ice skating, basketball, etc.

The agency responsible for the conduct of this program is Tri-Valley Youth Commission of which Donald Ter Bush is chairman. The Director of Recreation is Louis Carlsen.

Ulster County recorded its 13th traffic fatality after 25-year-old Roger J. Skipp of New Paltz Road, Highland, died at Vassar Hospital at 11:50 p.m. Friday of injuries suffered on Sunday, May 5 when his car went out of control and hit a utility pole and a tree on a curve on Route 44-55 in the Town of Gardiner.

The 13th highway death in the county in 1967 was logged by authorities on May 7 after a 32-year-old Town of Ulster woman was killed in a tractor-car collision on Albany Avenue Extension.

Skipp, who was riding alone at the time of the Town of Gardiner accident, died of injuries of the back and brain, according to Dr. William G. Thompson, assistant Dutchess county medical examiner.

In Good Condition

Navy Lt. James P. Webster, of Pensacola, Fla., was killed Saturday night when the single-engine Navy plane crashed on the edge of the West Point military reservation. Lt. J. P. Christopher L. Carson, 27, also of Pensacola, was taken to West Point Hospital where he was treated for cuts and bruises. His condition was listed as good, the UPI reported.

The plane was on a routine flight from North Carolina to Westchester County airport when it crashed. It was raining at the time. The Navy issued a statement saying "The accident is under investigation."

Both men stayed with the T28 plane and did not parachute. Other fatalities included Mrs. Ethel Craig, 57, of Newburgh, who was killed in a two-car collision on Route 208 near Maybrook on Sunday. Her husband, Alfred, 61, was in serious condition at Arden Hill Hospital in Goshen. Four persons in the second car were not hurt seriously.

Sullivan Fatal

State Police reported a tractor-trailer skidded out of control on a bridge on Route 17 near Rock Hill in Sullivan County late Saturday and killed two persons. Troopers said the victims were Philip Henderson, 51, of Rosendale, and his daughter, Linda, 20. They were killed when the truck slid into their car on wet pavement.

Also injured was the dead man's wife, Jeannette, who was reported in serious condition in Monticello County Hospital.

Two Saugerties residents were taken to Greene County Memorial Hospital in Catskill Saturday afternoon for examination for possible injuries after their car was in collision with a tank truck operated by Peter J. Callinan of R.D. Saugerties, according to Leeds State Police. The Saugerties residents were identified as Michael D. Hinchey and Helen C. Hinchey, of R.D. Saugerties. The Hinchey car was stopped for a red light at the Lehigh Cement Co. plant when it was hit in the rear by the truck which was slowing, authorities said.

Honorary Chairman Of Gala Ball Named

Mrs. Lytle Hull is honorary chairman of the Viennese Ball for the benefit of the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society, according to Mrs. Sidney N. Miller, president. The ball will take place on Saturday, May 25, in Students' Building at Vassar College. Guest of honor for the occasion will be Dr. Heinrich Gleissner, Consul General of the Austrian Embassy in New York City.

Mrs. Hull is well known for her support of music. She has been a key figure in the development of the New York Philharmonic. She has been interested in and has contributed to the growth of the Hudson Valley Philharmonic as well. She organized the Auxiliary of the New York Philharmonic in the early 1920's and was its chairman until 1960. She now serves as its honorary chairman. Mrs. Hull is also the president of the Musicians' Emergency Fund, a post she has held since 1935. She was one of the original incorporators and members of the City Center for Music and Drama when it was formed in 1943, and is now vice-president. In addition, she is a member of the board of directors of Lincoln Center.

The Viennese Ball for the benefit of the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society will begin with a concert of Viennese music at 9 p.m. The concert will be followed by dancing to the music of the Jerome Rabinowitz Orchestra.

The ball is open to the public. Invitations and information can be secured from the Philharmonic office at 54 Noxon Street, Poughkeepsie.

Spring Concert Held Recently at Accord

On Thursday, May 2, at 7:30 p.m., the Elementary Chorus, 50 members, under the direction of Mrs. Martin Kelly, vocal music teacher in the Rondout Valley Central School District, and the district-wide Elementary Band, 63 members, under the direction of Walter Highland, instrumental music teachers, gave a spring concert to a capacity crowd at the Accord Elementary School. The chorus varied repertoire of folk tunes, novelties, and patriotic songs captured the audience. It was obvious that one of the chorus' favorite tunes was "The Library Song," currently heard on a television commercial.

After the program the boys and girls were served refreshments by the Accord Parents Teachers and Friends. The next meeting of the Accord PTF will be Thursday, June 6.

SOIL RELEASE FINISHES

How to get rid of stains such as butter or mustard has been a common problem; but it is an even bigger problem on permanent press. Today SOIL RELEASE FINISHES are getting much more attention as a way of releasing stains in permanent press, says Phyllis W. Barlow, Extension Home Economist.

WHAT IS THIS FINISH? A soil release finish is a chemical treatment given fabrics to make soils and stains easier to remove.

WHY WAS IT NEEDED? Stains are harder to remove from permanent press and the polyesters. They are both hard to wet and have an affinity for oils.

HOW DOES IT WORK? The soil release alters the surface characteristics of the fiber so that the surface can be wetted easily. This results in easier removal of the soil. It does not mean that the fabric can't stain. Heat and aging may make it impossible to remove stains if not treated promptly.

WHAT TYPE OF SOIL RELEASE FINISHES ARE THERE? There are two types. One finish reacts chemically with the fiber surface to make it attract water. The other finish forms a film around the fiber so that the stain can't penetrate.

WHAT ARE SOME OF THE HIDDEN BENEFITS OF SOIL RELEASE? This finish reduces pilling and fuzzing, softens the fabric and makes it more comfortable to wear, and adds durability.

WHAT ARE SOME COMMON TRADE NAMES FOR THIS FINISH? Brad-Clean by Bradford Dyeing Association, Cirasol Pt by Imperial Chemical Industries, Come-Clean by Burlington-Klopman, Crava-Clean by Cravenetter, Dan-Clean by Dan River, Dual-Action Scotchgard by 3M, Flybrite by Celanese, Soilex by Lowenstein, Viz by Deering Milliken, Washe-eze by Stevens.

As these finishes become available, many brand names will be advertised. Read the labels carefully to study performance claims and care instructions. In this manner, you can determine to what degree soil releasing performance can be expected.

PRINCIPALS AT DINNER—The Benedictine Student Nurses Mothers Club held a dinner Thursday evening, May 9, at the Hedges Restaurant, West Park. Among those who attended were (l-r) Dr. John Cook, master of ceremonies; Sister Mary Callista, president; Mrs. Helen Jump, treasurer; Dr. Gerald Gorman, guest speaker; Dr. John Alley, toastmaster. ## Dr. Robbins Begg Parents Not to Give Cars to Children

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dr. Anna Jerene Robbins is physician for the St. Peter's College championship basketball team so she should know whereof she speaks when she talks of physical fitness.

"I spend my life begging parents not to give young people cars," said Dr. Robbins, who calls walking a "nearly perfect" exercise. The new jogging cult amuses the physician, whose specialty is thoracic surgery.

"I was jogging long before it became fashionable," she said of the current crop trotting the ground to lose a pound.

Dr. Robbins endorses exercise on a lifetime basis period. What is the perfect exercise? "I doubt if any one is perfect," she answered. "Swimming is good it gives beauty of muscle without bunniness. Walking is nearly perfect if you carry yourself well and step briskly. Golfing is marvelous if you walk the course instead of riding the cart."

"I tell parents to expose children to all the sports they can," she said. "If they don't like tennis, then maybe they will enjoy hockey or riding or ice skating. But build an interest they can continue through the years."

"Don't go into a sedentary job and stop all physical activity. No wonder men have heart attacks while shoveling snow."

The physician also believes in dancing for conditioning and coordination. The day I interviewed her she was in black leotards and about to take an hour of jazz ballet at the International Dance Studio in Carnegie Hall.

"Standing at an operating table isn't exactly a conditioning exercise," she said. "I was getting some flab and needed to get into condition for summer."

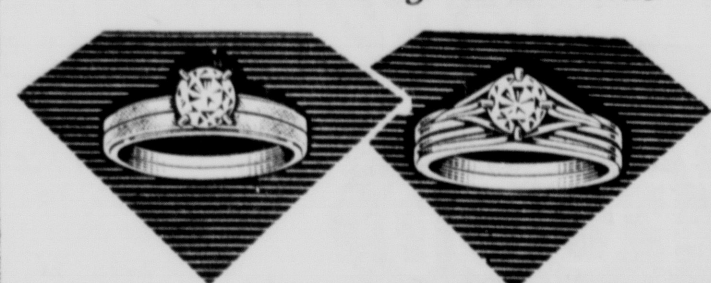

The doctor is a sailing expert, teaches it to teens, and edits a sailing magazine.

"I read about what jazz ballet can do while I was in a dentist's waiting room," she said. "Now I try to work in at least two sessions a week around lunch time. It does everything they say... and it's better than lunch."

UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dr. Anna Jerene Robbins is physician for the St. Peter's College championship basketball team so she should know whereof she speaks when she talks of physical fitness.

"I spend my life begging parents not to give young people cars," said Dr. Robbins, who calls walking a "nearly perfect" exercise. The new jogging cult amuses the physician, whose specialty is thoracic surgery.

"I was jogging long before it became fashionable," she said of the current crop trotting the ground to lose a pound.

Dr. Robbins endorses exercise on a lifetime basis period. What is the perfect exercise? "I doubt if any one is perfect," she answered. "Swimming is good it gives beauty of muscle without bounciness. Walking is nearly perfect if you carry yourself well and step briskly. Golfing is marvelous if you walk the course instead of riding the cart."

"I tell parents to expose children to all the sports they can," she said. "If they don't like tennis, then maybe they will enjoy hockey or riding or ice skating. But build an interest they can continue through the years."

"Don't go into a sedentary job and stop all physical activity. No wonder men have heart attacks while shoveling snow hour of jazz ballet at the International Dance Studio in Carnegie Hall.

"Standing at an operating table isn't exactly a conditioning exercise," she said. "I was getting some flab and needed to get into condition for summer."

The doctor is a sailing expert, teaches it to teens, and edits a sailing magazine. "I read about what jazz ballet can do while I was in a dentist's waiting room," she said. "Now I try to work in at least two sessions a week around lunch time. It does everything they say, and it's better than lunch."

Too Meet Tuesday

All mothers of both drum corps and scouts of Troop and Post 12 are asked to attend a special meeting Tuesday, May 14, at 7 p. m. in Bethany Hall, Old Dutch Church. Plans for future activities will be discussed and at this time a miscellaneous sale will take place. Each mother may bring a guest. Refreshments will be served.

Spring Concert Held Recently at Accord

On Thursday, May 2, at 7:30 p.m., the Elementary Chorus, 50 members, under the direction of Mrs. Martin Kelly, vocal music teacher in the Rondout Valley Central School District and the district-wide Elementary Band, 63 members, under the direction of Walter Highland, instrumental music teachers, gave a spring concert to a capacity crowd at the Accord Elementary School. The chorus varied repertoire of folk tunes, novelties, and patriotic songs captured the audience. It was obvious that one of the chorus' favorite tunes was "The Library Song," currently heard on a television commercial.

After the program the boys and girls were served refreshments by the Accord Parents Teachers and Friends. The next meeting of the Accord PTF will be Thursday, June 6.

SOIL RELEASE FINISHES

How to get rid of stains such as butter or mustard has been a common problem; but it is an even bigger problem on permanent press. Today SOIL RELEASE FINISHES are getting much more attention as a way of releasing stains in permanent press, says Phyllis W. Barlow, Extension Home Economist.

WHAT IS THIS FINISH? A soil release finish is a chemical treatment given fabrics to make soils and stains easier to remove.

WHY WAS IT NEEDED? Stains are harder to remove from permanent press and the polyesters. They are both hard to wet and have an affinity for oils.

HOW DOES IT WORK? The soil release alters the surface characteristics of the fiber so that the surface can be wetted easily. This results in easier removal of the soil. It does not mean that the fabric can't stain. Heat and aging may make it impossible to remove stains if not treated promptly.

WHAT TYPE OF SOIL RELEASE FINISHES ARE THERE? There are two types. One finish reacts chemically with the fiber surface to make it attract water. The other finish forms a film around the fiber so that the stain can't penetrate.

WHAT ARE SOME OF THE HIDDEN BENEFITS OF SOIL RELEASE? This finish reduces pilling and fuzzing, softens the fabric and makes it more comfortable to wear, and adds durability.

WHAT ARE SOME COMMON TRADE NAMES FOR THIS FINISH? Brad-Clean by Bradford Dyeing Association, Cirasol Pt by Imperial Chemical Industries, Come-Clean by Burlington-Klopman, Crava-Clean by Cravenetter, Dan-Clean by Dan River, Dual-Action Scotchgard by 3M, Flybrite by Celanese, Sollex by Lowenstein, Viz by Deering Milliken, Washe-eze by Stevens.

As these finishes become available, many brand names will be advertised. Read the labels carefully to study performance claims and care instructions. In this manner, you can determine to what degree soil releasing performance can be expected.

Bennett School Pupils Will Give Spring Concert

The annual spring concert and art show presented by the children of Reginald R. Bennett Elementary School, Boiceville, will be held in the school's all-purpose room on Tuesday evening, May 14, at 7:30 p. m. Art work by the children in grades one through six will be displayed. A variety of media including clay, cut paper, drawings and paintings will be included in the exhibit. Members of all choral and instrumental groups in grades three through six will perform.

The music program will include the Bennett Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Paula Blish, performing selections by Frank Churchill, Leroy Anderson, Frank Loesen and Deems Taylor, such as Whistle While You Work, The Syncopated Clock, When You Wish Upon a Star and others. Soloists will be Joanne Johnson, Earl Proper and Paul Malek.

Under the direction of Miss Winifred Bateman, Grade Three beginners and Grade Four and six will present Clair de Lune, Waltz in G, Old MacDonald and others. Melody Schneider and James Van Steenberg will do a folk dance.

The Bennett Band will present Theme From the New World Symphony by Dvorak-Weber; We Know Cha-Cha by Eric Osterling and several other selections. Lawrence Stowe is director.

Spring Luncheon

The annual spring luncheon and card party sponsored by the Women's Guild for Christian Service of the Hurley Reformed Church will be held on Thursday, May 23, in the Hurley Reformed Church Hall, Old Hurley. Serving time will be 11:30 a. m. to 1 p. m. after which card games will be played.

Mrs. Darrell H. Nicholas, Mrs. Frank Race, and Mrs. George C. Swart are members of the planning committee and announce the following work committees: table decorations, prizes and tallies, Mrs. Frank Race and Mrs. George S. Swart; kitchen, Mrs. Darrell Nicholas; dining room, Mrs. James Woodard; tables, Mrs. Harry Gersback; child card, Mrs. Richard Ruth and Mrs. Donald Briggs; publicity, Mrs. Raymond Johnson.

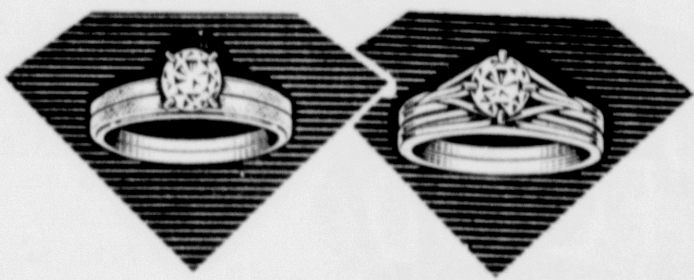

Reservations may be made for child care. Lunch will be furnished for the children. A small fee will be charged for this service.

MICHAEL DENKSENH

Top Honors at RVCS

Michael Denksenoh has been named valedictorian and Andrea Oleksiw salutatorian of the 1968 graduating class at Rondout Valley Central High School. Principal Sherman V. Wilbur has announced. Based on three and three-quarter years, Michael's average is 94.56 and Andrea's is 93.66.

Both of the top honor students are winners of 1968 New York State Regents Scholarships, and participated in Senior Seminar this year. Michael and Andrea are members of the Rondout chapter of the National Honor Society; Andrea has been its secretary in 1967-68.

Michael has many extra-curricular activities to his credit. In 1967-68 he has been Student Announcer, Captain of Rondout Valley's Quiz Bowl team, a student monitor, Stage Manager of senior play, The Man Who Came to Dinner, statistician for both the football and basketball varsity squads, a member of the varsity baseball team, and a member of Senior Band and Select Ensemble. He is a former Home Room Representative to Student Council. In September Michael will enter New York University's School of Commerce, where he has been named the recipient of a University Scholar award. He plans to major in business administration and possibly law. Michael is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Denksenoh of Accord.

Andrea has been very active throughout her high school years in the Rondout Valley chapter of Future Teachers of America; she is vice-president this year. She played a supporting role in this year's senior play, Outside of School. Andrea is president of her church Youth Group and is folk dancing instructor for a group of about 15 elementary school students. Her future plans include majoring in Spanish at Syracuse University, which she will enter this fall with a University scholarship, and eventually teaching Spanish on the secondary level. Andrea was also accepted at Vassar College and at State University College at New Paltz. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Oleksiw of Kerhonkson.

To Receive Medical Society Senior Award

STEPHEN G. PAUKER

Stephen G. Pauker, a fourth year student at Harvard Medical School, will receive the 1968 Massachusetts Medical Society Senior Student Award at the annual meeting of the Society May 20 at the Statler Hilton Hotel, Boston.

Pauker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Pauker of 207 Pearl Street, Kingston. A native of New York City, Pauker attended Kingston High School and received his A.B. degree (magna cum laude) from Harvard College.

The award is given annually by the Massachusetts Medical Society to a senior medical student at Boston University, Tufts, and Harvard Schools of Medicine for "diligent work as a student and for exemplifying the good physician."

He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa. Pauker is married to the former Susan Perlmutter of Cleveland, Ohio. He plans to intern at the Boston City Hospital.

HOSTESS HURT AT FRIENDS' FAILURE TO RECIPROCATE

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been puzzled and hurt for a number of years about the fact that most of the friends that my husband and I have to our home for dinner parties never reciprocate. Since I love to entertain, I usually ask eight married couples in, two or three times a year, new friends along with old. No one must balance a plate on his knee because the dining room seats sixteen comfortably.

So you won't necessarily think we might be at fault in obvious ways, I would like to add that we are in our early forties, college educated, well-read, and public spirited. We usually invite people of similar backgrounds to ours only because we don't have the opportunity to meet people from different backgrounds. I entertain a bit more lavishly than do most of our friends, but the difference isn't great enough to make anyone uncomfortable.

My question then is: Isn't it in the worst possible taste to accept an invitation to someone's home for dinner when one doesn't have any intention of returning it?—Louise

Dear Louise: As I have said in this column many times, I deplore the attitude, "We'll have the Joneses to dinner because we owe them." However, you are quite right, that dinner invitations should, sooner or later, be returned, and people who have no intention of doing so, should not accept them.

AUNTS ARE GUESTS—NOT MAIDS

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper to ask aunts of the bride to serve at the reception, or would this be wrong since they, too, are guests at the wedding reception? They would be expected to make the coffee and punch, cut the cakes, serve the ice cream and wash up the dishes. —B. Dall

Dear Mrs. Dall: It certainly is not proper! Guests at a wedding (or any other function) should not be asked to act as cooks, waitresses or kitchen maids. If the bride's immediate family cannot afford to hire help to serve the punch and cake and clean up, her mother and sisters (as hostesses) must do so. The aunts are guests and should be treated as such. If they offer to help, fine, but the suggestion must come from them.

What is your most puzzling etiquette problem? To the sender of the most interesting question that we receive each week, we'll send a free copy of Emily Post's Etiquette. The question chosen, and its answer, will be published in this column every Friday. Send your question to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of this newspaper, and don't forget to include your name and address.

Soloists for UCCC President's Inaugural Concert

UCCC STUDENT SOLOISTS who will participate in the President's Inaugural Concert Saturday, May 19, in the auditorium of J. Watson Bailey School, Kingston, are (l-r) Mrs. Shirley Quick, soprano; Miss Marjorie Whitaker, soprano; Richard Duffy, baritone. (Freeman photo by Kruh).

Six student vocal soloists for the President's Inaugural Concert on Sunday, May 19, at 3:30 p.m. in the auditorium of the J. Watson Bailey School in Kingston were announced today by Dr. John F. Park, Coordinator of music at Ulster County Community College.

Soprano soloists for the special concert by the College Chorus will be Miss Mary Ann McCullough, Mrs. Shirley Quick, and Miss Marjorie Whitaker, all of Kingston, and Miss Lois Gerlach of New Salem, Misses Gerlach, McCullough and Whitaker are graduates of Kingston High School where they sang in the Concert Choir under the direction of Leonard Stine. Mrs. Shirley Quick is a soprano soloist at St. James Methodist Church of Kingston, under the direction of Robert Palmatier.

The two baritone soloists to be heard in the May 19 concert will be Richard Duffy, also of Kingston and a former member of the KHS Concert Choir, and Richard Park of Woodstock, who is a graduate of Oteora High School where he sang under the direction of Earl Propper.

The public is invited to hear this concert at the Bailey School which will be presented in formal recognition of the inauguration of Dr. George B. Erbsstein as the College's second president. No tickets will be required, and doors to the auditorium will be open at three o'clock.

Supreme Court Justice to Address Legal Secretaries

The Ulster County Chapter of the National Association of Legal Secretaries will hold its first annual installation of officers on Wednesday, May 15, at 7 p.m. in the Lounge Room of the Governor Clinton Hotel, Kingston.

Preceded by a banquet, the evening promises to be a memorable event in the annals of the Ulster County Chapter.

Miss Ethel Gage of Middletown, past president of the New York State Association of Legal Secretaries and former president of the Orange County Legal Secretaries Association, will preside at the installation of officers for the coming year.

The meeting will be highlighted by the presentation of the Honorable Lawrence H. Cooke, Supreme Court Justice, to the guest speaker, Judge Cooke, a native of Monticello, was graduated from Georgetown University and Albany Law School, and in 1964 he received an honorary Doctor of Laws degree from Siena College in Albany. He was elected county judge of Sullivan County in 1953 and was endorsed for re-election at all parties in 1959. In 1961, he was elected Justice of the Supreme Court and is now serving in that capacity. His active participation in many religious, fraternal, volunteer fireman and community endeavors has made him an outstanding civic leader as well as an eminent jurist.

Six student vocal soloists for the President's Inaugural Concert on Sunday, May 19, at 3:30 p.m., in the auditorium of the J. Watson Bailey School in Kingston were announced today by Dr. John F. Park, Coordinator of music at Ulster County Community College.

Soprano soloists for the special concert by the College Chorus will be Miss Mary Ann McCullough, Mrs. Shirley Quick, and Miss Marjorie Whitaker, all of Kingston, and Miss Lois Gerlach of New Salem. Misses Gerlach, McCullough and Whitaker are graduates of Kingston High School where they sang in the Concert Choir under the direction of Leonard Stine. Mrs. Shirley Quick is a soprano soloist at St. James Methodist Church of Kingston, under the direction of Robert Palmatier.

The two baritone soloists to be heard in the May 19 concert will be Richard Duffy, also of Kingston and a former member of the KHS Concert Choir, and Richard Park of Woodstock, who is a graduate of Ontario High School where he sang under the direction of Earl Proper.

The public is invited to hear this concert at the Bailey School which will be presented in formal recognition of the inauguration of Dr. George B. Erbstein as the College's second president. No tickets will be required, and doors to the auditorium will be open at three o'clock.

Supreme Court Justice to Address Legal Secretaries

The Ulster County Chapter of the National Association of Legal Secretaries will hold its first annual installation of officers on Wednesday, May 15, at 7 p. m., in the Lounge Room of the Governor Clinton Hotel, Kingston.

Preceded by a banquet, the evening promises to be a memorable event in the annals of the Ulster County Chapter.

Miss Ethel Gage of Middletown, past president of the New York State Association of Legal Secretaries and former president of the Orange County Legal Secretaries Association, will preside at the installation of officers for the coming year.

The meeting will be highlighted by the presentation of the Honorable Lawrence H. Cooke, Supreme Court Justice, who will be the guest speaker. Judge Cooke, a native of Monticello, was graduated from Georgetown University and Albany Law School, and in 1964 he received an honorary Doctor of Laws degree from Siena College in Albany. He was elected county judge of Sullivan County in 1953 and was endorsed for re-election by all parties in 1959. In 1961, he was elected Justice of the Supreme Court and is now serving in that capacity. His active participation in many religious, fraternal, volunteer firemanic and community endeavors has made him an outstanding civic leader as well as an eminent jurist.

Schindler Breaks Mile Mark, Effort Cops 100

Six Records Established in Hudson Valley Relays

(Freeman Sports Staff)

Rain, falling through a great portion of the meet, cut the times and distances, but not the spirit of the athletes Saturday as New Paltz High school staged the 17th rendition of the Hudson Valley Relays.

Despite the constant falling rain, four meet records and a pair of class marks fell by the wayside. The biggest record to fall was in the invitational mile where Jim Schindler of Cardinal Stepinac clipped nearly five full seconds off the record held by Kingston's John Tweedy.

Schindler, who bested another KHS miler, Gary Boice, in the event, was timed in 4:20.7, busting Tweedy's two-year-old mark of 4:25.9. Boice was timed in 4:30.2.

The invitational 100-yard dash, expected to be the top event of the day, was a disappointment as the rain muddled the track, causing the times to be way off.

100 Times Slow

Tom Murray of Ellenville, who had a 0:10.05 clocking

going into the event, finished fifth in the event with a 0:10.4 charting. The top four finishers, with Sleepy Hollow's Don Effort in front, were all timed in 0:10.3 in a very tight photo finish.

Rondout Valley's Gordy Taylor was sixth, one-tenth of a second back of Murray.

Other records broken were the junior high relay mark, busted twice, once in Class I and just a few minutes before in Class III, with the Class III standard, 0:47.2, the new meet mark. Class I's time was 0:47.4. The new meet was set by Alexander Hamilton's A team.

Ralph Traeger, competing squad snapped the Class III hurdle triple jump record, Pleasantville's two-mile relay squad snapped the Class III charting and Pine Bush's John Lorusser shattered the pole vault mark for the meet with a vault of 11-6 1/4.

Kingston, which finished second in the mile relay, also took fourth in the two-mile relay while Kevin Williams finished second in the Class I pole vault.

New Paltz wound up in a tie for third in Class III with

Croton-Harmon and Highland. Dana Otis of New Paltz captured the low hurdles event for the only first for the Hudson Valley relay team of John Crawford, Charlie Hicks, Don Huckell and Steve Smith won in the time of 3:49.7.

In Class II, Ontonaga wound up seventh with seven and a half points while Rondout Valley was tied for 11th with five and Ellenville tied Liberty for 13th with two-points apiece.

A total of 44 schools sent runners and field men, and with the rain slowing proceedings down, the relays took nearly seven hours to complete.

New Orleans Winner With 267

More Mad Scrambles Ahead—Archer

By CARROLL P. TROSCIAIR
NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Take it from George Archer, the pro golf circuit is in for more and more mad, fourth-round scrambles like the one the lanky Californian won here Sunday.

Archer had to fight off four challenges in the last round to win the $20,000 first prize in the Greater New Orleans Open. The check moved him into second place among the pro money winners.

Only the big IBM computers could keep up with all the lead changes Sunday before Archer finally won with 69-65-70-67—267, 13 strokes under par at the Lakewood Country Club course.

Bert Yancey won the $12,000 second prize with a 69-69-66—273. Miller Barber, Bobby Cole and Tom Weiskopf shared third place with 276s, each winning $5,600.

It is getting to the point where six men are in fourth round contention for practically every tournament, Archer said. There are too many good golfers around for anyone to run away from the field very often.

All Hell Broke Loose

As the 28-year-old Archer said, it was not until "all hell broke loose" on the back nine Sunday that he finally beat off Weiskopf and Barber in their see-saw race for the lead.

The six-foot-six-inch from Gilroy, Calif., birdied the 11th, 12th and 13th holes to finish off the two third round leaders.

Then Cole got rolling again and moved within two strokes of Archer. It took a lost ball, a penalty and a double bogey, all on the 15th hole, to stop the little South African.

Meanwhile Yancey had come on strong and moved within two strokes of the lead. He stayed there until the 17th hole, when he added another birdie.

Archer planned to play in the Colonial Open at Fort Worth this week before taking a week off. He has now won $77,632 on the 1968 tour. Weiskopf leads with over $80,000.

SWEET TALK — George Archer (C) was a man of few words Sunday when it came time to speak after winning first place and $20,000 in the Greater New Orleans Open. Rather than extend the microphone, the lanky golfer from Gilroy, Calif., just picked it up and expressed his thanks to the crowd. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Mickey Wright Wins Tall City by Four

MIDLAND, Tex. (UPI)—Veteran Mickey Wright scored a three-over-par 72 to outdistance Shirley Englehorn and Carol Mann in the 5th Annual Ladies' Tall City Open Sunday for her third win in four tournaments this year.

Miss Wright had a three day total 66-66-72—204 compared to 69-68-71—208 for Miss Englehorn and 69-68-72—209 for Miss Mann, the defending champion.

Miss Wright picked up $2,625 for her victory.

The only sub par round of the day was a 67 by Judie Rankin who finished in a tie for fourth at 215. Also at 215 was Clifford Ann Creed and Kathy Whitworth.

Miss Wright has one word for playing, "conditions Sunday—tough."

"It is always bad when it is that cold and blowing rain," she said.

Miss Wright said that she "didn't swing well all day long" and had a hard time getting loose.

The win was her third in four tournaments this year. She finished second in the other one. Most of the other women on the tour have played in eight tournaments.

Miss Wright said she definitely will play in the tournament at Glen Oaks at Dallas May 24-26.

Her victory ended Miss Mann's chances to tie Miss Wright's record of four straight tournament victories in one year. Miss Wright accomplished that at the height of her career in 1962 and again in 1963.

Sunday's play was delayed three and one half hours because of blowing rain in the morning. Weather was bad throughout the tournament.

Seven inches of rain Thursday caused tournament officials to shorten the 17th hole to a par 3 instead of the usual par 5.

There was more rain Friday night, Saturday night and Sunday morning.

Clinton Avenue Is Church Champ

Clinton Avenue Methodist No. 1 edged Presbyterian by the narrow margin of a game and a half on the final night of bowling for the championship of the Federation Church League. It was the third straight year that the competition went down to the final night of pin setting.

Clinton Avenue finished with a won-lost record of 57 1/2-41 1/2.

Elwood Robinson had the individual high average with a 177 over the season. James Raymond slammed a 672 high triple and Stuart Smedes had a 263 top game.

Other high averages were Harold Pate 174; Bill Murray 173; Jack Spader 172.5; Chick Smith 172.4; Stuart Smedes 171.6; Paul Stevenson 171.1; Pres DeWitt 170; Bob Nussbaum 169; Art Crist 165.

Schindler Breaks Mile Mark, Effort Cops 100

Six Records Established in Hudson Valley Relays

(Freeman Sports Staff)

Rain, falling through a great portion of the meet, cut the times and distances, but not the spirit of the athletes Saturday as New Paltz High school staged the 17th rendition of the Hudson Valley Relays.

Despite the constant falling rain, four meet records and a pair of class marks fell by the wayside. The biggest record to fall was in the invitational mile where Jim Schindler of Cardinal Stepienac clipped nearly five full seconds off the record held by Kingston's John Tweedy.

Schindler, who bested another KHS miler, Gary Boice, in the event, was timed in 4:20.7, busting Tweedy's two-year-old mark of 4:25.9. Boice was timed in 4:30.2.

The Invitational 100-yard dash, expected to be the top event of the day, was a disappointment as the rain muddled the track, causing the times to be way off.

100 Times Slow

Tom Murray of Ellenville, who had a 0:10.05 clocking

going into the event, finished fifth in the event with a 0:10.4, charting. The top four finishers, with Sleepy Hollow's Don Effort in front, were all timed in 0:10.3 in a very tight photo finish.

Rondout Valley's Gordy Taylor was sixth, one-tenth of a second back of Murray.

Other records broken were the junior high relay mark, busted twice, once in Class I and just a few minutes before in Class III, with the Class III standard, 0:47.2, the new meet mark. Class I's time was 0:47.4. The new meet was set by Alexander Hamilton's A team.

Ralph Traeger, competing squad snapped the Class III broke the triple jump record, Pleasantville's two-mile relay squad snapped the Class III charting and Pine Bush's John Lorusser shattered the pole vault mark for the meet with a vault of 11-6 1/4.

Kingston, which finished second in the mile relay, also took fourth in the two-mile relay while Kevin Williams finished second in the Class I pole vault. New Paltz wound up in a tie for third in Class III with

Croton-Harmon and Highland. Dana Otis of New Paltz captured the low hurdles event for the only first for the Huguenots. Highland's mile medley relay team of John Crawford, Charlie Hicks, Don Huckell and Steve Smith won in the time of 3:49.7.

In Class II, Ontario wound up seventh with seven and a half points while Rondout Valley was tied for 11th with five and Ellenville tied Liberty for 13th with two-points apiece.

A total of 44 schools sent runners and field men, and with the rain slowing proceedings down, the relays took nearly seven hours to complete.

New Orleans Winner With 267

More Mad Scrambles Ahead—Archer

By CARROLL P. TROSCLAIR

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Take it from George Archer, the pro golf circuit is in for more and more mad, fourth-round scrambles like the one the lanky Californian won here Sunday.

Archer had to fight off four challenges in the last round to win the $20,000 first prize in the Greater New Orleans Open. The check moved him into second place among the pro money winners.

Only the big IBM computers could keep up with all the lead changes Sunday before Archer finally won with 69-65-70-67—267, 13 strokes under par at the Lakewood Country Club course.

Bert Yancey won the $12,000 second prize with a 69-69-66—273. Miller Barber, Bobby Cole and Tom Weiskopf shared third

Go Yates Wins

At Saratoga

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (UPI)—Go Yates, with Desi Moran at the reins, rushed to the front at the first turn and topped Mr. Yankee Scott to win the $3,000 Saratoga Harness racing feature Saturday.

Shadydale Gayety was third. The winner, timed in 2:03.4, paid $5.00, $3.60 and $3.20. 1 The double paid $8.60 on 3-3, Katahdin Lady and Lofly John. A crowd of 5,022 bet $296,320.

It is getting to the point where six men are in fourth round contention for practically every tournament, Archer said. There are too many good golfers around for anyone to run away from the field very often.

All Hell Broke Loose

As the 28-year-old Archer said, it was not until "all hell broke loose" on the back nine Sunday that he finally beat off Weiskopf and Barber in their see-saw race for the lead.

The six-foot-six-inch from Gilroy, Calif., birdied the 11th, 12th and 13th holes to finish off the two third round leaders. Then Cole got rolling again and moved within two strokes of Archer. It took a lost ball, a penalty and a double bogey, all on the 15th hole, to stop the little South African.

Meanwhile Yancey had come on strong and moved within two strokes of the lead. He stayed there until the 17th hole, when he added another birdie.

It did not end until Archer sank his fifth birdie of the day, a pressure five-footer on the 18th hole.

Archer planned to play in the Colonial Open at Fort Worth this week before taking a week off. He has now won $77,632 on the 1968 tour. Weiskopf leads with over $80,000.

SWEET TALK — George Archer (C) was a man of few words Sunday when it came time to speak after winning first place and $20,000 in the Greater New Orleans Open. Rather than extend the microphone, the lanky golfer from Gilroy, Cal., just picked it up and expressed his thanks to the crowd. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Mickey Wright Wins Tall City by Four

MIDLAND, Tex. (UPI)—Veteran Mickey Wright scored a three-over-par 72 to outdistance Shirley Englehorn and Carol Mann in the 5th Annual Ladies' Tall City Open Sunday for her third win in four tournaments this year.

Miss Wright had a three day total 66-66-72—204 compared to 69-68-71—208 for Miss Englehorn and 69-68-72—209 for Miss Mann, the defending champion.

Miss Wright picked up $2,625 for her victory.

The only sub par round of the day was a 67 by Judie Rankin who finished in a tie for fourth at 215. Also at 215 was Clifford Ann Creed and Kathy Whitworth.

Miss Wright has one word for playing conditions Sunday—"tough."

"It is always bad when it is that cold and blowing rain," she said.

Miss Wright said that she "didn't swing well all day long" and had a hard time getting loose.

The win was her third in four tournaments this year. She finished second in the other one. Most of the other women on the tour have played in eight tournaments.

Miss Wright said she definitely will play in the tournament at Glen Oaks at Dallas May 24-26.

Her victory ended Miss Mann's chance of four straight tournament victories in one year. Miss Wright accomplished that at the height of her career in 1962 and again in 1963.

Sunday's play was delved three and one half hours because of blowing rain in the morning. Weather was bad throughout the tournament.

Seven inches of rain Thursday caused tournament officials to shorten the 17th hole to a par 3 instead of the usual par 5.

There was more rain Friday night, Saturday night and Sunday morning.

After World War I, Williams pitched and played third base for the U & D railroad team in the original City League at old McVey's Field off Delaware Avenue. It was later to become Hasbrouck Park and is now the site of the John F. Kennedy School.

The U&D lineup had some of the great Kingston area players of that era. Managed by Joe Long it was a powerhouse generated by such standouts as Westfall, Hank Smides, Tierney as catchers; Jackie Long, Joe Butler, Matty Deegan, Big Jack Spalt, who also pitched.

In the outfield was the speedy Leo Fitzgerald, Dumpy Brown, Ray Center and Red McLean.

Williams was widely sought as a pitcher in his heyday and at one time or another played with every team of note in the region. These included Catskill, Coxsackie, Philmont, Red Hook, Rhinebeck, Stottsville, Poughkeepsie, Saugerties, Tannersville, Glasco, Windham, Andes, Roxbury, Newburgh, Middletown Greys, Walden and Wilbur.

Williams will be inducted along with Jimmy Morgan and Eddie Murphy as living members. Posthumous awards go to Leo Fitzgerald, Steve Connelly, Arthur Rice, Cy Connors and Carle Husta.

Who says the "Iron Man" days of baseball are long gone? Hal Sachson, pitching for New Paltz State, proved that there are still some strong-armed hurlers around Saturday, hurling both ends of a doubleheader and posting shutouts in both as NPS downed homestanding Genesee State, 5-0 and 4-0.

Sachson, a 5-foot-10, 153-pound righthander from Brooklyn, limited Genesee to one hit, a clean single, in the first game and came back to scatter seven hits in the nightcap as NPS upped its SUNYAC mark to 3-5 with the doubleheader sweep.

The 19-year-old sophomore was the total master Saturday in the opener, hurling his second one-hitter of the season. It evened his personal record at 3-3, with the second contest pushing him over the .500 mark.

Sachson allowed just two base runners in the opener, as Genesee's Dick Lawton was safe on an error in the third, and opposing pitcher, Joe Conboy, registered the lone hit, a sixth-inning single.

Picks Up Four Whiffs
Sachson picked up four strikeouts and walked none, mixing up the pitches to keep Genesee off balance.

New Paltz got its runs in the fourth (a pair) a solo in the fifth and two more in the seventh to aid Sachson's stellar performance. The big blow was Mark Ascher's fifth-frame double.

In the night cap, Sachson wasn't quite as good, giving up six singles, a double by Dick Luff and seven walks.

Coach Joe Owens, who felt Sachson was as strong at the finish as he was at the start, praised the effort, despite Sachson being in trouble twice.

In the first, Genesee had two on, but Sachson, whiffing the final two batters, got out of the jam. He fell right back in two innings later. Genesee loaded the sacks on a single, a double and a walk, but Sachson again rose to the occasion and bailed himself out.

The Hawks didn't give Sachson the early support he needed, failing to score until the top of the seventh, when they exploded for all their quartet of runs.

In that stanza, Ibrahim Zogby led off and reached base on an error. He moved up on a sacrifice and scored when Ascher drilled a single. Ascher then stole, giving Rick Joseph an open base, which he took on a walk and then Pete Kane, in an attempt to sacrifice, loaded them up when his bunt was misplayed.

Kingston, 1-5 to date, travels to St. Patrick's in Newburgh next Thursday.

The score:
Neil Novesky (M) d. Dave Roberts 6-1, 4-6, 6-2. Bill Zech (K) d. Alex Smith 6-3, 6-4. Keith Kaback (M) d. Steve Lonergan 6-1, 6-3. Neil Novesky and Alex Smith d. Dave Roberts and Steve Lonergan 6-3, 8-10, 11-9. Keith Kaback and Sam Markowitz (M) d. Bill Zech and Jim Boyd 6-1, 6-3.

Paltz Netmen Top Adelphi, 8-1
New Paltz State's tennis team, playing without undefeated Tyrone Sands, upped its record to 3-5-1 Saturday with an 8-1 romp over homestanding Adelphi College.

Sands, the Hawks number four player, and unbeaten all year, was dropped from the squad by the student senate for failure to pay his activity fee for the spring quarter.

Coach Bob Durkin had to do some fast reshuffling to come up with a winner. The lone Hawk defeat in the realignment was number three, Bob Anderson, who took Howie Fosne three sets before finally succumbing, 2-6, 7-5, 6-2.

A pair of other matches went three sets, this time with NPS coming out on top. Steve Bull, moving up into Sands' vacated number four spot, dropped the first set, 6-8, but came back with 6-4, 6-3 wins to take it.

Len Cicone, now the number six man, won it for NPS by dumping Stu Neuman, 6-2, 6-4.

The results:
Bob Heller NP d. Rich Spitzer, 6-0, 6-1.
Rich Griffin (NP) d. Rich Werner, 6-2, 6-2.
Howie Fosne (A) d. Bob Anderson, 2-6, 7-5, 6-2.

State U. Frosh Split Twinbill

New Paltz State University's freshman baseball team split a doubleheader with Oneonta Saturday at Oneonta. The Hawks won the first game 2-0 behind the one-hit pitching of Oscar Kvelland and were powdered 7-3 in the night cap.

Kvelland fanned nine on the way to his win. New Paltz scored their first run in the opening inning.

Bill Stokely singled sharply to right to drive in Gary Canauer, who had walked and then stole second. New Paltz picked up a second run in the top of the seventh.

Horace Hepburn was the losing pitcher.

The Hawks led 3-0 by the top of the second tinning of the night cap, but Oneonta exploded to a 4-3 advantage in the bottom of the third and went on to win 7-3 with runs in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings.

Winner Osprey O'Sullivan fanned seven and walked six, while giving up five hits. Paltz hurler Bob Schnurman allowed five hits and fanned six.

finest independent outfits in the country.

After World War I, Williams pitched and played third base for the U & D railroad team in the original City League at old McVe's Field off Delaware Avenue. It was later to become Hasbrouck Park and is now the site of the John F. Kennedy School.

The U&D lineup had some of the great Kingston area players of that era. Managed by Joe Long it was a powerhouse generated by such standouts as Westfall, Hank Smedes, Tierney as catchers; Jackie Long, Joe Butler, Matty Deegan, Big Jack Spalt, who also pitched.

In the outfield was the speedy Leo Fitzgerald, Denny Brown, Ray Center and Red McLean.

Williams was widely sought as a pitcher in his heyday and at one time or another played with every team of note in the region. These included Catskill, Coxsackie, Philmont, Red Hook, Rhinebeck, Stottsville, Foughkeepsie, Saugerties, Tannersville, Glasco, Windham, Andes, Roxbury, Newburgh, Middletown, Greys, Walden and Wilbur.

Williams will be inducted along with Jimmy Morgan and Eddie Murphy as living members. Posthumous awards go to Leo Fitzgerald, Steve Connelly, Arthur Rice, Cy Connors and Carle Husta.

Middle Netmen Cop 43rd Straight Win

Middletown High School's tennis team extended its string of wins to 43 straight contests — 10 of them this season — by smartly defeating the favored Kingston High squad 4-1 in Middletown.

The Middies made it clear that they intend to win the DUSO and a large share of the Section Nine honors again this year. Middletown's last tennis loss came in 1965 to Newburgh. Prior to that, they had another 43 match winning streak and now stand 86-1 since then.

Neil Novesky of Middletown started the ball rolling with a 6-1, 4-6, 6-2 victory over Dave Roberts. Novesky has been defeated only once since his freshman days. Kingston's only win came from Bill Zeeh. Zeeh bested Alex Smith 6-3, 6-4.

Kingston's Section Nine doubles champion team of

Roberts and Steve Lonergan were toppled by Alex Smith and Neil Novesky 6-3 in the first set. The Maroon battled back to take the second 10-8, but Middletown pulled out a 11-9 win for the match after Kingston ran it out to triple match point three times.

Sachson allowed just two base runners in the opener, as Geneseo's Dick Lawton was safe on an error in the third, and opposing pitcher Joe Conboy registered the lone hit, a sixth-inning single.

Sachson picked up four strikeouts and walked none, mixing up the pitches to keep Geneseo off balance.

New Paltz got its runs in the fourth (a pair) a solo in the fifth and two more in the seventh to aid Sachson's stellar performance. The big blow was Mark Ascher's fifth-frame double.

In the night cap, Sachson wasn't quite as good, giving up six singles, a double by Dick Luff and seven walks.

Coach Joe Owens, who felt Sachson was as strong at the finish as he was at the start, praised the effort, despite Sachson being in trouble twice.

In the first, Geneseo had two on, but Sachson, whiffing the final two batters, got out of the jam. He fell right back in two innings later, Geneseo loaded the sacks on a single, a double and a walk, but Sachson again rose to the occasion and bailed himself out.

The Hawks didn't give Sachson the early support he needed, failing to score until the top of the seventh, when they exploded for all their quarter of runs.

In that stanza, Ibrahim Zoghy led off and reached base on an error. He moved up on a sacrifice and scored when Ascher drilled a single. Ascher then stole, giving Rick Joseph an open base, which he took on a walk and then Pete Kane, in an attempt to sacrifice, loaded them up when his bunt was misplayed.

Middle Netmen Cop 43rd Straight Win

Middletown High School's tennis team extended its string of wins to 43 straight contests — 10 of them this season — by smartly defeating the favored Kingston High squad 4-1 in Middletown.

The Middies made it clear that they intend to win the DUSO and a large share of the Section Nine honors again this year. Middletown's last tennis loss came in 1965 to Newburgh. Prior to that, they had another 43 match winning streak and now stand 86-1 since then.

Neil Novesky of Middletown started the ball rolling with a 6-1, 4-6, 6-2 victory over Dave Roberts. Novesky has been defeated only once since his freshman days. Kingston's only win came from Bill Zeeh. Zeeh bested Alex Smith 6-3, 6-4.

Kingston's Section Nine doubles champion team of

Roberts and Steve Lonergan were toppled by Alex Smith and Neil Novesky 6-3 in the first set. The Maroon battled back to take the second 10-8, but Middletown pulled out a 11-9 win for the match after Kingston ran it out to triple match point three times.

Paltz Netmen Top Adelphi, 8-1
New Paltz State's tennis team, playing without undefeated Tyrone Sands, upped its record to 3-5-1 Saturday with an 8-1 romp over homestanding Adelphi College.

Sands, the Hawks number four player, and unbeaten all year, was dropped from the squad by the student senate for failure to pay his activity fee for the spring quarter.

Coach Bob Durkin had to do some fast reshuffling to come up with a winner. The lone Hawk defeat in the realignment was number three, Bob Anderson, who took Howie Fosne three sets before finally succumbing, 2-6, 7-5, 6-2.

A pair of other matches went three sets, this time with NPS coming out on top. Steve Bull, moving up into Sands' vacated number four spot, dropped the first set, 6-8, but came back with 6-4, 6-3 wins to take it.

Len Ciccone, now the number six man, won it for NPS by dumping Stu Neuman, 6-2, 6-4.

The results:
Bob Heller NP d. Rich Spitzer, 6-0, 6-1.
Rich Griffin (NP) d. Rich Werner, 6-2, 6-2.

Howie Fosne (A) d. Bob Anderson, 2-6, 7-5, 6-2.
Steve Bull (NP) d. Steve Krup, 6-8, 6-4, 6-3.

Allen Masters (NP) d. George Caputo, 6-2, 6-2.
Len Ciccone (NP) d. Stu Neuman, 6-2, 6-4.

Heller-Anderson (NP) d. Spitzer-Krup, 6-1, 6-2.

Who says the "Iron Man" days of baseball are long gone?

Hal Sachson, pitching for New Paltz State, proved that there are still some strong-armed hurlers around Saturday, hurling both ends of a doubleheader and posting shutouts in both as NPS downed homestanding Geneseo State, 5-0 and 4-0.

Sachson, a 5-foot-10, 153-pound righthander from Brooklyn, limited Geneseo to one hit, a clean single, in the first game and came back to scatter seven hits in the nightcap as NPS upped its SUNYAC mark to 3-5 with the doubleheader sweep.

The 19-year-old sophomore was the total master Saturday in the opener, hurling his second one-hitter of the season. It evened his personal record at 3-3, with the second contest pushing him over the .500 mark.

Sachson allowed just two base runners in the opener, as Geneseo's Dick Lawton was safe on an error in the third, and opposing pitcher Joe Conboy registered the lone hit, a sixth-inning single.

Tiant Keeps Gooseeggs Coming

By PETE ALFANO
UPI Sports Writer

Luis Tiant sacrificed form for effectiveness and the results are raising the eyebrows of American League hitters but lowering their batting averages.

The Cleveland Indian right-hander pitched his fourth straight shutout Sunday, one short of the 64-year-old major league mark set by Chicago White Sox pitcher G. Harris White, as he hurled the Indians to a 2-0 first game victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

Stan Williams completed a Cleveland sweep with a route-going 4-1 triumph in the second game as the slumping Orioles dropped their sixth straight contest.

"Throwing the batter off stride is what I'm concentrating on," said the 28-year-old Tiant, who at one time depended solely upon a blazing fastball to record

outs. "Sometimes it looks awkward but I know what I'm doing and it gets the job done."

Tiant, who started his streak with a two-hit shutout over the Washington Senators on April 28th, struck out nine and walked only one while posting his fifth win in seven decisions.

O's Threaten Once

The Orioles' major scoring threat came in the seventh when they put runners on first and third with two out, but Tiant fanned Dave Johnson to end the inning.

"I threw him a high fastball across the letters," said Tiant. "I'm working on every batter as hard as I can. Sure I'll be trying hard to tie that shutout record and maybe break it."

The right-hander is next scheduled to pitch against the New York Yankees on Thursday night in Cleveland.

Tony Horton's single with two

outs in the sixth inning off Tom Phoebus, now 4-3, provided Tiant with the only run he needed.

Williams' first victory of the season was marred by Brooks Robinson's homer in the ninth. A run batted in single by Williams and Jose Cardenal's two-run double highlighted a three-run Indian uprising in the fifth which pinned rookie Dave Leonhardt with his first defeat of the year after two victories.

Yanks Drop Pair

In other American League action, Washington beat Detroit 6-3, Boston swept New York 8-1 and 4-2, Minnesota tripped California 4-2 and Oakland topped Chicago 6-2.

Frank Howard hit his eighth and ninth homers of the year and Ken McMullen socked his fifth as Washington pounded three Detroit pitchers for 11 hits and a 6-3 win.

Ron Perranoski collected his third relief win in five games as the Twins scored two runs in the 10th inning on an error and a bases loaded walk to Bob Allison to beat the Angels.

Fielding lapses by Chicago helped the Athletics overcome a shaky first inning by starter Tony Pierce as Sal Bando collected three hits and two runs batted in for Oakland.

Reds' Johnson Finds Formula to Success

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

Alex Johnson is shaking off the label "minor league wonder" and making a prophet of manager Dave Bristol of the Cincinnati Reds.

A 25-year-old outfielder from Detroit who failed in previous trials with the Philadelphia Phillies and St. Louis Cardinals despite brilliant minor league performances, Johnson is shaping up as the "steal of the year." He was acquired from the Cardinals in exchange for Dick Simpson.

Johnson is making Bristol look good with a 12-game hitting streak and a .327 batting average spiked with nine doubles and 10 runs batted in. He delivered the big blow in a three-run inning rally that carried the Reds to Sunday's 3-1 victory over the San Francisco Giants and gave Gerry Arigo his third win against one loss.

Ray Sadecki and the Giants held a 1-0 lead as a result of Willie Mays' homer in the seventh inning when Leo Cardenas touched off the Reds' winning rally with a single and went to third on Chico Ruiz' single. Cardenas scored as Pete Rose hit into a force play and Cardenas followed with a booming double to score Rose.

Johnson scored the third run in the inning on a single by Tony Perez.

Kingston Sport Club Kickers scored four goals in the second half to defeat league leading White Plains, 4-1, and move one point behind the pace setters in the blistering League Division race in the German-American Soccer League.

White Plains took a 1-0 lead on a goal by Ehnes at the 17-minute mark and that's how the half ended.

It remained 1-0 through 58 minutes, until Elliott Pobbi-Asare scored the equalizer for the Kickers on a perfect pass from Gino Ventriglia.

Fifteen minutes later, Ventriglia scored the go-ahead goal from a well-placed pass by Bill Newmeyerzshsky, who had carried the ball to the White Plains end line and "back passed" it to Ventriglia. The Plainsmen resumed the pressure on goalie Timo Liekoski, but the Kingston defender held firm.

Jim Reinhardt and Wal Grasmier combined on a beautiful pass to a Reiner Schwebel score at the 82-minute mark. Five minutes later, Reinhardt scored on a free kick. It was disallowed because of an off-side.

A minute before the end, Pobbi-Asare put the frosting on the cake by scoring his second and Kingston's fourth goal of the afternoon, with an assist from Ventriglia.

The Kickers were "up" for this brilliant team effort. Liekoski had 13 saves and the White Plains goalie — Meyer — successfully repelled the Kickers 16 times.

Winnie Soddemann and Ron Biggers, playing his best game of the season, excelled for the locals on defense. Biggers did a great job on White Plains' dangerous inside forward, Stoke. He also was able to support Kingston's offensive line of Grasmier, Schwebel, Ventriglia and Pobbi-Asare.

The forward line showed great passing form in scoring four goals against the tough White Plains defense.

Find another car under $2,000 that has all that the Renault 10 has, and we'll buy it for you.

We believe the Renault 10 gives you more for your money than any other car. And the fact that you have heard that we introduced it, leads us to believe that quite a few people agree. We sold 74,000 more 1967 Renaults than 1966 Renaults. But if some doubters remain, we offer this challenge: Find another car under $2,000 that has all that the Renault 10 has, and we'll buy it for you.

The Renault 10 has, as standard equipment:

- 4-wheel disc brakes
- Disc brakes take hard braking better than drum brakes. They have long been used on super-speed, super-priced automobiles.
- 4 doors instead of 2
- You don't have to fight the front seat to get in the back seat.
- Some people say they get more.
- Contoured seats that recline for sleeping
- Plus 15 other positions for when you're not sleeping.
- Engine weight over the drive wheels
- The drive wheels bear down on axle and ice because the engine weight bears down on them.
- Turning circle of 30 feet
- You can make most turns in one clear sweep.
- 4-wheel independent suspension
- Each wheel moves up or down without affecting all the other wheels.

So when one wheel hits a bump, only one gets bumped. The other 3 keep the car and you going in a level position.

4-speed synchromesh transmission

This matches the speed of the engine and transmission to allow the gears to mesh easily. Which makes shifting a lot easier on you and your transmission.

Replaceable water-cooler sleeves

When the cylinders wear out in a conventional engine, the whole engine has to be pulled out and replaced. Sometimes it pays to buy a new car. But a Renault piston moves in a replaceable set sleeve. If the sleeve ever wears out, you can put in a new one easily and inexpensively.

Sealed liquid cooling system with expansion tank

Water-cooled engines are much cooler than air-cooled engines. However, water and anti-freeze can frequently overflow. But Renault's water-cooling system has an expansion tank to keep the overflow from escaping.

5-main-bearing suspension

Instead of three bearings supporting the crankshaft, we have five. (As many as most V-8's.)

Special vents for draft-free ventilation

You can get plenty of fresh air with the windows shut. Which, incidentally, shuts out noise.

Rack and pinion steering

Eliminates play in the steering.

2-speed hot-water heater and dual defroster

Our heater uses the same hot water that circulates in the engine. So your heater heats faster and produces a more even temperature than any 4-cylinder heater.

15 inch wheel

Most economy cars have 13" or less. Our larger wheels make fewer revolutions to go the same distance. Which saves money.

Spare tire not in trunk

If you get a flat you don't have to unload the trunk and get everything dirty.

11 cubic foot trunk capacity

We're not the biggest in this department, but neither are we the smallest. The smallest only has 2-3 cubic feet, which is about as much space as we have behind our back seat alone.

This is a top speed of 85

That's pretty surprising considering the mileage we get.

Unique warranty

12 months, unlimited mileage.

Price — Under $2,000

Way under $2,000.

Bob Foster is title happy. He's anxious to take the light heavyweight championship from Dick Tiger so he can go after the more publicized heavyweight crown.

"That's where the money is," says elongated Bob Foster, who began his boxing career on March 27, 1961, with a two-round knockout of Duke Williams in Washington and earned the meager sum of $23.

But it was a start for the six-foot, three-and-a-half-inch Foster, who knocked out 23 opponents in 33 fights to earn top ranking in the 175-pound class and a shot at Tiger's light heavyweight title in Madison Square Garden May 24.

Does Foster, of Washington, D.C., think he has a chance to beat the 5-8 Tiger, who is outlast a biafra tank?

"I've got to win this fight or face a possible slide to obscurity," emphasizes Foster, a jazz pianist with punching rhythm in both fists. "The small purse from this bout is just a by-product of fighting a man of Tiger's reputation. He gets most of it now, I'll get mine after I win."

Tiger is guaranteed $100,000. Foster gets 60 per cent of the net gate, after the champ's share is deducted.

outs. "Sometimes it looks awkward but I know what I'm doing and it gets the job done."

Tiant, who started his streak with a two-hit shutout over the Washington Senators on April 28th, limited the Orioles to four hits. He struck out nine and walked only one while posting his fifth win in seven decisions.

O's Threaten Once

The Orioles' major scoring threat came in the seventh when they put runners on first and third with two out, but Tiant fanned Dave Johnson to end the inning.

"I threw him a high fastball across the letters," said Tiant. "I'm working on every batter as hard as I can. Sure I'll be trying hard to tie that shutout record and maybe break it."

The right-hander is next scheduled to pitch against the New York Yankees on Thursday night in Cleveland.

Tony Horton's single with two

outs in the sixth inning off Tom Phoebus, now 4-3, provided Tiant with the only run he needed.

Williams' first victory of the season was marred by Brooks Robinson's homer in the ninth. A run batted in single by Williams and Jose Cardenal's three run double highlighted the fifth which pinned rookie Dave Leonhardt with his first defeat of the year after two victories.

Yanks Drop Pair

In other American League action, Washington beat Detroit 6-3, Boston swept New York 8-1 and 4-2, Minnesota tripped California 4-2 and Oakland topped Chicago 6-2.

Frank Howard hit his eighth and ninth homers of the year and Ken McMullen socked his fifth as Washington pounded three Detroit pitchers for 11 hits and a 6-3 win.

Ron Perranoski collected his third relief win in five games as the Twins scored two runs in the 10th inning on an error and a bases loaded walk to Bob Allison to beat the Angels.

Fielding lapses by Chicago helped the Athletics overcome a shaky first inning by starter Tony Pierce as Sal Bando collected three hits and two runs batted in for Oakland.

For Another YearBy BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television WriterHOLLYWOOD (AP) —
"Gunsmoke" is shooting again, and all's well in the television world.There is something reassuring about having the CBS Western once more in production; it makes you feel that there's something permanent in TV after all. Without "Gunsmoke," Ed Sullivan, Lucille Ball and
"Dragnet," the home-screen entertainment would have an ephemeral air.Jim Arness is back as tall in the saddle and silent in the interview as ever. Good ole Doc
— Milburn Stone — remains thoroughly encrusted. As for gold-hearted Kitty, she's still 24-carat."Nobody's going to tamper
with her character," said Amanda Blake, just daring anyone to try. "She has been the same since about the second half of the second season, when she became Matt Dillon's girl.
Before that, she was just one of the girls in the saloon and didn't play any favorites."

Different Activities

Well, maybe Kitty's activities have changed a bit since "Gunsmoke" moved to an early hour on Monday nights. Miss Blake admitted, Kitty hasn't been in danger of rape since the youngsters were invited to share the adventures of Dodge City. But she has been kidnapped."Good lord, have I been kidnaped!" she exclaimed. "I'm sick and tired of it. It whistles claim I can't be in jeopardy as long as I'm in town—because Matt would protect me. So they keep having me kidnapped. I sure wish they'd think of something else."Like a bedroom scene with Matt, she used to have some good scenes upstairs with Matt,
all very chaste of course. "We didn't even have a bed in the room!" Nowadays Matt never gets up those stairs.Despite her complaints, Amanda Blake leaves no doubt that she is deeply devoted to "Gunsmoke." It has brought her wealth in the millions and honors galore, the latest being her election to the Cowboy Hall
of Fame in Oklahoma City. She is the first woman so distinguished, and she has been chosen for a bust sculpted by Leonard McMurray.Being so loyal to the series,
she was naturally upset when CBS abruptly canceled "Gunsmoke" a couple of years ago.
Upset? It was more like an explosion over Studio City.She still gets incensed when she thinks about it."I've heard many stories about the reason for it and I consider all of them lies," she remarked. "One of the reports I got was that we were done in by a computer. Yes, that was what I heard. That the computer said
we weren't reaching the 18-25
age bracket—they're supposed to be all-important."

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, May 13, the 134th day of 1968. There are 232 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1607, Jamestown, Va., was founded. It was the first permanent English settlement in America.

On this date:

In 1809, Napoleon Bonaparte
captured Vienna.In 1846, the U.S. Congress declared that a state of war existed between the United States and Mexico.In 1865, the last engagement
of the Civil War took place at Palo Pinto, Tex.In 1940, Queen Wilhelmina and Crown Prince Juliana of the Netherlands fled to London
ahead of Nazi invaders.Also in 1930, Prime Minister Winston S. Churchill told the British: "I have nothing to offer but blood, toil, tears and sweat."In 1946, the Allied military government ordered that all Nazi military memorials be destroyed.Ten years ago — Vice President Richard M. Nixon was attacked by mobs in Caracas, Venezuela, during a goodwill tour of South America.Five years ago — There was some easing of racial tension in Birmingham, Ala., after violent
outbreaks.One year ago—Pope Paul VI
was on a pilgrimage to the Shrine of Fatima in Portugal.★ Income Tax Aid ★ ★ Offered Tuesday ★Internal Revenue District Director Donald T. Hartley announced today revised days and hours for assistance to taxpayers who need federal tax information. The Kingston office at 59 North Front Street will be open from 9 a. m. to noon
Tuesday for the assistance of taxpayers.Director Hartley offered the following suggestions to make filing next year return easier:
Keep good records—If you don't pay by check, always get a paid bill or receipt as a record of your payment.Keep all your records including cancelled checks, paid
bills, interest and dividend statements etc. in the same place so that they can easily be located during tax filing
time.Tax records must be retained until the expiration of the statute of limitation. Ordinarily this is 3 years from the date
the return was due or filed, whichever is later.★ Long-Term Debt ★ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—Mrs.
Pat Orlando Tuesday paid the last $104 of a $134 plumbing bill

When the Federal Reserve
Board recently increased the discount rate to 5.5%, it set up a field day for investors. To hold down inflation, money was made more expensive than it has been for decades.In 1948 the discount rate was as low as 1.25%. In 1956 it was 2%.Investors in bonds, preferred and common stocks can greatly benefit from these high interest rates. The bank stocks of the big commercial banks will be especially helped.For instance, America's leading wholesale-commercial bank,
with loans and discounts of around $4.5 billion, increased its prime rates about one-half of 1% annually. That alone will increase gross revenues by over $22 million a year.This bank has only 25,000 de-positors. The demand-deposit accounts are huge in size. Today they total over $3.75 billion. The bank gets the use of this money
at no cost except for the expense of paying salaries to the officers and employees taking care of the money.The U.S. Treasury 4% bonds due in five years are selling for about 91. affording a yield to maturity of 5.5%.The Treasury 4% bonds due in 12 years can be had at around
85, with a yield of 5.7%.The long-term 3.5% obligations due in 1990 are selling for 76.Uncle Sam, through the Congress, has unlimited borrowing power, and when his bonds ma-ture, holders get cash if they want it.Probably the best manner for an inexperienced investor to get acclimated to the vast securities world is by purchasing the bonds of the richest and strongest country in the world. The bonds mentioned here can be bought and sold instantly. Or they can be used as collateral when loans are made.It should be reiterated that present expensive money conditions (which will not last forever) have driven bond prices down to the lowest level in

about having the CBS Western
once more in production; it makes you feel that there's something permanent in TV after all. Without "Gunsmoke," Sullivan, Lucille Ball and
"Dragnet," the home-screen entertainment would have an ephemeral air.Jim Arness is back as tall in the saddle and silent in the interview as ever. Good ole Doc
—Milburn Stone—remains thoroughly entrenched. As for gold-hearted Kitty, she's still 24-car-
at."Nobody's going to tamper
with her character," said Amanda Blake, just during anyone to try. "She has been the same since the second half of the second season, when she became Matt Dillon's girl. Before that, she was just one of the girls in the saloon and didn't

Different Activities

Well, maybe Kitty's activities have changed a bit since "Gun-smoke" moved to an early hour
on Monday nights. Miss Blake
admitted, Kitty hasn't been in danger of rape since the youngsters were invited to share the
adventures of Dodge City. But she has been kidnapped."Good lord, have I been kidnaped!" she exclaimed. "I'm sick and tired of it. It writes claim I can't be in jeopardy as long as I'm in town—because Matt would protect me. So they keep having me kidnapped. I sure wish they'd think of something else."Like a bedroom scene with Matt. She used to have some good scenes upstairs with Matt,
all very chaste of course. "We didn't even have a bed in the room!" Nowadays Matt never
gets up those stairs.Despite her complaints,
Amanda Blake leaves no doubt
that she is deeply devoted to
"Gunsmoke." It has brought her wealth in the millions and
honors galore, the latest being
her election to the Cowboy Hall
of Fame in Oklahoma City. She is the first woman so distinguished, and she has been os-singing for a bust sculpted by Leonard McMurray.Being so loyal to the series,
she was naturally upset when CBS abruptly canceled "Gun-smoke" a couple of years ago.
Upset? It was more like an explosion over Studio City.She still gets incensed when she thinks about it."I've heard many stories about the reason for it and I consider all of them lies," she remarked. "One of the reports I got was that we were done in by a computer. Yes, that was what
I heard. That the computer said
we weren't reaching the 18-25
age bracket—they're supposed to be all-important."

Word From Computer

"We were getting to the 25-40 audience, which supposedly didn't count. So the computer said to fire us."It's possible that the computer has since been fired, because a wave of protest caused CBS to reconsider. At the new hour

"Gunsmoke" came back in the ratings just like—well, "Gun-smoke."Scripts are built around Kitty about three times each season, and she makes briefer appearances in most of the other segments. Would she like to do more?
"Well, it's like this—I hate
Los Angeles and I love Phoenix," said Miss Blake, who lives in Arizona with her husband, Frank Gilbert, "and I'm scared of airplanes. So I'm happy just the way things are."Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, May 13, the 134th day of 1968. There are 232
days left in the year.Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1607, Jamestown, Va., was founded. It was the first permanent English settlement in America.

On this date:

In 1809, Napoleon Bonaparte
captured Vienna.In 1846, the U.S. Congress declared that a state of war existed between the United States
and Mexico.In 1865, the last engagement
of the Civil War took place at Palo Pinto, Tex.In 1940, Queen Wilhelmina and Crown Princess Juliana of the Netherlands fled to London
ahead of Nazi invaders.Also in 1930, Prime Minister Winston S. Churchill told the British: "I have nothing to offer
but blood, toil, tears and sweat."In 1946, the Allied military government ordered that all Nazi military memorials be destroyed.Ten years ago — Vice President Richard M. Nixon was attacked by mobs in Caracas,
Venezuela, during a goodwill
tour of South America.Five years ago — There was some easing of racial tension in Birmingham, Ala., after violent
outbreaks.One year ago—Pope Paul VI
was on a pilgrimage to the Shrine of Fatima in Portugal.Income Tax Aid
Offered TuesdayInternal Revenue District Director Donald T. Hartley announced today revised dates
and hours for assistance to taxpayers who need federal tax information. The Kingston office
at 59 North Front Street will be open from 9 a. m. to noon
Tuesday for the assistance of taxpayers.Director Hartley offered the following suggestions to make filing next year's return easier:
Keep good records—If you don't pay by check, always get a paid bill or receipt as a record of your payment.Keep all your records including cancelled checks, paid
bills, interest and dividend
statements etc. in the same place so that they can easily
be located during tax filing
time.Tax records must be retained
until the expiration of the statute of limitation. Ordinarily this is 3 years from the date
the return was due or filed, whichever is later.

Long-Term Debt

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—Mrs.
Pat Orlando Tuesday paid the
last $104 of a $134 plumbing bill
her grandmother had owed since 1919.She paid the son of the plumber who did the work but had since died.

VISIT IBM PLANT — W. Robert Reebel, laboratory education manager, touched upon the highlights of careers in computer programming recently, when 12 high school seniors visited the local IBM plant as part of Kingston Rotary Club program of occupational information of students. Accompanying the advanced mathematics students, were Edgar Stevens, head of the Mathematics Department at the High School; Norman Chrystie, Rotary Program Chairman and Jacob Nolfo, Kingston High School Student Advisor.

FIELD DAY FOR INVESTORS

When the Federal Reserve
Board recently increased the discount rate to 5.5%, it set up
a field day for investors. To hold down inflation, money was made more expensive than it has been for decades.In 1948 the discount rate was as low as 1.25%. In 1956 it was
2%.Investors in bonds, preferred
and common stocks can greatly benefit from these high interest rates. The bank stocks of the big commercial banks will be especially helpful.For instance, America's leading wholesale-commercial bank,
with loans and discounts of around $4.5 billion, increased its prime rates about one-half of 1% annually. That alone will increase gross revenues by over $22 million a year.This bank has only 25,000 de-positors. The demand-deposit accounts are huge in size. Today
they total over $3.75 billion. The bank gets the use of this money
at no cost except for the expense of paying salaries to the officers and employees taking care of the money.The U.S. Treasury 4% bonds
due in five years are selling for
about 91, affording a yield to maturity of 5.5%.The Treasury 4% bonds due in 12 years can be had at around
85, with a yield of 5.7%.The long-term 3.5% obligations due in 1990 are selling for 76.Uncle Sam, through the Congress, has unlimited borrowing
power, and when his bonds ma-ture, holders get cash if they want it.Probably the best manner for an inexperienced investor to get acclimated to the vast securities world is by purchasing the bonds of the richest and strongest country in the world. The bonds mentioned here can be bought and sold instantly. Or
they can be used as collateral
when loans are made.It should be reiterated that
present expensive money conditions (which will not last forever) have driven bond prices
down to the lowest level in many years. And now is a splendid time for new investors to get their feet wet.To many inquiring investors:
your broker or banker can help you in all the matters suggested here.(Important investment guidelines and facts about 100 top businesses are provided in Dr.
France's new 46-page booklet, "Managing Money." Send $1 (no stamps) to Dr. Harry C.
France, The Kingston Daily
Freeman, Box 2492, Grand Central

Health for All

No Breath to Spare

Every five years—three times since 1950—the number of deaths per year has doubled.
That's the gloomy record set by a disease that, a short while back, few people had ever heard of. The disease is emphysema, an impairment of the lungs that shortens the breath.Increasing deaths are not the whole story of the growth in emphysema cases. It's a disease that's slow and insidious in its attack. When shortness of breath starts, and then gets slowly worse, the victim may not realize for months or even years what's going on. But in time he may have to cut down his activities and get along with doing less work, less play, less getting around.That may go on for years, too.
Lots of disabled people owe their disability to shortness of breath caused by emphysema.It's second only to heart disease as a cause of disability payments under Social Security.
Doctors don't know what causes emphysema, though they suspect cigarette smoking may play a part, and the polluted air we all breathe doesn't help.
There's no cure for the lung damage once it happens. But the doctors can help an emphysema victim live with his disease and keep functioning up to the top of his abilities.Better not ignore the situation if you suddenly realize you're a lot more short of breath than you used to be. For example, if you now find yourself gasping at the top of flight of stairs you formerly took in your stride.If that happens, get your doctor to check on the possibility of emphysema. He can help in many ways. For more information, ask questions of the local affiliate of the National Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association.This column is sponsored in the interest of better health by the Ulster County TB and Health Association, 124 Green Street.IEEE Meeting Slated May 16The spring meeting of the Power Chapter of the Mid-Hudson section, Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers will be held Thursday,
May 16, at 7:15 p.m. at the Pleasant Valley Substation of the Consolidated Edison Company.The substation is located off Route 44 in the town of Pleasant Valley, approximately seven miles east of Poughkeepsie.
James Giambalvo, assistant division engineer, station design division of the inside plant bureau at Con Edson, will discuss the background, layout, and provisions for future expansion of the 345,000 volt portion of the station, with emphasis on such special features as the duplicate protection facilities.The formal presentation will be followed by a guided tour and inspection of the 345,000 volt switchyard.

List Sure Way To Diagnose TB

Today there is only one sure way to diagnose tuberculosis:
laboratory analysis of body fluids, especially sputum.Damage that shows up on X-rays of the lungs are suspicious signs. So are positive reactions to tuberculin tests. But neither — nor even both together — are proof positive of TB. For conclusive proof, the TB germ must be spotted under the microscope.Symptoms are deceiving. Some patients, labeled as active TB cases and put on drug therapy, show all the signs of TB. But they could have a fungus or lung cancer. Or a pseudo-TB infection, one that may look like tuberculosis but doesn't respond to the tried and proven anti-TB drug.Laboratories that use up-to-date procedures can find out for certain — in three weeks — two vital pieces of information:
whether or not the patient's sputum contains the TB germ, and which anti-TB drugs will be effective for him. Even before the patient himself swallows a single pill, the laboratory analysis can determine which drugs he will respond to most effectively.Not all physicians, unfortunately, use laboratories that perform TB work. Recent Public Health Service figures show that 14 per cent of the new, active cases diagnosed as TB had no laboratory confirmation.But the trend — in fact the necessity — is for laboratory confirmation. It is essential not only for diagnosis but for checking on the patient's progress—the only sure way to monitor the TB patient's response to drugs.Your tuberculosis and respiratory disease association is now doing all it can to spread this important message: The laboratory is a central focus of the TB picture today.

APICS to Meet

The May 15 meeting of the Mid-Hudson Chapter of APICS will be held at the Beekman Arms Hotel, Rhinebeck.Speaker of the evening will be Robert Cronan of Rath and strong, Industrial Consultants, Boston, Mass., who will speak on the subject of "Critical Ratio Scheduling."Cronan was the author of APICS training aid, number 2 on the aforementioned subject. He is a graduate of Harvard Business School and was formerly manager of Inventory Planning and Control for the Johns-Manville Corporation.He has been associated with his present firm for five years, mostly concerning production and inventory control system.
The nominating committee will nominate a slate of officers at this meeting.

EMPLOYMENT

ATTENTION JOB APPLICANTS
The Kingston Daily Freeman does not knowingly accept Help Wanted ads from employers covered by the Federal Fair Standards Act if they offer less than the legal minimum wage or fail to pay at least time and one-half for overtime hours. The minimum wage for employment covered by the FLSA prior to the 1966 Amendments is $1.60 an hour with overtime pay required after 40 hours a week. Jobs covered as a result of the 1966 Amendments require $1.10 hour minimum with overtime pay required after 40 hours a week.
For specific information, contact the Wage and Hour Office of the U. S. Department of Labor, 881 Gerard Ave., Room 2, N. Y.
10452 Wadsworth 2-1235.

IMPORTANT NOTICE: The New York State Labor Law against Discrimination and the Federal Civil Rights Act of 1964 prohibit discrimination in employment because of race, sex, religion, or national origin. Unless based on a bona fide occupational qualification, Help Wanted ads are arranged in columns captioned "Male" and "Female" for the convenience of readers and not intended as an unlawful limitation or discrimination based on sex.

Dear Abby

Toaster'll Warm Her Heart

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I was given my mother's day present a few days prematurely because, "It was something I would find useful" and there was no sense having me do without it another day. You have no idea how disappointed I was to find my "gift" was a household appliance.

Please warn these unsuspecting, generous shoppers not to be brainwashed by salespeople who will try to sell them electric appliances, such as toasters, mixers, blenders, vacuum cleaners, and washer-dryers to them. These items are not really gifts, they are tools of her trade just as a saw and hammer are a carpenter's tools.

How many husbands would be thrilled to unwrap a pair of hedge clippers, or a gallon of paint and some brushes on Father's day?

ONE WHO KNOWS
DEAR ONE: Sorry, but you rattled the wrong cage. Any of the "tools" you mentioned would be a most welcome gift to the woman who faces the normal routine of housework daily. As long as she must cook, clean, and do the laundry, anything that helps her to do it more easily and faster is indeed a great gift.

DEAR ABBY: Our son, who is a sophomore at college (about 200 miles from home) has been bringing home his "girl" for week-ends since last October. She also is a sophomore, and seems to be a nice enough girl, but we don't "know" her any better now than the first time he brought her home. You see, she always has a book plying while everyone is conversing, and keeps her nose in the book. She hardly ever says a word, her head is down and she reads. I say this is very rude. Our son has tried on several occasions to draw her into the conversation, but so far he hasn't succeeded. Is there some way WE can pry some conversation out of her so we can find out what she is like? Our son thinks she's "wonderful." This is wonderful?

HIS MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: The girl is shy and sadly lacking in self-confidence. Let her hide. She's using the book as a "shield" when she feels more at home with you, perhaps she'll turn over a new leaf.

DEAR ABBY: You devoted a lot of space to whether parents (for the sake of a healthier sex education) should allow their children to witness a cat bearing kittens. Some said yes, some said no.

Any parents who would permit the family cat to bear kittens for the sake of "educating" their children should commission special permission to see the gas chambers where unwanted kittens and puppies are disposed of.

This will clearly show the fate of the majority of unwanted animals produced by negligent, irresponsible owners.

We do not need more animals who eventually will die of disease, starvation, poison, and under car wheels.

If you love animals you will print this so your readers will know the seriousness of permitting pets to breed accidentally.

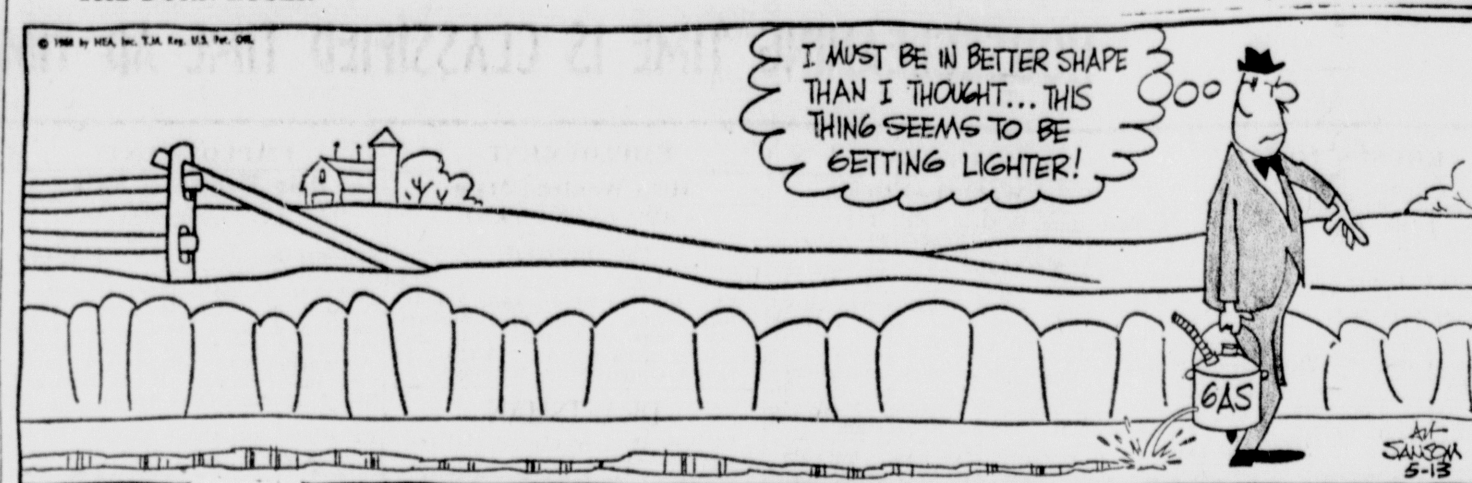

Feline Affiliates, Ltd. President
CONFIDENTIAL TO "Lucy in New London": You can't always tell from appearances. The guy you peg as the "early bird" may have been up all night.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

FOR ABBY'S BOOKLET, "HOW TO HAVE A LOVELY WEDDING," SEND $1.00 TO ABBY, BOX 69700, LOS ANGELES, CAL., 90069.

It's In The Stars —

("The wise man controls his destiny... astrology points the way.")

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, MAY 14, 1968

ARIES (March 21 - April 19): Tonight, word you get from one in authority enhances your prestige. Appointment you have been seeking could become reality. Earlier catch up on correspondence, vacation planning. Balance work, play.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Now you finish rather than begin ventures. Money questions are settled but not in manner you expected. Key is to relax, go with the tide. Old friend repays a favor.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): You solve puzzle by tonight. Could prove profitable. Your creative edge is sharp. People who can help do so. Accent on marriage, partnerships and successful investment.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Use intuition in making judgment concerning written agreement. One who has taught you much now deserves your special consideration. Cement relations with mate, partner. Don't brood.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Stress versatility. Expand sphere of interest, activity. Loved one collects valuable data. Tonight you could be in for surprise of pleasant variety. Be flexible—smile and you win.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Get down to practical issues in dealing with children. Other loved ones. Time for pretense is gone. Now you face issues and express frank opinions. Don't beat about the bush—state case now.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Home affairs dominate tonight. Earlier, your mind is centered on travel, change—later, you come down to earth. Don't compound error. Know where you belong—get there.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Study LIBRA message. If you listen to relatives, you could be confused. Decide for yourself. Separate basic issues from wishful thinking. Accent on home, building, practical affairs.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Brooding accomplishes nothing. Early, you feel empty, without purpose. Before day is finished you have motive responsibility. You come alive. Build, shore up emotional reserves.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Cycle moves up tonight. What you have been waiting for comes to pass. Take initiative. Be self-starter. Others have doubts. But you know where you are headed—get going.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): A friends could confide secret. Key is to be sympathetic without becoming inextricably involved. Finish what you start. Work with associates. Toss aside secret fears.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): New friends, fresh contacts, different viewpoint accented today. Discard the old: don't hang on to what has passed. Strive for new horizons. Your potential is great. Start living up to it.

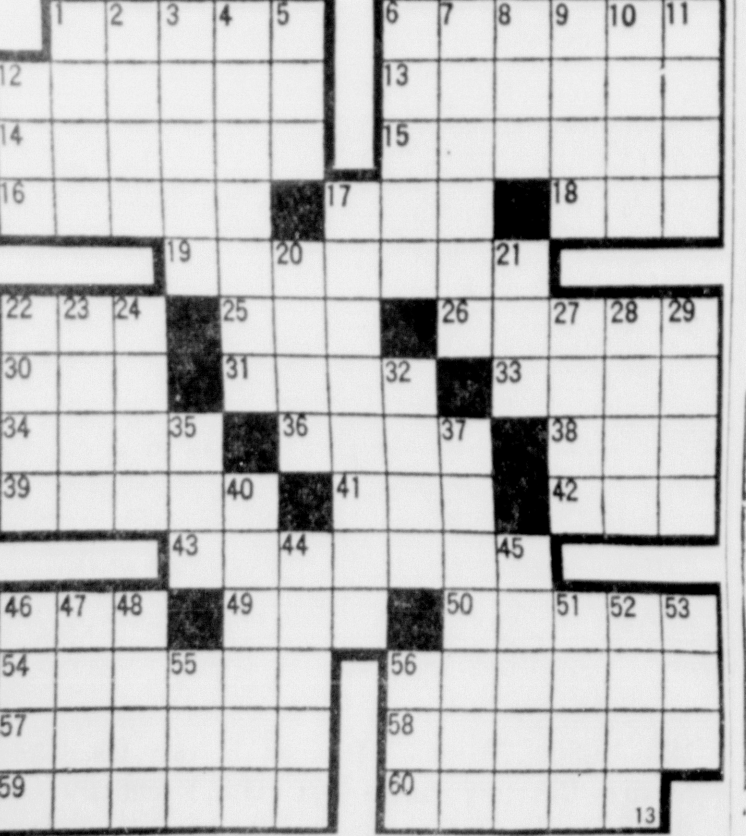

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY, you possess intellectual curiosity; you are a natural reporter, researcher. You are fascinated with photography, other means of recording current events. Interest in history, science and religion now at forefront.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Lunar position good for fishing. Cycle high for CAPRICORN. Special word to CANCER: permit those close to you to have spotlight. Take it easy. ## Not a Golden Year for TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Television's awards show, in which the Emmys will be passed out, comes along next Sunday night, pretty much winding up the awards season.

Predictable Stuff

This has not been one of television's golden years. By and large, the regular fare, the series, have been predictable.

This viewer, confronted with almost 250 nominees, would find it difficult to pick a favorite program or performer in most of the 47 categories.

Certainly much of the season's excitement was stimulated, first, by "The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour," and later, by Rowan and Martin's "Laugh-In." Both shows have several nominations and certainly deserve recognition if only for bringing some spice, daring and often a point of view, into an entertainment area that had been slipping into a bland and perfunctory rut.

Occasionally there may have been lapses in taste and the viewer on occasion could disagree violently with their expressions of opinion, but the two shows combined to make a more stimulating season.

CBS' "Playhouse" made a stab at bringing back meaningful, original drama, and had some success with two efforts, "Do Not Go Gentle into that Good Night" and "Dear Friends."

ABC's adaptations of some old movies with new stars didn't come off very well, but a Case of Libel, with Van Heflin recreating his stage role, provided a fine evening of television.

Among the variety specials, one recalls with affection, Herb Alpert and the Tijuana Brass, on CBS, a most imaginative show, and Frank Sinatra's NBC special with Ella Fitzgerald.

Raymond Burr probably deserves some award for managing, within a few months, to blur his well-established image as Perry Mason by developing a completely different and equally convincing character named Ironside—so convincing a lot of fans believe Burr is really paralyzed and in a wheelchair.

Not Too Impressive

PBL" on the educational network tried hard if not always successfully, in the current affairs area, ABC's "The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich" was a painstaking and well-researched three-part series, and its African, a marathon program that taxed the viewer's stamina, was certainly an ambitious piece of public service.

That does not add up to much of a list when one considers the thousands of hours of programming that went on the air. That is just one viewer's list—and any fairly regular viewer can make up his own.

OFFICE CAT

By Junius

Trade Mark Reg.

Life, misfortunes, isolation, abandonment, poverty, are battlefields which have their heroes; obscure heroes, sometimes greater than the illustrious heroes.

An Arkansas hillbilly built a house for his wife in which he fashioned windows, but no doors.

Mary (the bride)—Where are the doors?

The hillbilly drew himself up to his full height and replied: Sam—Doors? Are you going somewhere?

One friend said to another: Cal—Say, how did you get that scar across the bridge of your nose?

Hal—From glasses.

Cal—Well why don't you get contact lenses?

Hal—They don't hold enough beer.

Not a Golden Year for TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Television's awards show, in which the Emmys will be passed out, comes along next Sunday night, pretty much winding up the awards season.

Predictable Stuff
This has not been one of television's golden years. By and large, the regular fare, the series, have been predictable, grade B stuff. There has been a feast of old movies and a famine of meaty, quality drama.

This viewer, confronted with almost 250 nominees, would find it difficult to pick a favorite program or performer in most of the 47 categories.

Certainly much of the season's excitement was stimulated, first, by "The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour," and later, by "Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In." Both shows have several nominations and certainly deserve recognition if only for bringing some spice, daring and often a point of view into an entertainment area that had been slipping into a bland and perfunctory rut.

Occasionally there have been lapses in taste and the viewer on occasion could disagree violently with their expressions of opinion, but the two shows combined to make a more stimulating season.

CBS' "Playhouse" made a stab at bringing back meaningful, original drama, and had some success with two efforts, "Do Not Go Gentle into that Good Night" and "Dear Friends."

ABC's adaptations of some old movies with new stars didn't come off very well, but "A Case of Libel," with Van Heflin recreating his stage role, provided a fine evening of television.

Among the variety specials, one recalls with affection, Herb Alpert and the Tijuana Brass, on CBS, a most imaginative show, and Frank Sinatra's NBC special with Ella Fitzgerald.

Raymond Burr probably deserves some award for managing, within a few months, to blur his well-established image as Perry Mason by developing a completely different and equally convincing character named Ironside—so convincing a lot of fans believe Burr is really paralyzed and in a wheelchair.

Not Too Impressive
PBL's on the educational network tried hard if not always successfully, in the current affairs area, ABC's "The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich" was a painstaking and well-researched three-part series, and its "Africa," a marathon program that taxed the viewer's stamina, was certainly an ambitious piece of public service.

That does not add up to much of a list when one considers the thousands of hours of programming that went on the air. That is just one viewer's list—and one fairly regular viewer can make up his own.

20,000 Reservists Go on Active Duty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nearly 20,000 Army, Air Force and Navy Reservists and National Guardsmen about half of them Vietnam-bound, answered President Johnson's call to active duty today.

How long they stay in uniform will depend at least partly on the course of U.S.-North Vietnam talks beginning today in Paris. They could be held on active duty for up to two years.

The course of the peace talks may also determine whether any more citizen soldiers and sailors will be called up. Pentagon officials said no decision has been reached on any further muster of Reservists.

Acting on Johnson's orders, Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford announced April 11 that about 24,500 reservists were being ordered to active duty. They were given 30 days to arrange their affairs before putting on their uniforms.

Clifford said about 10,000 of the Reservists and Guardsmen would be sent to Vietnam to provide needed support troops and the rest would help fill out the badly depleted central force of

Stop Nixon Claim, Aim of Rocky's Aide

HONOLULU (AP) — One of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's top advisers is talking privately to Western Republican governors here, seeking to stop Richard M. Nixon from staking a claim in the West in his race for the GOP presidential nomination.

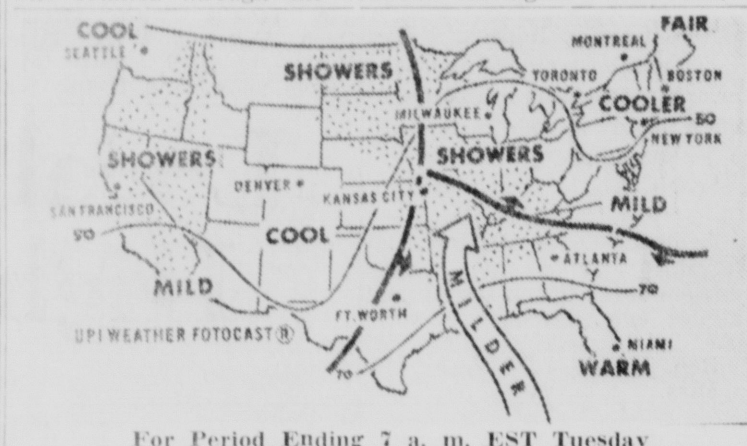

Leonard Hall, former Republican national chairman, conferred with California Gov. Ronald Reagan—himself a potential nominee—and others of the 11 Republican chief executives at the Western Governors Conference.

"Just social calls," said Hall, who roamed through the convention hotel on the beach at Waikiki dressed in a Hawaiian shirt, the uniform of this meeting.

Thirteen state chief executives and the governors of American Samoa and Guam began four days of meetings on such Western problems as resources, transportation, economic development, land management and water.

As usual, however, gubernatorial political talks attracted as much attention as the morning and afternoon meetings on state problems.

Between meetings, the governors relaxed on the beach or saw the sights of Honolulu.

For Period Ending 7 a. m. EST Tuesday

Tonight, showers and thundershowers are expected from the northern Plains, the eastern part of the central Plains to the Mississippi valley and the Tennessee valley. Showers are forecast in the western part of the Rockies and the Tennessee valley. Showers are forecast in the western part of the Rockies and the Sierra Nevada range. Clear to partly cloudy skies should prevail for the rest of the nation. Cooler readings are expected for the northeast quadrant of the country. Temperatures will moderate somewhat in the Plains and the Mississippi valley.

Stalled Long Enough on the Guns: Travia Demands Assembly Vote

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Speaker Anthony J. Travia demanded an Assembly vote today on Gov. Rockefeller's gun-control plan as part of a drive to bring the legislature's 1968 session to a close on Saturday, if possible.

Win or Lose It

"We've stalled around with this issue long enough," said the powerful Democratic leader. "We're going to win it or lose it — right now."

Travia, who favors the proposal to license rifles and shotguns, said he feared the measure would be defeated, primarily because of opposition by sportsmen's groups. But, he said, it's time to dispose of the question.

"If we're going to get out of here, we've got to start moving," he added, waving a hand over piles of pending legislation stacked on his desk at the Capitol.

Travia and Senate Majority Leader Earl W. Brydges, the legislature's leading Republican, agreed on a tentative adjournment date of May 18 after settling their differences over the $5.4-billion state budget last week.

One fiscal question was left hanging — the possibility of raising the liquor tax and using the proceeds to reimburse some Medicaid benefits. But it looked today as though the matter will be left there.

"There just isn't any Republican support for it," Brydges told The Associated Press on Sunday.

"I'd have to say the chances don't look good," Travia conceded in a separate interview. He had been pushing the idea.

Last Tuesday, the Republican ruled Senate and Democratic-controlled Assembly agreed on and enacted a $150-million package of tax increases to help finance the budget.

Brydges was prepared, in addition, to grant Gov. Rockefeller's request for a 10-cent-a-fifth increase in the liquor tax, worth an estimated $16.5 million in the current fiscal year. But Travia refused to bring the liquor measure before his house unless the Republicans agreed to restore outpatient hospital benefits to Medicaid recipients in the 21-65 age bracket. They lost this privilege in a Republican-conceived Medicaid cutback earlier in the year.

Brydges said he and Assembly Minority Leader Perry B. Duryea Jr. had canvassed GOP rank- and file lawmakers and found virtually no takers for the liquor-Medicaid combination.

Rather than derail the adjournment drive by holding out against heavy odds, Travia indicated he was prepared to accept the GOP verdict and move on to other business.

Accordingly, he singled out Rockefeller's gun-control bill, which has been on the Assembly calendar, awaiting action. The bill's sponsor, Assemblyman S. William Green, R-Manhattan, has been reluctant to call for a vote, fearful of the outcome.

Faces Senate 'Death'

Even if the bill should gain Assembly passage, however, it almost certainly would be killed in the Senate, Brydges and other GOP senators strongly oppose it.

Among other major business awaiting attention in the adjournment drive are these issues:

Judgeships — Brydges said he would ask for a Senate vote on a bill that would create 124 judgeships of various courts across the state. Travia said he would act, if the Senate did. In previous years judgeship bills have been stalled by bickering among political leaders over how the seats would be allocated.

State Tax Boost Soars But Tab Will Be Minor

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The 1968 legislature has raised state taxes by an estimated $543.5 million, but the average taxpayer will have to pay only a relatively small portion of the tab.

Most of the increase was levied against big business or upper-bracket income taxpayers — $85 million altogether.

Fearful of Reprisals

Fearful of reprisals at the polls, the lawmakers limited the "little fellow" to a $57.5-million tax boost. And, unless you drive a car, smoke cigarettes or bet on the horses, you won't have to pay anything extra at all.

Here's the breakdown, with estimated revenue yields for the current fiscal year:

Gasoline — $26 million, by raising the tax from six to seven cents a gallon, effective June 1.

Cigarettes — $5 million, by boosting the tax from 10 to 12 cents a package, effective June 1.

Racing — $6.5 million, by increasing the state's share of the pari-mutuel betting pool by one half of one per cent. It went into effect April 1.

Income — $95 million, by adding four additional brackets affecting persons with net taxable incomes beyond $15,000 a year. It applies to 1968 earnings.

Corporations — $108 million, by increasing the tax rate and minimum tax on net earnings retroactive to Jan. 1.

Corporations — $6 million, by eliminating certain depreciation allowances on equipment. This applies to the 1968 tax year.

Unincorporated Businesses — $15 million, by raising tax rates on net income, retroactive to Jan. 1.

Insurance Premiums and Utilities — $40 million, by raising the tax on premiums received by insurance companies based on this state and by boosting the tax on income of public utilities. The effective dates vary.

Banks — $19 million, by increasing the tax rates on net income and other adjustments, retroactive to Jan. 1.

Truck Fuel — $3 million, by imposing a new "carrier fuel tax" on heavy trucks, based on a formula keyed to mileage traveled in this state.

All of these tax increases, except the change in income-tax brackets and the levy on cigarettes, had been recommended by Gov. Rockefeller.

20,000 Reservists Go on Active Duty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Near fighting men kept in the United States for possible use world-wide. Last week, about 1,250 Air Force and Air Guard troops were excused from active service because it was found regular Air Force units could provide the support functions the Reservists had been designated to fill. This reduced the over-all call-up total to about 23,300. Nearly 20,000 report today they form some 87 units in 34 states.

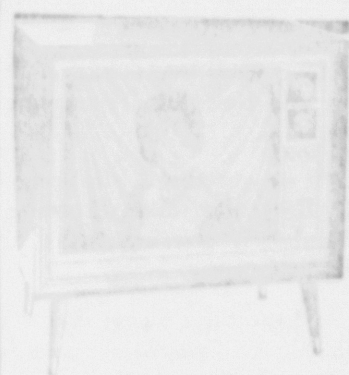

Another 3,600 individual Reservists from the Army ready reserve manpower pool will show up for active duty starting June 15, the Pentagon said. These men will fill out the ranks of understrength units called to active duty.

How long they stay in uniform will depend at least partly on the course of the peace talks in Paris. They could be held on active duty for up to two years. The course of the peace talks may also determine whether any more citizen soldiers and sailors will be called up. "We've stalled around with this issue long enough," said the powerful Democratic leader. "We're going to win it or lose it — right now."

Travia, who favors the proposal to license rifles and shotguns, said he feared the measure would be defeated primarily because of opposition by sportsmen's groups. But, he said, it's time to dispose of the question.

"If we're going to get out of here, we've got to start moving," he added, waving a hand over piles of pending legislation stacked on his desk at the Capitol.

Travia and Senate Majority Leader Earl W. Brydges, the legislature's leading Republican, agreed on a tentative adjournment date of May 18 after settling their differences over the $5.4-billion state budget last week.

One fiscal question was left hanging — the possibility of raising the liquor tax and using the proceeds to reinstate some Medicaid benefits. But it looked today as though the matter will be left there.

"There just isn't any Republican support for it," Brydges told The Associated Press on Sunday.

"I'd have to say the chances don't look good," Travia conceded in a separate interview. He had been pushing the idea.

Last Tuesday, the Republican ruled Senate and Democratic-controlled Assembly agreed on and enacted a $150-million package of tax increases to help finance the budget.

Brydges was prepared, in addition, to grant Gov. Rockefeller's request for a 10-cent-a-fifth increase in the liquor tax, worth an estimated $16.5 million in the current fiscal year. But Travia refused to bring the liquor measure before his house unless the Republicans agreed to restore outpatient hospital benefits to Medicaid recipients in the 21-65 age bracket. They lost this privilege in a Republican-conceived Medicaid cutback earlier in the year.

Brydges said he and Assembly Minority Leader Perry B. Duryea Jr. had canvassed GOP rank-and-file lawmakers and found virtually no takers for the liquor-Medicaid combination.

Rather than derail the adjournment drive by holding out against heavy odds, Travia indicated he was prepared to accept the GOP verdict and move on to other business.

Accordingly, he singled out Rockefeller's gun-control bill, which has been on the Assembly calendar, awaiting action.

The bill's sponsor, Assemblyman S. William Green, R-Manhattan, has been reluctant to call for a vote, fearful of the outcome.

different, income tax boost — a 10 per cent, across-the-board rate increase, which he called a "surcharge." But the election-conscious legislature shied away from that proposal, the yield from which was estimated at $270 million.

In addition, the lawmakers shelved Rockefeller's request for a dime-a-fifth increase in the liquor tax, estimated to return $16.5 million.

Truck Fuel — $3 million, by imposing a new "carrier fuel tax" on heavy trucks, based on a formula keyed to mileage traveled in this state.

All of these tax increases, except the change in income-tax brackets and the levy on cigarettes, had been recommended by Gov. Rockefeller.
